LANDON CHOSEN! UNANIMOUS

Sen. Vandenberg May Be Picked Today as Running Mate

LEADERS STRIVE TO OVERCOME HIS OBJECTION

Kansan's Aids Eager to Draft Senator.

Text of John Hamilton's nominating speech, delivered after he had read Gov. Landon's message, will be found on page 4.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—After the nomination of Gov. Alf Landon for President, those who have managed his triumphant campaign are hopeful tonight that Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan will receive and accept the nomination for Vice President tomorrow.

Senator Vandenberg, who is regarded as the ablest member of his party in congress, demonstrated himself as being the second most popular man in the convention tonight when he received a great ovation following his speech seconding the nomination of Gov. Landon. In that speech he pledged himself wholeheartedly to support the ticket in the coming campaign.

Landon Appeals Personally.

The Landon forces today have exerted all pressure at their command to induce Senator Vandenberg to accept the vice presidential nomination. Gov. Landon personally has communicated with him, imploring him to join the ticket. These efforts will be redoubled tonight and later tomorrow before the final session of the convention is called to order.

John Hamilton, Gov. Landon's campaign manager and next chairman of the Republican national committee, was unable to obtain Senator Vandenberg's assent at a conference this afternoon, but he has by no means lost hope. Even if the Michigan senator does not give his specific consent, the Landon forces believe, the convention will stampede for him tomorrow and then he will be obligated to acquiesce as a matter of duty to party and country.

Would Strengthen Ticket.

The Landon forces are determined to have Senator Vandenberg as the running mate of their candidate because no other available man could lend such strength to the ticket. He fulfills their specifications in that he is young and is a brilliant speaker, both on the platform and over the radio. He has an amiable and engaging personality and his popularity is attested by the fact that he was elected senator from Michigan in 1934 when the party was at its ebb.

Although not nominally, he is actually, the party's leader in the senate and has the best record of any Republican there, both as to voting and in the efficacy of his opposition to New Deal undertakings.

Persisting in his refusal to commit himself for the vice presidential race, Senator Vandenberg is still urging the selection of Senator Frederick Steiwer of Oregon, who delivered the keynote address and gave the party a campaign song that has stirred the nation—"Three Long Years."

No Second Choice.

If the party leaders should be unsuccessful in their efforts to persuade Senator Vandenberg, undoubtedly they would turn to Senator Steiwer. But tonight they have no second choice. They want Senator Vandenberg.

Senator Vandenberg, it was learned, favors his Oregon colleague for the vice presidential nomination and, once convinced that Vandenberg is not available, the Landon forces undoubtedly would turn to Steiwer. But they have not lost hope, and tomorrow, after the presidential candidate is nominated, Senator Vandenberg will be subjected to such pressure that not many men could withstand.

THE APPEAL TO SENATOR VANDENBERG.

Senator Vandenberg, as this is written, is still reluctant to accept the nomination for Vice President. It is his for the taking. He is the second most popular man in the convention, which means, as the delegates represent the sentiment of their districts and states, he is second choice of the Republicans throughout the country. That is a high honor.

He would prefer not to change his place in public life. He would remain in the senate. He is in accord with the decision of the convention to put Gov. Landon at the head of the ticket. He has so conducted himself in the pre-convention affairs of the party that no residue of rivalry remains to be erased or sweetened.

Republicans now think that the Michigan senator is called upon by the turn of events to make what he will regard as a sacrifice. He is a patriot. He has put the interest of his country above himself in all that he has done thus far. That superior interest now issues another call.

America makes different demands on her people on different occasions. Sometimes it is that the men shall drop their work and leave their families in the uniform of the army or navy. To defend the country they must fight; to support it all must pay.

It may be a sacrifice for Mr. Vandenberg to change the direction of his admirable career in public life, but is it a sacrifice that he would regard as impossible? He joins other Republicans in thinking that this is a critical year in the history of the country. If the Republican ticket is elected there will be confidence in the American future. If that ticket is not elected there can be no confidence. The worst fears will appear close to full realization. There are eager men in the Roosevelt revolution who wait only another vote of approval to turn with real glee to the accomplishment of their future work.

The Republicans want Senator Vandenberg on the ticket because they think he will help win. They do not want a man who will not be in his own right a source of strength. The nomination is not being shopped about to be passed off to a second rater on the painfully false theory that it doesn't amount to much and he needn't himself amount to much. That false conception sometimes prevails in a party convention and some day the country will have cause to regret it.

A man who is not good enough to be President is not good enough to be Vice President. The Vice President is elected to insure the country against the uncertainties of life and to provide that government shall continue without danger or confusion.

Republicans want Senator Vandenberg because he will help Gov. Landon carry the country. That is a compliment. It is a particular compliment because it not only recognizes the importance of second place on the ticket but it recognizes Senator Vandenberg as the man available to meet immediately a need and to end an anxiety.

The Republicans in convention want a winning ticket. They have part of it. They want the rest of it. They want Vandenberg because they like him, they like his record, they like his character, and they respect his attainments. They know the country will share those feelings and sentiments with them. They ask Senator Vandenberg to make a sacrifice if he thinks it one. They will have a still higher regard for him for doing it. The country will recognize that a man stepped outside his personal preferences and that will be a good claim on popular support.

The Republicans feel that they must win if the American republic is to be saved. They have good reason to think so. It is written all over the last three years. The nature of the present Democratic administration cannot be changed. The men who control it show no signs of repenting and none of changing. The only alternative is to take office away from them. They will not correct themselves. They must be put out.

Landon and Vandenberg will make a winning ticket. The party asks Senator Vandenberg to accept, to take his place with Gov. Landon and insure that there will be a change in the administration of national affairs before it is too late.

These arguments are being laid before Senator Vandenberg. He must consider them gravely. A great deal may depend on his decision. He can do much for his country by consenting to run for the second highest position in the country.

RUSSIA ADOPTS NEW GOVERNMENT; PARIS IN TURMOIL

MOSCOW—Russia announces a new "democratic" form of government for the soviet union. Two parliamentlike bodies, to be known as supreme councils, will be vested with the highest governmental authority under the proposed new constitution, which also extends citizenry, suffrage rights, and freedom of speech and press. PARIS—French strike movement spreads turmoil in Paris as hotel, restaurant, and bar employés quit. Authorities appear unable to stem unrest. Chamber of deputies passes four of Premier Blum's "new deal" measures designed to placate workers. Page 10.

HOOVER BESTED BY LANDON NAME IN NOISE RECORD

Cleveland, O., June 11.—(AP)—Although Herbert Hoover's ovation sent the Republican national convention's applause indicator to the top, technically there was a higher recording tonight when John Hamilton shouted the name—"Landon."

The illuminated sound thermometer, which faces the audience, vibrated at 100 during both demonstrations, but the milliampere chart—a more accurate device—revealed the difference.

In milliamperes:
Hoover, 4.
Hamilton, 4.3.

Hoover, 75.
Hamilton, 85.

The indicator will be taken to the Democratic national convention convening June 23 in Philadelphia.

EX-GOV. LOWDEN ASSERTS HE'LL SUPPORT LANDON

"Of course I'll support him," said Lowden.

O. K. PLATFORM ASSAILING NEW DEAL AS FAILURE

Borah Given Every Plank Demanded.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—Preservation of America's constitution and form of democratic government is the dominant issue in the Republican national platform of 1936 unanimously adopted tonight. "America is in peril" are its opening words.

Its preamble is a paraphrase of the Declaration of Independence, cataloguing New Deal encroachments upon liberty, freedom, the bill of rights and the constitution. Its finale is an excerpt from the G. O. P. platform of 1856, the first of the party, in which adherence to liberty and equality and constitutional guarantees is stressed.

No Minorities Raise Heads.

The platform was finished by its builders shortly before 8 o'clock and was rushed to the convention hall. It went through by acclamation. No minority reports were presented.

A message from Gov. Landon was read by John Hamilton, in which the impending presidential nominee interpreted three of the important planks, as he understood them—currency, civil service, and labor.

Senator Borah left for Washington before the resolutions were placed before the convention and before the Landon message was read. Before their adoption he expressed gratification with the planks on which he had centralized his attention

"We invite all Americans, irrespective of party, to join us in defense of American institutions" is the basic issue on which the impending presidential campaign is to be waged.

The lion of Idaho, who for the last three days has been the outstanding figure in the background here, was given all he asked for.

The currency plank made no mention of the gold standard, which Borah calls a "form of monopoly"; he was given his monopoly plank changed but slightly. The foreign relations plank gives a specific party pledge that America "shall not become a member of the league of nations nor of the world court," which is exactly what Borah insisted upon.

Adherence to the court was urged by three Republican Presidents—Harding, Coolidge, and Hoover—and by President Roosevelt. As leader of the "irreconcilables" who fought court and league, Borah insisted both should be repudiated by name.

William Allen White, "sage of Emporia," said more than 70 per cent of the platform draft prepared by Landon and a group of advisers recently was incorporated in the statement of the 1936 doctrine.

"Not since Theodore Roosevelt has the Republican party had such a liberal platform," said Mr. White.

Landon's Interpretation.

In his message to the convention, Gov. Landon said that if nominated he would in private honor and public good faith carry out the platform, but that he felt it incumbent to let the convention know in advance his interpretations of three planks.

On the matter of labor, the Kansan said to the convention he hoped the pledge to work for abolition of sweatshops and child labor and to protect women and children in wages and hours might be attained within the constitution. But, he told the delegates, if that idea proved erroneous he wanted the convention to know if nominated and elected he would favor a constitutional amendment empowering the states to adopt laws governing maximum hours, minimum wages, and working conditions to protect women and children. This idea of a constitutional amendment had been turned down by the platform makers.

Would Wait on Opportunity.

On the currency plank the governor wired the convention that his views were that, although he agreed with the plank's saying "the first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget," his idea was that a second requisite was a currency expressed in terms of gold

Landon Tells His Stand

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11—(Special.)—Immediately after adoption of the Republican platform here tonight Gov. Alf M. Landon sent a telegram to the convention interpreting various planks according to his understanding and belief. The text follows:

"To the delegates of the Republican national convention:

"My name is to be presented for your consideration as a candidate for the nomination for President of the United States.

"The platform recommended by your committee on resolutions and adopted by the convention has been communicated to me.

Accepts "Word and Spirit."

"I note that according to the terms of that platform the acceptance of the nomination tendered by this convention carries with it, as a matter of private honor and public faith, an undertaking by each candidate to be true to the principles and program herein set forth.

"If nominated I unqualifiedly accept the word and spirit of that undertaking.

"However, with that candor which you and the country are entitled to expect of me, I feel compelled, before you proceed with the consideration of my name, to submit my interpretations of certain planks in the platform so that you may be advised as to my views. I could not in conscience do otherwise.

Favors Labor Amendment.

"Under the title of labor the platform commits the Republican party as follows: 'Support the adoption of state laws and interstate compacts to abolish sweat shops and child labor, and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages, and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the constitution as it now stands.'

"I hope the opinion of the convention is correct, that the aims which you have in mind may be attained within the constitution as it now stands. But, if that opinion should prove to be erroneous, I want you to know that, if nominated and elected, I shall favor a constitutional amendment permitting the states to adopt such legislation as may be necessary adequately to protect women and children in the matter of maximum hours, minimum wages, and working conditions. This obligation we cannot escape.

"The convention advocates 'a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.' I agree that 'the first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget.' The second requisite, as I view it, is a currency expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold.

Indorses Merit System.

"I recognize, however, that the second requisite must not be made effective until and unless it can be done without penalizing our domestic economy and without injury to our producers of agricultural products and other raw materials.

"The convention pledges the party to the merit system and to its restoration, improvement and extension.

"In carrying out this pledge I believe that there should be included within the merit system every position in the administrative service below the rank of assistant secretaries of major departments and agencies, and that this inclusion should cover the entire postoffice department.

"ALFRED M. LANDON."

Landon Keeps Vigil Alone in Victory Hour

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.

Topeka, Kas., June 11.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf M. Landon prepared himself for the honor that is his by a lonely vigil in his home tonight.

With cheering thousands standing outside the old fashioned executive mansion of Kansas, with batteries of kleig lights and cameras trained upon the front porch, this governor of a typical prairie state locked himself in his library and communed with his soul.

There was no radio, no interruption to his privacy. His preparation was like that of the apprentice knight of medieval times, praying over his armor in a candlelit chapel for strength and virtue and understanding.

Paces Floor Slowly.

No man save the governor can say that he prayed. But he was silent and engaged with the mysteries of his thoughts. A watcher who climbed a tree to peer through the library window saw Alf M. Landon, with his head bowed, pacing slowly from end to end of the long room.

If he heard the deep throated shouts and the shrill feminine screams of the 10,000 in the throng outside, if he was aware of the flares and the squadrons of newsmen outside, he gave no sign that these things were actualities. He simply was waiting for his commission to do battle, and when at length he emerged it was with a message that he was going to fight—and to lead.

Promises Victory.

"If nominated I propose to wage the most aggressive campaign the Republican party has seen in years, and to lead the party to victory in

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas was unanimously nominated for President by the Republican national convention shortly before midnight tonight.

With all opposition voluntarily withdrawn earlier in the day, the Kansan was named to head the ticket amid demonstrations of tremendous enthusiasm and evidence of the melting of factionalism into a united front against the New Deal.

Following the uncontested adoption of the platform and the reading of a telegram from Gov. Landon interpreting three controverted planks of that document, the name of the governor was presented to the convention for the nomination by his manager, John Hamilton, national committeeman for Kansas.

Rivals Withdraw Names.

After a pandemonium of acclaim for the prospective nominee there was a procession of the rivals of the governor to the platform to withdraw their candidacies formally, to indorse the choice of Mr. Landon, and to pledge him their enthusiastic support in the election campaign.

First came Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, whose indorsement of the platform and the candidate was significant inasmuch as he had questioned the wisdom of nominating Landon because the governor's views were not fully known. The Landon telegram, however, had resolved the senator's doubts in the governor's favor.

Vandenberg received a tremendous ovation, which indicated the favor with which he is viewed by the convention for the nomination for Vice President, which is to be made at the final session tomorrow forenoon.

Nothing like the voluntary withdrawal of candidacies had been witnessed in a national convention within the memory of living men. Nominating and seconding speeches for a flock of rival candidates were tossed into the waste basket, and no name but Landon's was presented to the convention.

Borah Alone Absent.

All the candidates were there formally to announce withdrawal from the race and hearty indorsement of Gov. Landon except Senator William E. Borah of Idaho. He had released his delegates early in the day, but by the time of the nomination he was on a train speeding to Washington.

As the procession of withdrawals ended without the appearance of Borah, the convention clamored for the lion of Idaho, but received no explanation of his absence.

When the roll was called there were 984 votes for Landon and 19 for Borah. The votes for Borah were eighteen in Wisconsin and one in West Virginia. The West Virginian was Carl Bachmann, Borah's manager. Wisconsin promptly moved to make the nomination unanimous, and Gov. Landon was declared the choice of the convention by acclamation.

Mr. Hamilton read the Landon telegram before entering upon his nominating speech. Of the pledge imposed upon the candidate to carry out the platform the governor said that he unqualifiedly accepted "the word and spirit of that undertaking."

But before proceeding to consider him for the nomination he said, the convention should be apprised of his interpretation of certain planks and of his views.

Of the plank on labor conditions he said he hoped that the platform correctly holds that the fixing by the states of minimum wages and maximum hours and other working conditions for women and children is possible as the constitution stands but otherwise he would, if elected, favor a constitutional amendment to enable such legislation.

Then the governor interpreted the currency plank by declaring that one essential of a sound and stable currency is a currency "expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold" as soon as economically safe.

For Broad Mint System.

In carrying out the civil service pledge the governor said all postmasters and all positions in the government below the rank of assistant secretary of a department should be brought under the merit rule.

The telegram was greeted with tremendous applause. The incident was a wholly novel one in political conventions. Alton B. Parker rejected the monetary plank of the Democratic national convention of 1906 and compelled its amendment, and Al Smith in 1928 went beyond the Democratic plank on the prohibition issue and took a pronounced wet stand.

Both Parker and Smith, however, had been safely nominated when they took these steps. Gov. Landon was the first prospective nominee to submit his views of the platform to the convention in advance of nomination in order that the delegates might fully understand his position and might reject him if they found his attitude unacceptable.

Differences Are Compared.

The adoption of the platform without opposition signalized the substantial composition of differences between the conservative and liberal wings of the party on the declaration of principles. Senator William E. Borah of Idaho departed for Washington about the time the platform was completed expressing substantial approval of the more important planks.

When asked, however, whether he would support the ticket Senator Borah replied that he had no statement to make.

If the present program is adhered to the convention will adjourn late tonight after the nomination of Gov. Landon, and the candidate for Vice President will be named at a final session tomorrow.

The way was cleared early today for the nomination of Gov. Landon without opposition when all his rivals withdrew and released their delegates.

Eye Vice Presidency.

With the exception of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, all the other rivals withdrew from the competition for first place on the ticket, leaving lightning rods erected to attract the convention's favor for second place.

It was more evident than ever, however, that Vandenberg for Vice President was the first choice of Gov. Landon and his followers and of the overwhelming majority of the convention itself. It was apparent that he could be nominated for Landon's running mate by acclamation if he would reconsider his refusal to be considered for second place on the ticket and it was not beyond the realm of possibility that the convention would proceed to draft him without regard to his personal wishes, hoping that he would in the end bow to the will of his party.

Wait on Platform Committee.

The convention spent the day waiting for the platform. When it met at 11 a. m. the resolutions committee reported its inability to present the completed draft at that time and the convention recessed until 2:30 p. m. Again at that session there came the word that the platform was not ready and another recess was taken until 7 p. m. The convention finally was called to order at 8:03 p. m.

The delay was attributed chiefly to changes in various planks requested by Gov. Landon, to whom, at his office in Topeka, the phraseology of the party's declaration of faith was transmitted by telephone. There were rumors that the prospective nominee was dissatisfied to some extent with the currency plank among others.

Candidates Drop Off.

Although most of Landon's rivals had been asseverating up to last midnight that they would stay in the fight to the last ditch, they began tumbling over each other this morning to get out of the way of the triumphant Kansan and start him off with a great demonstration of party unanimity.

Thus an extraordinary candidacy for the nomination for President came to an extraordinary climax. Not since 1868, when Gen. Grant was nominated, has a Republican candidate for President been named without any other being proposed to the convention. Gen. Grant was the unquestioned choice before the convention met because he was the great hero of the civil war. Gov. Landon has become the unopposed choice of this convention because of the extraordinary popularity he has achieved in the six or eight months that he has been under consideration.

Vandenberg First to Withdraw.

Senator Vandenberg was the first one to withdraw his name for consideration for head of the ticket. He went before a meeting of the Michigan delegates and released them from any further support of his candidacy. The delegation then voted to support Landon and Mr. Vandenberg sent the following message to the governor:

"Michigan's delegation having determined to support you, it is our earnest hope that your nomination be made unanimous at the earliest possible moment. The chairman of the Michigan delegation will be glad to make such a proposal. Hearty congratulations."

Not long afterward Senator William E. Borah of Idaho sent word to his lieutenants to release his delegates.

Next came a formal statement from Col. Frank Knox, the Chicago publisher, withdrawing in the name of harmony and releasing his delegates.

Gov. Harry Nice of Maryland joined the parade with his 16 delegates. Last came Robert A. Taft, Ohio's favorite son, who formally released his delegates.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—The following invocation, which drew applause from the delegates, was given by the Most Rev. Joseph Schrembs, D. C., bishop of Cleveland, at this morning's session of the convention:

"O Eternal Father of Light, without whose help we can but grope in darkness, conscious of the imperfection of our understanding, we pray to thee for light and guidance during these momentous days for the welfare of our nation.

"This guiding hand was with our fathers when they struggled bravely against tyrrany entrenched by overwhelming might for the liberties which we enjoy today.

"Crisis in National Life."

"Thy wisdom helped them frame a constitution possessing all those elements of justice, law, and authority necessary to good government, which, ennobled and illumined with the declaration of the inalienable rights to the pursuit of life, liberty, and happiness, has earned for our country the glorious title of land of liberty.

"Thy goodness and thy mercy have presented us with rich stores of nature's choicest gifts and have increased and multiplied our population, bringing to our shores sturdy children of all nations willing to spend themselves and be spent to acquire the blessings and accept the responsibility of American citizenship.

"O merciful Father, we have come to a crisis in our national life. There are dark clouds hovering over us and there are mighty currents and angry waves that threaten to wrench us from the safe and solid moorings established by the fathers of our republic.

"This great convention of the Republican party, gathered for the momentous task of proclaiming a national platform of principles and policy that will give promise of the enduring security of our civil and religious liberty, bought by the blood of millions and preserved by the sweat and the labors and sacrifices of generations, and of selecting a chieftain whose record of faithful service and a personality untarnished and untainted by the pollution of political corruption will fill the heart of America with the new hope of a second spring.

Asks Party's Guidance.

"O God of wisdom and Father of Mercy who has blessed us until now, be with us still in this hour of need and guide the mind and the heart of this convention for the welfare and the glory of our country.

"In the words of the poet I pray:

"'God give us men a time like this demands;
"'A strong mind, great hearts, a true faith and ready hands;
"'Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
"'Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
"'Men who possess convictions and a will;
"'Men who have honor and will not lie;
"'Men who can stand before a demagog;
"'And scorn his treacherous flatteries without flinching;
"'Tall men, sun crowned, who live above the fog
"'In public duty and in private thinking.'
Amen."

Nominating Address Stirs Pandemonium.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—The Republican national convention sank all differences tonight and in one of the most critical moments of its history named Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas as its nominee for President of the United States. The nomination followed unanimous adoption of the party's platform.

The prediction of the party's leaders, all of whom withdrew for Landon, was for a victory in November, but it will not come, it was plain, without a hard campaign. This was the situation recognized by the aspirants for nomination, who publicly withdrew, one after another, one behalf of Landon.

"Stop Roosevelt": Vandenberg.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg was the first to take the stage after the roll call of states had shown no opposition to Landon. The only thing to consider in this emergency, he said, was to "stop Roosevelt." He promised to contribute all his efforts to a relentless campaign to this end.

"In this crisis in government and in this national chaos," he said, "I belong to that American coalition that proposes to restore the republic. I belong to one bloc, and it has but one slogan—'Stop Roosevelt.'

"Our greatest unity is the country's greatest guarantee of safety. We are called to bitter battle for all worth while things Americans cherish. The presidential choice now stands manifestly clear. I shall contribute to a relentless campaign on and off the stump that will make the governor of Kansas the next President of the United States."

Balloting Starts at 11:25 P. M.

Balloting for presidential nominee, which was necessary as a formal matter, began at 11:25 o'clock. The result was: Votes for Landon, 984; for Borah, 19.

At one time it looked as if all the states would second the nomination from the platform. The Kansas governor was given a half hour demonstration with all the traditions of the convention noise and enthusiasm at the first mention of his name. He was placed in nomination by John D. M. Hamilton of Kansas, manager of his campaign.

Delegates in High Mood.

Tonight's session began with the delegates in a high mood for the task before them and ready to follow Gov. Landon in the spirit of crusaders to combat the threat of collectivism in government in the country.

They had been keyed to the occasion by brief morning and afternoon sessions in which they were given no opportunity to express their feelings, and by the great demonstration in which they had participated last night when Herbert Hoover called them to this battle.

The convention had been ordered to convene at 7 p. m., but when this time arrived only about half the delegates were in their seats.

There was no need for hurry, however, as at 7:30 o'clock there was no sign of activity on the main deck.

Crowd Hums Tunes.

Mr. Hamilton arrived in the hall at 7:30 o'clock and moved toward the speakers' stand instead of taking his seat with the delegation. The excitement in the hall was rising toward some kind of action. The delegates did not know what or when.

"The convention will please come to order" called Chairman Snell. "Delegates will take their seats."

"Marching All Together" came in a soprano solo from the balcony.

Then all were uplifted on the wings of "The Star Spangled Banner." A great flag in the middle of the hall was swung back and forth in time with this music. The floodlights came out like suns. The whole vast throng was on its feet.

Far down in the rear of the hall a parade began to form. The banners carried the name of Frank D. Fitzgerald, governor of Michigan.

Wyoming had a banner of a bucking cowboy to offer.

At 8:15 o'clock Mr. Snell again banged the table. He asked for the delegate from Missouri, Mr. Langworthy. This was Herman M. Langworthy, chairman of the resolutions committee. There was no response.

Bingham Begins Reading.

At 8:30 o'clock the gavel banged again.

"Will the delegates take their seats," said Mr. Snell. "We are now ready for business. I am going to ask Senator Hiram Bingham, vice chairman, to read the report."

The tall white haired senator began to read the platform.

The delegates cheered.

"For three long years," read the beginning of one sentence. This brought another cheer.

"The powers of congress have been usurped by the President." More cheering.

After a few sentences the senator retired in favor of Chairman Langworthy, who continued the reading in a ringing voice:

"There can be no individual liberty without an independent judiciary." Another cheer. The plank on employment brought mild bursts of applause.

"Every American citizen over 65 should receive sufficient income to protect him from want," was a phrase that brought a cheer.

The condemnation of the present social security act was unworkable was received with only scattered applause.

The labor plank was well received.

"O. K." Yell Delegates.

"We will repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law" was received with a yell.

"O. K.," yelled several delegates.

"We pledge that America shall not become a member of the league of nations—or make any entangling alliances with foreign affairs," brought the light bulb of the applause indicator toward the top again.

The inclusion of the bill of rights in the platform was a novelty. The reading of these old words brought a real wave of applause.

Efforts to collect the national war debt was approved.

In its conclusion the platform reaffirms the principles of the first platform of 1856 referring to the spirit of our institutions, and invited the affiliation and coöperation of men of all parties.

The chairman was given a shout of applause as he concluded. He moved the adoption.

Platform Is Adopted.

"The resolutions are unanimously adopted," said the chairman. The delegates yelled and yelled again in high excitement, and the chair announced the next order of business the nomination of a candidate for President. The roll call was ordered at 9:05 o'clock.

"Alabama" called Horace Bancroft, clerk from Illinois.

No answer.

"Arizona." Some one called the name "Landon."

He started over again.

"Alabama passes."

"Arizona yields to Kansas," was the next sign from the floor.

A yell arose.

"The chair recognizes the gentleman from Kansas, Mr. Hamilton."

Hamilton walked down the runway under the blinding lights at 9:07 o'clock. He was dressed in blue and wore a huge sunflower on his lapel. He had a plaster on his chin, the result of a cut. He smiled and waved as the band began to play the Landon song, "Oh Susannah" and "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

"Three Long Years" came next, while in the center of the hall all the delegates were on their feet ready to march.

Hamilton walked to the rear of the platform, then returned and the gavel sought for order.

He began to speak at 9:12 o'clock.

He said he would read a telegram just received. It was the one from Gov. Landon.

Begins Nomination.

Mr. Hamilton then began his prepared speech putting Gov. Landon in nomination.

"You tell it to 'em," yelled a delegate.

The speech was full of vigorous phrases and was delivered in the manner that might be expected of a red haired young man with jutting chin. This is the John Hamilton who stirred the grass roots convention at Springfield by his speech.

His early reference to Landon's appreciation of the troubles of laborers, the poor, and of the business man alike was received with great cheers.

The long pent up demonstration for Landon started with a wild yell at 9:25 o'clock when Hamilton said:

"Fully conscious of the duties and obligation I conceive to be mine as a delegate to this convention and appreciating the character that we must require of our nominee, I give you the name of a Republican governor from a Republican state—Alfred Mossman Landon of Kansas."

This was what might, in truth, be called pandemonium. The banners and standards came into the air as if by magic. The band played "O Susannah" in ragtime and the din of the marching thousands, aided by a plentiful addition from the balconies, where every one was standing and yelling, made volume of sound that must have gone through the roof over the whole town.

The main floor of the auditorium was a mass of tangled men and banners. Pictures of Landon flew over the heads like birds of the air. Torn papers came down from the galleries.

The prairie state governor had set the whole country afire, as it was represented in this hall.

Bells Add to Din.

Bells and weird instruments that made sounds resembling the beating of drums, and horns of all description rose above the shrill cries of women and the hoarse voices of men.

"How Dry I Am" was the next tune from the band.

The demonstration soon passed the high mark of the Hoover affair last night.

After twenty minutes of this Hamilton came to the front and asked: "Do you want me to go on?"

The answer was lost in the din, or the increasing din was itself the answer: "Not now, Mr. Hamilton."

It was a strange outbreak to contemplate.

If Landon had come into this hall few would have known him unless they recognized him by his picture. The idea that he represents, however, had caught hold of that mysterious public mind, to this extent at least.

"Please come to order," pleaded Snell at 9:47 o'clock. There appeared to be a slight diminution of the noise.

Nominating Address Stirs Pandemonium.

"Will you let me go on?" asked Hamilton.

"Yes, yes—no," came from various parts.

The noise died away a few minutes later. The ailes began to clear. Hamilton took up his speech again at 9:52 o'clock.

Hamilton's assertion that Landon has a reputation for keeping his word drew applause, as did his phrase, "Far too intelligent to be fooled and far too courageous to be frightened."

The delegates were pleased, too, with the sentence, "He has not sought to give the impression that it [government administration] is a task to be assumed only by supermen."

Outlines Campaign Plan.

Mr. Hamilton's address outlined the character of the campaign that will be made for the candidate. It will be an appeal to Republicans, constitutional Democrats, and independents to get behind a man of the people, one of the rank and file, restoring confidence of citizens in themselves, and leading away from the superman idea and the note of dictatorship and hysteria in government.

"In his personality there is neither intolerance nor egotism," said Hamilton. "He never has been removed from the body of the common people, and I predict that no honor will ever so remove him. He has been and is, simply and plainly, one of the ordinary folk of this country, and his conception of his duty in any public place will be to be the servant of all and the master of none."

Represents Chief Well.

Hamilton represented his chief well in this great moment. It was a homely record, homely virtues, he said, no gilt, no pretense of supremacy, no self-righteousness. It seemed a safe rock that rose above this sea.

"With Gov. Landon's leadership," he said, "we can assure a victory in the coming election, and gain a national victory over the forces of depression and despair."

As he concluded the convention again broke into a blare of cheering and music.

It was 10:20 o'clock when Hamilton ended. The bands were soon by the platform playing a medley of tunes. The state banners again joined in a riot. This continued until 10:30 o'clock, when the roll call of states was continued by Clerk Bancroft.

Arkansas, California—Silence or the response.

"Idaho passes."

Michigan—"Pass."

There was silence from Illinois.

Half the states did not deem it worth while to respond.

"Ohio passes."

"Pennsylvania passes."

So ran the tale down the list.

Secondary Speeches.

The chairman said at the end:

"If there are no other nominations the chair will recognize delegates for seconding speeches. The time of each will be limited to three minutes."

Gasper G. Bacon, delegate from Boston, was first to second Hamilton's nomination. Massachusetts, he said, turns in this hour of the nation's need to a younger sister state of the middle west. His state, he said, seeks inspiration from the fresh breezes of the prairies, something of the spirit of the pioneers.

Today, he said, the liberties of Kansas and Massachusetts, of every American citizen, once more are in jeopardy. The right to freedom under the constitution is being challenged. The capacity of the people to govern themselves is being questioned.

We are inspired again by the spirit of Kansas, he said, the spirit of the pioneers that freedom of the press and speech, freedom of the deadly hand of monopoly, freedom from dictatorship, are the needs of the hour. In this fight Kansas looks to a son of Kansas.

Gov. Frank Fitzgerald of Michigan was the next. He said that Michigan had come instructed to Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

"We throw our support heartily to Landon," he said, "on the recommendation of Senator Vandenberg himself. Today he released the delegation and at the same time urged that Michigan lend its full strength and force to the Landon movement."

Roosevelt Cousin Seconds.

Mrs. Corinne R. Alsop of Connecticut, a cousin of President Roosevelt, next was recognized.

"This New Deal," she said, "has wasted our substance in riotous spending. We want our lives built in a different pattern."

She spoke of the necessity of eliminating a very busy political postmaster general.

"We have had devastating results from the false belief that action, just doing something, is a benefit," she said. "We need a strong leader to rekindle the spirit of self-reliance in our people."

"Connecticut has the honor of seconding for the nomination a real American, a splendid, typical American."

Perry W. Howard of Mississippi, a colored man, was next recognized. He spoke of Lincoln and John Brown and Lovejoy. These men, he said, all died for us. God sends men to save nations and people, he said. At this time when we are again in danger, when the executive administration has become such that even pigs must flee for their lives, a new leader has been called forth from the prairies of Kansas.

Henry Depping of Missouri was recognized. "Missouri seconds the nomination of its neighbor—the hoss and buggy old fashioned governor of Kansas, Landon," he said.

Mrs. Janet Tourtellotte of Seattle was the sixth to second the nomination. She spoke for women.

"We are proud to belong to a party," she said, "which expresses its humanitarian impulses in deed and not in word.

Hails Landon's Example.

"I am glad to second the nomination of a man who can lead us to victory in November. We admire his administrative genius and his example of a typical American husband and father, as a business man and an official."

Charles M. Day of South Dakota was recognized.

"On behalf of the Republican voters," he said, "and a good many Democrats on the side, I take a special pleasure in seconding the nomination of our friend and neighbor, Landon of Kansas. The returns from the middle west on election night are going to be mighty good reading for Republicans everywhere."

Mrs. Ruth Hanna Simms, the daughter of Mark Hanna, next was recognized. She came forward to receive a fine burst of applause.

She held a great seconding speech in her hand, she said, but she proposed to demonstrate that despite the fact a woman holds the floor she can also hold her tongue. "Representing the state of New Mexico, the first to indorse Landon," she said, "we take great pleasure in seconding the nomination. I want to do what you want to do and go home and vote for him now."

Senator Vandenberg was recognized then and received hearty applause.

Frank Knox was next to the rostrum and was accorded a hearty welcome.

"For the first time since Gen. U. S. Grant was nominated we are to nominate a candidate unanimously," he said. "I am glad to second the nomination. I pledge to my party all I have to make for a victory in November."

Senator Lester J. Dickinson followed.

"I want to join in a harmony program for a united front to save America," he said. "It is my belief this campaign can only be run as a crusading campaign. There must be no pussyfooting."

Next was Gov. Harry Nice of Maryland.

"In the times with menacing threats of dictatorship, when autocracy and burocracy hold sway," he said, "Republican success becomes transcendently important."

Robert A. Taft of Ohio followed. He said had Landon's name been in Ohio presidential primary the Kansas governor would have been the voters' preference. His mention of Herbert Hoover's name in his nominating speech drew applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. Taft's speech the chairman said it was necessary to call the roll, even though there evidently was but one nominee in sight.

"We want Borah" came a cry which was taken up and echoed all through the hall.

Illinois gave its fifty-seven to Landon.

Iowa's twenty-two went the same way.

West Virginia was booed when one vote was cast for Borah.

Wisconsin cast eighteen votes for Borah and six for Landon, but at the same time the chairman of the delegation, Bernhard Gettelman, moved to make the nomination by acclamation.

At 11:41 o'clock the vote was declared as 984 to 19.

Gettelman then was recognized and the motion to nominate by acclamation was put and carried with a mighty shout.

The question of the man was settled.

At 11:50 o'clock the chair recognized a motion to recess until morning.

UNANIMOUS 1ST VOTE NOMINATIONS MADE 3 TIMES BY G. O. P.

Cleveland, O., June 11.—(AP)—A check of records showed today that Republican national conventions have nominated three candidates for the presidency with unaimous first ballot votes.

Gen. Ulysses S. Grant received the nomination by acclamation at the conventions in 1868 and 1872 at Chicago and Philadelphia.

At Philadelphia in 1900 McKinley received every vote on the first roll call and Theodore Roosevelt, his running mate, received all but one, which was not cast.

HOOVER SPEAKS BETTER, IS VIEW OF SUTHERLAND

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Supreme Court Justice George Sutherland of the old line block which repeatedly has overturned New Deal legislation came a little closer today to making a political comment than a Supreme court justice usually does.

Sailing for a vacation abroad he was asked what he thought of Herbert Hoover's speech to the Republican national convention last night.

"Dr. Hoover makes much better speeches than he used to," said Mr. Justice Sutherland.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—Peggy Anne Landon, 19 year old daughter of the Kansas governor, went shopping today. She made one purchase—a blouse of sunflower yellow. In common with every other visitor in Cleveland, she, too, now complains of "convention feet."

The orchestra burst into "Dixie" as Perry Howard, the colored delegate from Mississippi, arose to second the nomination of Gov. Landon. The noise barometer later registered a "100" degrees of merriment when Mr. Howard said, not once, but three times, "we will be able to balance the budget."

The Kansas delegation, with mien as radiant as the sunflowers gathered round the microphone following adjournment of tonight's session, and talked to Nominee Landon over a national hookup. Senator Capper, former Senator Henry J. Allen, and John Hamilton all spoke at length, but Will T. Beck, state chairman, summed it up neatly in 15 words. "Alf," he told the listening governor, "it has taken hold in earnest and the prairies are on fire for you!"

HAMILTON TELLS LANDON'S QUALIFICATIONS TO THE CONVENTION

RELATES CAREER AS A CITIZEN AND PUBLIC OFFICIAL

CONVENTION Hall, Cleveland, O., June 11.—(AP)—Here is the speech by John Hamilton, Republican national committeeman from Kansas, submitting the name of Gov Alf M. Landon for the Republican presidential nomination:

"Today this nation is faced with the unusual picture of a President of the United States, apparently without concern and at times seemingly by design, using the powers and prerogatives of his high office to undermine the American democracy. Under his administration we have seen the courts circumvented; indefensible waste and extravagance reflected in mounting deficits; the use for partisan purposes of authority and money granted by congress supposedly to avert suffering and distress.

"His only fixed policies have fostered monopoly, threatened the nation's credit, driven needed capital from the field of industrial enterprise, increased unemployment, and caused confidence in representative government to reach its ebb.

"From it all there has come a sense of insecurity, of uncertainty, and even of dread, precluding any hope of reestablishing individual security, of a moral reawakening of our people, or of a permanent rehabilitation of agriculture and industry.

Represent True Americans.

"Although we come as Republicans we are here, in fact, representing every man and every woman who glories in the accomplishment of our nation's past and has faith in our nation's future. For this great group of our people the Republican party provides the sole rallying ground for united political action. We are, therefore, charged with the responsibility of carrying out our duties here with unquestioned good faith to party and to country, and we cannot be unconscious of the profound obligation that is ours.

"So grave are the issues, so serious the task confronting us that we must in the fulfilment of that obligation entertain from this platform no suggestions of measures or of men unless brought to us freed from selfish motives and personal ambitions.

"If we are to fulfill that obligation we shall here nominate one whose personal history gives full assurance of a sympathetic understanding of the problems at hand and whose experience in private life and as a public official holds out the promise that these problems will be met with efficiency, honesty and courage.

Must Understand Problem.

"Specifically, it means that he who carries the standard of Americanism in the weeks that are to follow must have a clear conception of the problems of those who labor, gained not from a detached theoretical viewpoint but because he has labored; that he must have a realization of the needs of those in distress, not from the information of others received in surroundings of luxury but from personal contact with those who have been in want; that he shall know the problems of those who cultivate the soil not through what he has learned from others who ponder these questions in academic halls but by having lived among them and having heard the story from their own lips.

"He must know something of the difficulties and intricacies of American business life, not from economists who have never known the necessity of meeting a pay roll but from his own experience in business. He needs must realize that the disbursement of public funds is a public trust and not a political revelry, and he is the more apt to have that realization if his own property has not been bestowed upon him but has been gained through his own efforts.

Names Kansas Governor.

"Fully conscious of the duties and obligation I conceive to be mine as a delegate to this convention and appreciating the character that we must require of our nominee, I give you the name of a Republican governor from a Republican state—Alfred Mossman Landon of Kansas.

"The personal history of Gov. Landon is a story of modern America. It is a tribute to individual opportunity and to individual character. Gov. Landon was no more favored by fortune than millions of his fellow citizens. His education and upbringing were not those which great riches can purchase. His heritage did not include material wealth.

"But he did share with millions of the rest of us in the mighty fortune with which American principles of life and American opportunities for life have endowed us. Faith in America and confidence in themselves guided Gov. Landon's parents while he was a boy, and that same faith has guided him in his activities as a man.

"In common with the great majority of his fellow citizens Gov. Landon learned from the precept and example of his parents the abiding virtues of work, of honesty, of thrift, of modesty, and of tolerance, and he learned also the excellent and unanswerable reasons why these virtues remain with us while others less substantial fade away.

Product of Public Education.

"In common with all of his generation he shared the advantages of our great system of public education. In common with millions of us he was a member of the armed forces of the United States. But more important, because more characteristic of our nation, Gov. Landon has shared directly in the work of America. Huge as was the army mobilized for war it was nothing compared to the vast army of workers who have in every generation, by their own initiative and by their own coöperation with each other, built and rebuilt America.

"Gov. Landon knows what it means to labor, for under the burning sun of Oklahoma and Kansas he lived and worked in the oil fields with the grizzled veterans of the wire lines, the walking beams and the bull wheels.

"Gov. Landon knows what agriculture means. His business has been with farmers. His customers have been farmers. His neighbors and his friends have been farmers. Gov. Landon has known what it means to worry. You worry when the livelihood of yourself and those who work for you depends alone upon your judgment and ability."

Record as Governor.

"Gov. Landon's initial political success was based upon the opinion his fellow citizens had formed of his knowledge, his reputation and his character as shown in business and on the smaller stages of politics. No one could tell, when he was first elected governor of Kansas, that that knowledge and that reputation and character would be sufficient to allow him to assume with credit the new responsibilities of high public office. That he did so, not only adequately but brilliantly, is a part of the history of my state.

"He did not change in character as governor from the man who had run for governor or from the successful business man interested in local politics. Moreover, under the white light of merciless publicity that glares on every presidential candidate, Gov. Landon has remained unchanged with the same sense of proportion which he has always had.

"He is still of the people, and in recent weeks the voice of acclaim arising from the rank and file of men that make up the American democracy has shown that these facts are widely appreciated.

Confidence in Government.

"In Kansas Gov. Landon has a state administration not complex, but simple. He has not sought to give the impression that it is a task to be assumed only by supermen. It is my prediction that as the standard bearer of his party he will be elected to the presidency and he will meet the multiple problems of that office in a similar spirit, which will create the same feeling among the citizens of the nation; and the creation of that feeling will go far towards restoring the essential confidence of our citizens in themselves and in their government which is the nation's greatest need today.

"Through three and one half years we have heard much talk of emergency. Emergency has been advanced as an argument for the breaking of campaign pledges, for a reckless spending of public funds, for the creation of a burocracy, for the appointment of public officials for reasons of personal loyalty rather than merit, and for a bewildering succession of inconsistent and impracticable measures which have retarded recovery and created uncertainty.

"Yet Gov. Landon was elected to his office at the same time that the New Deal administration was elected to power. He faced in his capacity as a state executive emergencies of the same kind that confronted the national executive. He faced also the same question of whether he should in that emergency break the pledges he had made in his campaign, or whether he should keep those pledges. The answers given by the new President and the new governor were different and they were in character. For, as we have seen from the public record of the two of them, their characters were different.

Easy to Break a Contract.

"There is nothing easier than to break a contract, once you have convinced yourself that contracts can be broken. There is nothing easier than telling a half truth to cover that broken contract, once you have decided that truth is out of style. There is nothing easier than to promise all things to all men when your conscience is sufficiently elastic. There is nothing easier than to take any means at hand to secure votes, once you have decided that you value votes more than your own self-respect.

"There is nothing easier than spending money you do not have to pay, and it is easy and amusing to indict and condemn the motives of your opponents, when you have lost your sense of proportion and have become convinced that you and you alone are indispensable to the people.

"Adoption of the policies that have ruled in Washington for the last four years would have been just as easy in Kansas. Except for one thing—that Gov. Landon had not seen fit to take the first steps toward unreliability. His answer to emergency was different. He decided that even if citizens were losing confidence in all else around them, at least they would not have cause to lose confidence in their new governor.

Promises Carried Out.

"He promised economy; he gave economy. He promised coöperation with the legislature; he coöperated with the legislature. He promised appointments on the basis of merit and he made his appointments on that basis. He swore to uphold the constitution and he upheld it, for to him the constitution was not an obstacle to be circumvented but a tool to be rightly used. He avoided personal abuse in his campaign, he avoided it in his administration, and in that administration neither deceit nor malice have had a place.

"In his personality there is neither intolerance nor egotism. He has never been removed from the body of the common people and I predict that no honor will ever so remove him. He has been and is, simply and plainly, one of the ordinary folk of this country and his conception of his duty in any public place will be to be the servant of all and the master of none.

Stands on Record.

"With this record and this character Gov. Landon stands before the Republican party—representative as is no other man in public life today of the resurgence of a demand for individual opportunity and for real self-government in America. The people of our country look to him to lead them back from the deceptive shadows of uncertainty to the honest sunlight of reality.

"We have met here as representatives of the Republican party to adopt a platform and to nominate a candidate. We have adopted our platform. We have pledged ourselves to certain principles and to certain policies. I know that Gov. Landon as the nominee of this party will, when elected, carry out its pledges. Months before this convention met he indicated to the party and to the country the position which he took upon the basic issues confronting us.

Mr. Hamilton then paraphrased the platform adopted by the convention with a recital of the nominee's stand on various issues.

Based on Patriotism.

"Gov. Landon's attitude on these questions springs from patriotism and not partisanship. Accordingly he has made his appeal far beyond party lines to those citizens—Republicans, Democrats, and independents alike—who want the government to play its proper part in meeting the problems of our times, but who wish it to do so without wasting the substance of the people or endangering their future.

"He believes that these moderate people want neither radicalism on the one hand nor reaction on the other; that they want performance and not promises; that they want the elimination of the hysterical tone from the government; that they are tired of epithets, evasions, and sophistries; that they want no flouting of the constitution, whether by executive evasion, loose legislation, or pernicious propaganda; that they condemn attempts to create class divisions in a country that knows no classes, and that they propose to solve their problems in accordance with the American system.

"This great group of moderate thinking people make up the vast majority of this nation. It is this group to which Gov. Landon has appealed. It is this group which he represents.

"The policies of division, despair, and defeat may be effective in the building up of a political machine, but they will never bring a permanent recovery of employment. They will never bring about a permanent restoration of confidence, and they will never help to build the kind of future to which Americans have a right to think their country is entitled and toward which our history and our destiny most surely points.

Believes in Old Ideals.

"Gov. Landon has dared to voice above the welter of cynicism and despair, created and approved by men in the highest places in the land, a few of the essential facts and essential beliefs by which mankind has been surely guided in past centuries in its slowly succeeding struggle toward material progress and spiritual growth. He has had the courage not to attempt to compete in promises and panaceas with the false prophets who for three and a half years have misled and deluded the public.

"He has not been afraid to recall our minds to the truth inherent in which supposedly outworn phrases as the ones which say 'there is no substitute for courage' and 'his word is as good as his bond.' He has been willing to run the risk of being termed old fashioned in order to reassert his opinion that phrases such as these imply a sense of values we cannot afford to lose.

"We have been through bitter times, and they have left their mark. Our generation has seen the collapse of the financial chicanery that was to make us millionaires, and the collapse of the political chicanery that was to make us kings. Grimly we know that neither can achieve its promise, that the result of one is poverty and of the other loss of our liberties.

Holds Future of World.

"From its inception, through its darkest hours, in its worst crises, the United States has—and I say it with all knowledge of its meaning—held in its hands the hope of the future progress of the world. Here, then, is our responsibility. Here is the crisis which we must meet and here is the choice which we must make. Here is a record of a modern American—unpretentious, unassuming, willing to serve—but not eager to dictate.

"Here is a homely record, if you will, and here are homely virtues and common sense answers. Here is no gilt and here no theatrical dramatics, no overwhelming egotism, no self-righteousness, no pretense of supremacy. There is a man who is the product of our own country and our own time, who has made his way as we have had to make ours, and who has assumed at each turn of his life the obligations imposed on him and who has fulfilled those obligations in each instance with credit. Here is a man of a typical prairie state who has retained within his heart the spirit and the inspirations of those who came before him and of whom Whittier wrote:

> "'They crossed the prairies as of old
> The Pilgrims crossed the sea,
> To make the west as they the east
> The homestead of the free.'

Character and Record.

"Here are the policies for which he stands and the methods which he proposes, and here is something more besides—the undefinable qualities evidenced in his character and record which meet the needs of the people of this nation.

"Behind Gov. Landon, as standard bearer of the Republican party, will rally a united party, for he has a genius for creating unity. Behind Gov. Landon will rally that great group of citizens, without regard to party label, who wish to see performance and not propaganda, confidence and not confusion. Behind Gov. Landon, carrying the standard of young America, will rally that great section of the people who wish to repudiate the alien philosophies and outworn theories, and who, without regard to their own age, are young enough to have faith that we can build a greater country by carrying forward the dynamic American doctrins of hope, of tolerance, and of effort.

"Here and today the Republican party makes a choice for itself and for America. Let us then reflect the worthiest traditions of a mighty past and make certain of a mightier future by meeting our obligations for that choice with the one man who can rally to a glorious cause the rank and file of all America, and that man is Alfred Mossman Landon."

[Acme Photo.]

BUDGET BALANCING GOVERNOR OF KANSAS IS REPUBLICAN NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT—The latest picture of Alfred M. Landon, his wife and three children. It was taken just before the start of the nominating convention at the executive mansion in Topeka. The governor is holding his son, John Cobb Landon, age 2. Mrs. Landon is holding Nancy Josephine, age 3, and between them is Mr. Landon's college student daughter, Peggy Anne, age 19. Landon will be one of the few presidential candidates from west of the Mississippi river.

PLATFORM WINS UNANIMOUS O. K. OF CONVENTION

Borah Is Given Every Plank Demanded.

and convertible into gold. This, however, he added, should not be made effective until conditions warant.

On the merit system Gov. Landon expressed the view to the convention that in carrying out the party pledge all positions in the administrative service below assistant secretaries of major agencies should be included, and that the entire postoffice department should be included.

Gov. Landon said in his telegram that he felt impelled to let the convention know of his views on these planks because of the candor that the country was entitled to expect of a presidential nominee.

COMMITTEE STRUGGLES

The agricultural plank was the subject of longest debate in the committee. Gov. Landon, over long distance from Topeka, asked that it be strengthened. At it stands the plank reflects more of the views of Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and a farm authority, than those of George Peek. Protection of the "family type of farm" is the object of the plank, which has 13 items.

An echo of the old McNary-Haugen "equalization fee" is in one section of the farm plank. It was put in at the request of the Virginia member and it was feared it might be the target of a minority report, but wasn't.

On tarif the platform pledges the party to repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law as "futile and dangerous," and to restore the flexible tarif principle.

Concerning government finance the G. O. P. says the New Deal has shown "shameful waste and financial irresponsibility." It pledges the party to "stop the folly of uncontroled spending." It calls for a balanced budget, revision of the federal tax system, and declaims against the use of the taxing power for "punitive or political purposes."

Money Plank Storm Center.

The currency plank was the storm center all day in the closed sessions of the platform makers. It finally emerged in the shape it was this morning. Gov. Landon wanted the plank to call for restoration of the gold standard. Borah was against the gold standard. After the subcommittee yesterday tossed out mention of gold to placate Borah Gov. Landon expressed dissatisfaction.

He insisted on a strong sound money declaration. To strengthen the plank one sentence was added to the draft as it was printed in THE TRIBUNE this morning.

It read: "We oppose further devaluation of the dollar." After it was incorporated Gov. Landon sent another message to the committee urging mention of a return to the gold standard, but the platform makers kept the plank as it stood. It was declared to have been accepted by Landon. His message tonight merely expanded the plank to meet his own views.

East Backs Borah View.

Oddly enough the standpatish eastern conservatives, who at first insisted on mention of the gold standard, had swung around to the Borah idea after they had been overridden in subcommittee and had counseled Gov. Landon that the plank is a real sound money one without use of the word gold.

Gov. Landon, by use of the long distance from Topeka, got in the plank favoring federal regulation of the interstate activities of public utilities. He also prevailed on the committee to strengthen the plank on civil service, which under the New Deal has been "sacrificed to create a national political machine" filled with "confusion and inefficiency."

Gov. Landon was desirous of a plank for a constitutional amendment to give the states power to fix minimum wages. This was left out only to be "inserted" in the campaign as Landon's personal stand. This plank coincided with the views of Borah, who holds that the constitution is elastic enough as it is and that such an amendment would undermine its integrity and the American form of government by throwing wide open the whole question of dual sovereignty between the states and the national government.

Security "All Desired."

Gov. Landon got all he asked for, Editor White said, on the question of social security. The keynote of the declaration on this subject is that real security is possible only when productive capacity is enough to give a decent standard of living for all families and to provide a surplus, and that to attain this America, as of old, "must look to the energy, self-reliance, and character of our people and to our system of free enterprise." It is also the opposite of the New Deal doctrin of regimentation. It is also the opposite of the New Deal activities in building up a central government of burocrats at the expense of the states.

At the suggestion of Gov. Landon, the budget balancer of Kansas, a "pay as you go" policy was approved on old age security. The plank also proposes to encourage the states to adopt measures for meeting problems of unemployment insurance.

The unemployment insurance and old age annuity parts of the present social security act the platform says are "unworkable." It speaks of probable waste of premiums collected by the government in "reckless and extravagant schemes." Without saying so specifically, the plank is directed at social security measures on an actuarial instead of a political basis.

The platform sounds the note of a doctrin of abundance instead of enforced scarcity, as under the New Deal.

Pledges "American System."

On the two great subjects of constitutional government and free enterprise, basic issues, it pledges the party to maintain the American system and to resist all efforts to undermine the powers of the Supreme court of the United States.

"There can be no individual liberty without an independent judiciary," it says.

Decentralization is sounded in the plank on relief, which says the New Deal has been "faithless to those who most deserve our sympathy." It pledges the return of responsibility for relief administration to nonpolitical local agencies "familiar with community problems," with federal grants in aid.

On reëmployment, the burning issue, it advocates removal of restrictions on production, encouragement instead of hindrance to legitimate business, withdrawal of government from competition with private industry, and it says:

"The only permanent solution of the unemployment situation is the absorption of the unemployment by industry and agriculture."

America is in peril. The welfare of American men and women and the future of our youth are at stake. We dedicate ourselves to the preservation of their political liberty, their individual opportunity and their character as free citizens, which today for the first time are threatened by government itself.

For three long years the New Deal administration has dishonored American traditions and flagrantly betrayed the pledges upon which the Democratic party sought and received public support.

The powers of congress have been usurped by the President.

Rights and Liberties Violated.

The rights and liberties of American citizens have been violated.

Regulated monopoly has displaced free enterprise.

The New Deal administration constantly seeks to usurp the rights reserved to the states and to the people.

It has insisted on the passage of laws contrary to the constitution.

It has intimidated witnesses and interfered with the right of petition.

It has dishonored our country by repudiating its most sacred obligations.

It has been guilty of frightful waste and extravagance, using public funds for partisan political purposes.

Promoted Harassments.

It has promoted investigations to harass and intimidate American citizens, at the same time denying investigations into its own improper expenditures.

It has created a vast multitude of new offices, filled them with its favorites, set up a centralized burocracy, and sent out swarms of inspectors to harass our people.

It has bred fear and hesitation in commerce and industry, thus discouraging new enterprises, preventing employment, and prolonging the depression.

It secretly has made tarif agreements with our foreign competitors, flooding our markets with foreign commodities.

It has coerced and intimidated voters by withholding relief to those opposing its tyrannical policies.

Destroys Morale of People.

It has destroyed the morale of many of our people and made them dependent upon government.

Appeals to passion and class prejudice have replaced reason and tolerance.

To a free people these actions are insufferable. This campaign cannot be waged on the traditional differences between the Republican and Democratic parties. The responsibility of this election transcends all previous political divisions. We invite all Americans irrespective of party to join us in defense of American institutions.

CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT AND FREE ENTERPRISE

We pledge ourselves:

1. To maintain the American system of constitutional and local self-government, and to resist all attempts to impair the authority of the Supreme court of the United States, the final protector of the rights of our citizens against the arbitrary encroachments of the legislative and executive branches of government. There can be no individual liberty without an independent judiciary.

2. To preserve the American system of free enterprise, private competition, and equality of opportunity, and to seek its constant betterment in the interests of all.

RE-EMPLOYMENT

The only permanent solution of the unemployment problem is the absorption of the unemployed by industry and agriculture. To that end, we advocate:

Removal of restrictions on production.

Abandonment of all New Deal policies that raise production costs, increase the cost of living, and thereby restrict buying, reduce volume and prevent reëmployment.

Encouragement instead of hindrance to legitimate business.

Elimination of unnecessary and hampering regulations.

Adoption of such other policies as will furnish a chance for individual enterprise, industrial expansion, and the restoration of jobs.

RELIEF

The necessities of life must be provided for the needy, and hope must be restored pending recovery.

The administration of relief is a major failure of the New Deal. It has been faithless to those who most deserve our sympathy. To end confusion, partisanship, waste, and incompetence, we pledge:

1. The return of responsibility for relief administration to nonpolitical local agencies familiar with community problems.

2. Federal grants-in-aid to the states and territories while the need exists, upon compliance with these conditions: [a] a fair proportion of the total relief burden to be provided from the revenues of states and local governments; [b] all engaged in relief administration to be selected on the basis of merit and fitness; [c] adequate provision to be made for the encouragement of those persons who are trying to become self-supporting.

3. Undertaking of federal public works only on their merits and separate from the administration of relief.

4. A prompt determination of the facts concerning relief and unemployment.

SECURITY

Real security will be possible only when our productive capacity is sufficient to furnish a decent standard of living for all American families and to provide a surplus for future needs and contingencies. For the attainment of that ultimate objective, we look to the energy, self-reliance and character of our people, and to our system of free enterprise.

Society has an obligation to promote the security of the people, by affording some measure of protection against involuntary unemployment and dependency in old age. The New Deal policies, while purporting to provide social security, have, in fact, endangered it.

Old Age Pensions.

We propose a system of old age security, based upon the following principles:

1. We approve a pay-as-you-go policy, which requires of each generation the support of the aged and the determination of what is just and adequate.

2. Every American citizen over 65 should receive the supplementary payment necessary to provide a minimum income sufficient to protect him or her from want.

3. Each state and territory, upon complying with simple and general minimum standards, should receive from the federal government a graduated contribution in proportion to its own, up to a fixed minimum.

4. To make this program consistent with sound fiscal policy the federal revenues for this purpose must be provided from the proceeds of a direct tax widely distributed. All will be benefited and all should contribute.

Unemployment Insurance.

We propose to encourage adoption by the states and territories of honest and practical measures for meeting the problems of unemployment insurance.

The unemployment insurance and old age annuity sections of the present social security act are unworkable and deny benefits to about two-thirds of our adult population, including professional men and women, and all those engaged in agriculture and domestic service, and the self-employed, while imposing heavy tax burdens upon all. The so-called reserve fund, estimated at forty-seven billion dollars for old age insurance, is no reserve at all, because the fund will contain nothing but the government's promise to pay, while the taxes collected in the guise of premiums will be wasted by the government in reckless and extravagant political schemes.

LABOR

The welfare of labor rests upon increased production and the prevention of exploitation. We pledge ourselves to:

Protect the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing without interference from any source.

Support the adoption of state laws and interstate compacts to abolish sweatshops and child labor, and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the constitution as it now stands.

AGRICULTURE

The Farm Problem.

The farm problem is an economic and social, not a partisan problem, and we propose to treat it accordingly. Following the wreck of the restrictive and coercive AAA, the New Deal administration has taken to itself the principles of the Republican policy of soil conservation and land retirement. This action opens the way for a nonpolitical and permanent solution. Such a solution cannot be had under a New Deal administration which misuses the program to serve partisan ends, to promote scarcity and to limit by coercive methods the farmer's control over his own farm.

Our paramount object is to protect and foster the family type of farm, traditional in American life, and to promote policies which will bring about an adjustment of agriculture to meet the needs of domestic and foreign markets. As an emergency measure, during the agricultural depression, federal benefit payments or grants in aid when administered within the means of the federal government are consistent with a balanced budget.

Agricultural Proposals.

We propose:

1. To facilitate economical production and increased consumption on a basis of abundance instead of scarcity.

2. A national land use program, including the acquisition of abandoned and nonproductive farm lands by voluntary sale or lease, subject to approval of the legislative and executive branches of the states concerned, and the devotion of such land to appropriate public use, such as watershed protection and flood prevention, reforestation, recreation, and conservation of wild life.

3. That an agricultural policy be pursued for the protection and restoration of the land resources, designed to bring about such a balance between soil building and soil depleting crops as will permanently insure productivity, with reasonable benefits to coöperating farmers on family type farms, but so regulated as to eliminate the New Deal's destructive policy toward the dairy and live stock industries.

4. To extend experimental aid to farmers developing new crops suited to our soil and climate.

5. To promote the industrial use of farm products by applied science.

6. To protect the American farmer against the importation of all live stock, dairy, and agricultural products, substitutes therefor, and derivatives therefrom, which will depress American farm prices.

7. To provide effective quarantine against imported live stock, dairy and other farm products from countries which do not impose health and sanitary regulations fully equal to those required of our own producers.

Ample Farm Credit.

8. To provide for ample farm credit at rates as low as those enjoyed by other industries, including commodity and live stock loans, and preference in land loans to the farmer acquiring or refinancing a farm as a home.

9. To provide for decentralized nonpartisan control of the farm credit administration and the election by national farm loan associations of at least one-half of each board of directors of the federal land banks, and thereby remove these institutions from politics.

10. To provide in the case of agricultural products of which there are exportable surpluses, the payment of reasonable benefits upon the domestically consumed portion of such crops in order to make the tarif effective. These payments are to be limited to the production level of the family type farm.

11. To encourage and further develop coöperative marketing.

12. To furnish government assistance in disposing of surpluses in foreign trade by bargaining for foreign markets selectively by countries both as to exports and imports. We strenuously oppose so-called reciprocal treaties which trade off the American farmer.

13. To give every reasonable assistance to producers in areas suffering from temporary disaster, so that they may regain and maintain a self-supporting status.

TARIF

Nearly 60 per cent of all imports into the United States are now free of duty. The other 40 per cent of imports compete directly with the product of our industry. We would keep on the free list all products not grown or produced in the United States in commercial quantities. As to all commodities that commercially compete with our farms, our forests, our mines, our fisheries, our oil wells, our labor and our industries, sufficient protection should be maintained at all times to defend the American farmer and the American wage earner from the destructive competition emanating from the subsidies of foreign governments and the imports from low wage and depreciated currency countries.

We will repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law. It is futile and dangerous. Its effect on agriculture and industry has been destructive. Its continuation would work to the detriment of the wage earner and the farmer.

We will restore the principle of the flexible tarif in order to meet changing economic conditions here and abroad and broaden by careful definition the powers of the tarif commission in order to extend this policy along nonpartisan lines.

We will adjust tarif with a view to promoting international trade, the stabilization of currencies, and the attainment of a proper balance between agriculture and industry.

We condemn the secret negotiation of reciprocal trade treaties without public hearing or legislative approval.

MONOPOLIES

A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. It menaces and, if continued, will utterly destroy constitutional government and the liberty of the citizen.

We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws, as well as the civil laws, against monopolies and trusts and their officials, and we demand the enactment of such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist in the United States.

We will employ the full powers of the government to the end that monopoly shall be eliminated and that free enterprise shall be fully restored and maintained.

REGULATION OF BUSINESS

We recognize the existence of a field within which governmental regulation is desirable and salutary. The authority to regulate should be vested in an independent tribunal acting under clear and specific laws establishing definite standards. Their determinations on law and facts should be subject to review by the courts. We favor federal regulation, within the constitution, of the marketing of securities to protect investors. We favor also federal regulation of the interstate activities of public utilities.

CIVIL SERVICE

Under the New Deal, official authority has been given to inexperienced and incompetent persons. The civil service has been sacrificed to create a national political machine. As a result the federal government has never presented such a picture of confusion and inefficiency.

We pledge ourselves to the merit system, virtually destroyed by New Deal spoilsmen. It should be restored, improved, and extended.

We will provide such conditions as offer an attractive permanent career in government service to young men and women of ability, irrespective of party affiliations.

GOVERNMENT FINANCE

The New Deal administration has been characterized by shameful waste and general financial irresponsibility. It has piled deficit upon deficit. It threatens national bankruptcy and the destruction through inflation of insurance policies and savings bank deposits.

We pledge ourselves to:

Stop the folly of uncontroled spending.

Balance the budget—not by increasing taxes, but by cutting expenditures, drastically and immediately.

Revise the federal tax system and coördinate it with state and local tax systems.

Use the taxing power for raising revenue and not for punitive or political purposes.

MONEY AND BANKING

We advocate a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

We oppose further devaluation of the dollar.

We will restore to the congress the authority lodged within by the constitution to coin money and regulate the value thereof by repealing all the laws delegating this authority to the executive.

We will coöperate with other countries toward stabilization of currencies as soon as we can do so with due regard for our national interests and as soon as other nations have sufficient stability to justify such action.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

We pledge ourselves to promote and maintain peace by all honorable means not leading to foreign alliances or political commitments.

Obedient to the traditional foreign policy of America and to the repeatedly expressed will of the American people, we pledge that America shall not become a member of the league of nations nor of the world court nor shall America take on any entangling alliances in foreign affairs.

We shall promote, as the best means of securing and maintaining peace by the pacific settlement of disputes, the great cause of international arbitration through the establishment of free, independent tribunals, which shall determine such disputes in accordance with law, equity, and justice.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

We favor an army and navy, including air forces, adequate for our national defense.

We will coöperate with other nations in the limitation of armaments and control of trafic in arms.

BILL OF RIGHTS

We pledge ourselves to preserve, protect and defend, against all intimidation and threat, freedom of religion, speech, press and radio; and the right of assembly and petition and immunity from unreasonable searches and seizures.

We offer the abiding security of a government of laws as against the autocratic perils of a government of men.

FURTHERMORE

1. We favor the construction by the federal government of headwater storage basins to prevent floods, subject to the approval of the legislative and executive branches of the government of the states whose lands are concerned.

2. We favor equal opportunity for our colored citizens. We pledge our protection of their economic status and personal safety. We will do our best to further their employment in the gainfully occupied life of America, particularly in private industry, agriculture, emergency agencies, and the civil service.

We condemn the present New Deal policies which would regiment and ultimately eliminate the colored citizen from the country's productive life and make him solely a ward of the federal government.

3. To our Indian population we pledge every effort on the part of the national government to ameliorate living conditions for them.

4. We pledge continuation of the Republican policy of adequate compensation and care for veterans disabled in the service of our country and for their widows, orphans, and dependents.

5. We shall use every effort to collect the war debt due us from foreign countries amounting to $12,000,000,000—one-third of our national debt. No effort has been made by the present administration even to reopen negotiations.

6. We are opposed to legislation which discriminates against women in federal and state employment.

CONCLUSION

We assume the obligations and duties imposed upon government by modern conditions. We affirm our unalterable conviction that, in the future as in the past, the fate of the nation will depend not so much on the wisdom and power of government as on the character and virtue, self-reliance, industry, and thrift of the people and on their willingness to meet the responsibilities essential to the preservation of a free society.

Finally, as our party affirmed in its first platform in 1856: "Believing that the spirit of our institutions as well as the constitution of our country guarantees liberty of conscience and equality of rights among our citizens, we oppose all legislation tending to impair them," and "we invite the affiliation and coöperation of the men of all parties, however differing from us in other respects, in support of the principles herein declared."

The acceptance of the nomination tendered by this convention carries with it, as a matter of private honor and public faith, an undertaking by each candidate to be true to the principles and program herein set forth.

How Chicago Chose Its Own Coffee

IF you live in one of the areas, starred on the map, each in the neighborhood of a Jewel Food Store, you know how Jewel conducted its check of the "coffee taste" of Chicago, and surrounding suburbs.

This company, which sells coffee in nearly every state in the Union, recognizes the fact that in the long run the public determines what blend and roast of coffee it will drink by its purchase of the coffee it prefers.

Royal Jewel Coffee has long been a favorite in Chicago. But we wanted to be sure we were suiting Chicago's own very special coffee taste with the blend and roast that exactly matched the Chicagoland climate and tempo of living. So we decided to take a popular vote.

Different roasts and slightly different blends of Royal Jewel Coffee were placed in free test packages marked only with code letters.

These half-pound packages of coffee were distributed in pairs . . . a week's supply for the average family . . . and left by Jewel Food Stores representatives at 4648 homes in Chicago and its suburbs. These families were asked to use the coffees and indicate their choice on a vote card, which the Jewel representative collected one week later. Thanks to the assistance and cooperation of these families, the votes were cast without delay, the exact blend and roast preferred by Chicago was known promptly and surely. Today the Jewel Food Stores offer Chicago a coffee of its very own choice.

COPYRIGHT BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE

FOR three weeks one of the most novel tests ever made with a food product has been going on in Chicago. 4648 Chicago families have been choosing the blend and roast of Royal Jewel Coffee they prefer.

Millions of pounds of Jewel Coffees are sold every year in the United States. California drinks huge quantities of one blend and roast of Jewel Coffee. Ohio and Indiana prefer a slightly different blend and roast. Georgia and Florida have still another "coffee taste." And so on.

Chicago now has a coffee of its own choice . . . a blend and a roast which suits its own "coffee taste."

For years, coffee experts have known that the public's taste in coffee differs in the various sections of the country, and even in different cities, depending on the chemistry of the local water, the climate, and the living habits of the people.

Which blend and roast would Chicago prefer? Instead of guessing, this great popular "taste test" was undertaken. Generous samples . . . sufficient for more than 200,000 cups of coffee . . . were distributed, and 4648 families were asked to vote for their preference.

The choice of these 4648 families has been adopted as Chicago's standard of Royal Jewel Coffee. The first shipments, freshly roasted, have just arrived from the great Jewel roasting plant at Barrington. Stop in at your neighborhood Jewel Food Store for a package of Royal Jewel Coffee and try for yourself this special blend and roast of Chicago's own choice.

G. O. P. PLANKS OF 1936 AND 1932 IN COMPARISON

Platforms Declare for Federal Economy.

RELIEF.

"To end confusion, partisanship, waste, and incompetence, we pledge: The return of responsibility for relief administration to nonpolitical local agencies familiar with community problems.

1932.

"True to American traditions and principles of government the administration has regarded the relief problem as one of state and local responsibility. The Republican party indorses this record and policy and is opposed to the federal government entering directly into the field of private charity and direct relief to the individual."

ECONOMY.

"We pledge ourselves to: Stop the folly of uncontroled spending. Balance the budget—not by increasing taxes but by cutting expenditures, drastically and immediately."

1932.

"We urged prompt and drastic reduction of public expenditure and resistance to every appropriation not demonstrably necessary to the performance of the essential functions of government, national or local."

AGRICULTURE.

"We propose to facilitate economical production and increase consumption on a basis of abundance instead of scarcity. . . . A national land-use program . . . protection and restoration of the land resources . . . payment of reasonable benefits upon the domestically consumed portion of such crops [with exportable surpluses] . . . government assistance in disposing of surpluses."

1932.

"The fundamental problem of American agriculture is the control of production to such volume as will balance supply with demand. In the solution of this problem the coöperative organization of farmers to plan production, and the tarif to hold the home market for American farmers, are vital elements. A third element equally as vital is the control of the acreage of land under cultivation as an aid to the efforts of the farmer to balance production."

TARIF.

1936.

"We will repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law. We will restore the principle of the flexible tarif. We will adjust tarifs with a view to promoting international trade, the stabilization of currencies, and the attainment of a proper balance between agriculture and industry."

1932.

"The Republican party has always been the staunch supporter of the American system of a protective tarif. The historic American policy known as the 'most favored nation principle' has been our guiding program. Any other plan involves bargains and partnerships with foreign nations as a permanent policy is unsuited to America's position."

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

"We pledge that America shall not become a member of the league of nations or of the world court nor shall America take on any entangling alliances in foreign affairs. We shall promote the great cause of international arbitration through the establishment of free, independent tribunals."

1932.

"Throughout the controversy our government has acted in harmony with the governments represented in the league of nations, always making it clear that American policy would be determined at home, but always lending a hand in the common interest of peace and order. The acceptance by America of membership in the world court has been approved by three successive Republican Presidents and we commend this attitude of supporting in this form the settlement of international disputes by the rule of law."

MONEY.

1936.

"We advocate a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards."

1932.

"We pledge the Republican party to defend and preserve a sound currency and an honest dollar."

UTILITIES.

1932.

"We urge legislation to authorize this commission [the federal power commission] to regulate the charges for electric current when transmitted across state lines."

MONOPOLIES.

"We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws, as well as the civil laws, against monopolies and trusts and their officials, and we demand the enactment of such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist in the United States."

1932.

Nominee's Daughter Sees Stampede

Clinging to a pole on tiptoe to see the fun while a radio announcer thrusts a microphone in her face, the daughter of Gov. Alf M. Landon gets the thrill that comes once in a lifetime as Republican convention stampeded for her dad.

PEGGY, 'GRAMPA' ARE THRILLED BY LANDON CHEERS

Governor's Daughter Sees Demonstration.

BY MARCIA WINN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—Peggy Anne Landon, a slim figure in sunflower yellow, leaned quickly forward in her chair on a back platform.

"O," she said, "O! What does that mean—have they yielded the floor or the votes?"

But "grampa," the 79 year old father of the Kansas governor, made no reply. He tightened his teeth on his stub of a cigar and stood up. So did every one else. So did Peggy Anne— for the demonstration for her father was just beginning.

His Eyes Brim with Tears.

Peggy Anne clenched her hands. "Grampa" took her arm. Her brown eyes were shining. His faded blue eyes were brimming with tears. Peggy Anne tried to suppress a smile.

She turned to her companion, Mrs. Jack Harris of Kansas. "O," she whispered, "I'm so excited."

Every one stood on tiptoes as the first great burst of enthusiasm, preceding the nominating speech, shot the noise barometer to its peak. Peggy Anne climbed upon her chair. "Look at that man with the whiskers!" she cried. "Look, look," pointing toward a corner where hats, balloons, and banners were being thrown high into the air. "They're going wild over there."

Speaks Into Microphone.

John Hamilton started his nominating speech. Peggy Anne sat up straight in her chair, her eyes fastened upon the speaker. "Grampa" looked at his cigar stub. Threw it away. Pulled out a fresh one. Forgot to light it.

The mighty parading started. Some one handed Peggy a microphone. She spoke into it—to Gov. Landon: "I'm happy. How are you? It's wonderful—and very confusing—but I'm having a grand time. The crowd seems to be happy."

"Grampa" leaned forward to say a word. He was too late. The microphone already was gone. A neighbor asked him how he liked it. "I can't tell you," came his husky reply. "It's too wonderful for me to talk."

Committeewomen Scream.

Some one handed Peggy a gray cardboard elephant. "G. O. P. going places" was painted on its back. She waved it. She climbed to a chair for a better view. Dignified national committeewomen near by screamed and threw their hats in the air, but 19 year old Peggy Anne merely looked and looked and clenched her hands.

A police escort came to take her to the rear of the stage.

"Gee," said a guard to the other. "You know who that is? The President's daughter."

PERTINENT PLATFORM POINTS

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(AP)—Here are the pertinent points on which the Republican party will campaign for the election of a Republican president in November.

The powers of congress have been usurped by the President.

Regulated monopoly has displaced free enterprise.

It [the New Deal] has been guilty of frightful waste and extravagance, using public funds for partisan political purposes.

It has bred fear and hesitation in commerce and industry, thus discouraging new enterprises, preventing employment and prolonging the depression.

It has coerced and intimidated voters by withholding relief to those opposing its tyranical policies.

Appeals to passion and class prejudice have replaced reason and tolerance.

The party pledges itself to resist all attempts to impair the authority of the Supreme court.

To preserve the American system of free enterprise, private competition and equality of opportunity, and to seek its constant betterment in the interests of all.

On reëmployment the party advocated: Removal of restrictions on production.

Relief:
The return of responsibility for relief administration to nonpolitical local agencies familiar with community problems.

Federal grants-in-aid to the states.

Security:
A pay-as-you-go policy, which requires of each generation the support of the aged and the determination of what is just and adequate.
Every American citizen over sixty-five should receive the supplementary payment necessary to provide a minimum income sufficient to protect him or her from want.

To encourage adoption by the states and territories of honest and practical measures for meeting the problems of unemployment insurance.

Labor:
Protect the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing.

Support the adoption of state laws and interstate compacts to abolish sweat shops and child labor and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the constitution as it now stands.

Agriculture:
To facilitate economical production and increase consumption on a basis of abundance instead of scarcity.

Government finance:
We pledge ourselves to stop the folly of uncontroled spending.
Balance the budget—not by increasing taxes but by cutting expenditures, drastically and immediately; use the taxing power for raising revenue and not for punitive or political purposes.

Money and banking:
We oppose further devaluation of the dollar.

Tarif:
We will repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law.

Monopolies:
We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws as well as the civil laws, against monopolies and trust and their officials, and we demand the enactment of such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist in the United States.

Foreign affairs:
We pledge that America shall not become a member of the league of nations nor of the world court.

LANDON KEEPS VIGIL ALONE IN VICTORY HOUR

Gives Pledge to Lead Fight and Win.

November." That was his first announcement after the vigil.

The patience and the calm with which the governor has awaited the action of the convention was gone. He was now the crusader, burning for the opportunity to press forward and battle for what he sees as the right.

When the word came that the convention had given him his commission, the governor, with his head high now and carrying the air of one who has cast off the shackles of inactivity, stepped to the flood lighted porch and addressed his neighbors.

With him were his wife, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Samuel E. Cobb, and Roe Cross, a cousin of Mrs. Landon. Characteristically, the governor mentioned Mrs. Landon in his first sentence.

"Mrs. Landon and I are deeply touched by the expression of your good will and good wishes," he said. "We are proud, too, that so many of our friends from surrounding towns have come to join in this impromptu celebration. At this moment our thoughts turn to our old friends and neighbors in Independence.

"The courage and spirit of the people of Kansas have been a constant inspiration to me during my term as governor. Their loyalty and confidence have sustained me during these trying years, as they will continue to sustain me.

Neighbors' Regard Worth While.

"Nothing is more worth while than the regard of one's neighbors. Nothing tugs more strongly at one's heartstrings than their good wishes. If, after three years as your governor, I did not enjoy your respect and good will I should feel that I had failed, whatever other honors might come to me.

"For the sentiments you manifest by your gathering here tonight, Mrs. Landon and I thank you from the bottom of our hearts. We shall always cherish the memory of this happy evening together."

Then, with deep emotion in his voice, Gov. Landon read a telegram from his friends in Independence, who said they were "jubilant over his success." Next he introduced Mrs. Landon, who started a little speech, but gave it up after a few words.

"O, I can't talk," she said.

Friends Rush to Greet Him.

When the nominee had finished there was a rush to the porch and he was almost crushed by the friends attempting to shake his hand. He remained to accept congratulations for a half hour and then went inside. The noise and the red flares of the throng did not die out until nearly midnight, however.

The governor did not go to the statehouse today. He remained at home and passed part of his time playing with his 3 year old daughter, Nancy Joe, and his 2 year old son, John Cobb Landon.

Roy, the colored chauffeur, who doubles in housework for the Landons, cheerfully directed visitors to the back yard, where Gov. Landon was playing games with the youngsters. At intervals he interrupted this important activity to go to the porch and greet visitors who were coming in considerable numbers to wish him good luck and to congratulate him.

Answers Phone Himself.

At one time the governor had to halt an interview and go inside to answer the telephone. Mrs. Landon, Mrs. Cobb, and Roy all were busy with something else, and there was nobody else to do the answering.

Later the children were sent to the home of a relative because Mrs. Landon said she did not want them kept up late at night by the expected noise. As it turned out, this was a wise decision. The celebration tonight lasted until after 11 o'clock.

Gov. and Mrs. Landon dined alone, for the first time in weeks. And, although the convention was along in its night session when they finished the meal, the governor gave no sign that he knew of the crowd that already was forming outside, with policemen and cavalry of the Kansas state guard to preserve order.

When he was asked a little later to make a statement about his impending nomination he preserved the rôle of patient waiting.

Awaits Convention Action.

"I won't have anything to say about that until the convention has acted," he said with a smile.

He had, however, already sent warm telegrams of thanks to Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald of Michigan and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, who had informed him of their willingness to support his cause with all the Michigan delegates' votes.

Pennsylvania Can Claim Nominee as a Native Son

Topeka, Kas., June 11.—[Special.]—Alf M. Landon, the unanimous nominee of the Republican party, is a Pennsylvanian by birth and an Ohioan by adoption; has been a resident of Kansas since the end of his high school days.

In the summer of 1887 Anne Mossman Landon decided that it would be best for her to return to her father's parsonage in West Middlesex, Pa., where her mother could watch over the birth of Anne's first child. At that time the Landons were living in Elba, O., where the present governor's father was engaged in the oil business.

On Sept. 9, 1887, in the Methodist parsonage at West Middlesex, Alfred Mossman Landon was born. When Alf was 13 years old he entered Marietta academy at Marietta, O. During the years he spent there in high school his father was beginning to catch the scent of oil from the new fields beginning to develop in southeastern Kansas.

Enters Kansas University.

Alf was ready to enter the University of Kansas in 1904. The family home had been reëstablished at Independence, Kas., which is still the governor's legal residence.

One year in the liberal arts college at the university was enough for the young Landon. He found the fascination of law too great and changed into the law school, from which he graduated in 1908.

Biographers of the governor state that he received grades above the average but Landon denies this. "I was just an average student with the average number of friends," he says.

The future governor was prevented from participating in athletics in the university by an accident that occurred during his high school days. Alf, then a 114 pound end on the academy team, tangled with an opposing full back and woke up to find himself with a broken shoulder that never healed properly.

Young Landon, when he graduated from the law school in 1908, amazed his father by entering an Independence bank as a clerk. For the next three years the young lawyer studied the failures and successes of the oil boom town, meanwhile saving his money and occasionally nibbling at the producing game.

Finally the lure of the oil fields became too much for the bank clerk and he swung into them as a producer and driller. Landon has never been a promoter, has never peddled oil stock, and has never been associated with a refinery or oil company.

"I've always operated in the poor man's field," he said the other night. "As a matter of fact, I've always fought the large companies."

Young Landon's political education began in 1912, when the elder Landon was a strong supporter of the "Bull Moose" movement. Alf took no active part in the campaign, but was an interested watcher of his father's activities.

First Wife Dies.

Tragedy struck the young oil operator in 1917, his first wife Margaret Fleming of Oil City, Pa., died shortly after the birth of their first daughter, Margaret Ann.

Three weeks later Landon enlisted in the chemical warfare section of the United States army, as a member of which he spent the remainder of the war in training in New Jersey.

Landon's first major activity in politics took place in 1928 when he successfully directed the campaign that elected Clyde Reed governor of Kansas.

Reed's policies disrupted the Republican party, however, and he was beaten two years later by Harry H. Woodring, present assistant secretary of war.

Runs for Governor.

Two years later the Republicans called upon Landon to be the savior of his party in the state. He toured the state, sounding out sentiment and accepted the difficult task of bringing together the opposing liberal and conservative factions.

In the face of a national Democratic landslide Landon defeated Woodring by 6,000 votes, while the state was rejecting Herbert Hoover by 65,000 votes. In 1934 Landon had become so popular that he carried the state by 70,000 votes. The governor's first official act in 1933 was to cut his own salary 25 per cent. Then he started in on the budget balancing program that has put the Kansas house in order.

Theo Cobb of Topeka, who had become the second Mrs. Landon in 1930, was surprised to find that the governor's expense reducing program extended to the appropriation for the executive mansion, where she was bringing up their two children, Nancy Josephine, 3 years old, and John Cobb, 2 years old.

LANDON BACKERS WOO VANDENBERG FOR V. PRESIDENT

Seek to Overcome His Refusal.

from the vice presidential picture, although he was understood to be eager for the nomination. His spokesmen had said he would not accept second place on the ticket unless it appeared that he had been invited by Gov. Landon, but there were unmistakable evidences that they were seeking the invitation.

Senator Vandenberg, it is understood, is reluctant to accept the vice presidential nomination, not because of any lack of enthusiasm for the ticket, but because of a genuine conviction that he could perform a greater service as a free agent, campaigning for it, and later providing his party with leadership in the senate.

Another consideration the senator has in mind, according to his friends, is that the party must carry Maine in September because of the psychological effect upon the November election. It was suggested that Senator Steiwer might be a better candidate so far as Maine is concerned. Senator Vandenberg, single handed, killed the New Deal's 44 million dollar Passamaquoddy tide harnessing power project in Maine.

REVEALS HOW 4 STARTED BOOM FOR ALF LANDON

Small Dinner in October Starting Point.

Cleveland, O., June 11.—(AP)—Four weary but happy men tonight acknowledged the climax of a small dinner early last October when they formally launched the drive to name Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas Republican nominee for President.

These four men, two of them schoolmates of Gov. Landon, were Oscar Stauffer of Arkansas City, Roy Roberts, and Lacey Haynes of Kansas City, and Fred Brinkerhoff of Pittsburg, Kas.

Group Forms Nucleus.

Joining them in tonight's jubilation were others who stepped in as the drive gained momentum—John Hamilton of Topeka, William Allen White of Emporia, Fred Harris of Ottawa, John P. Harris of Hutchinson, Lester McCoy of Garden City, and Henry J. Allen of Wichita.

This group—including eight newspaper men—formed the nucleus of the Landon for President drive which in ensuing months swept the country.

Stauffer, publisher of eight Kansas newspapers and chairman of the "Landon for President committee," bit at a cigar, planted his feet on his desk in Landon headquarters at the Hollenden hotel, and recalled the opening of the Landon campaign.

Starts Things Going.

"Roy Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star, Alf and I were all at Kansas university together, you know," Stauffer began. "However, we belonged to different fraternities. But we had been old friends and Roy and I had been supporters of the governor.

"The governor had been mentioned as a presidential possibility as early as the time of his election to a second term. One day last fall I ran into Roy.

"'Roy,' I said, 'when are we going to do something about getting Alf nominated for President?'

"Mr. Roberts said he thought it was about time. So about the first of October he, Lacey Haynes, the Kansas editor of the Star; Fred Brinkerhoff, editor of the Pittsburg Headlight and Sun, and I got Alf to join us for dinner.

"We wanted to talk politics. But Alf wouldn't. He talked about football for an hour and a half, complaining because Kansas university had just lost a game to a small college—St. Benedict at Atcheson.

"Alf wouldn't take us seriously. Of course, he said, if the people of the country should decide they wanted him for President he would be honored, and he would do his best."

KANSAS WOMAN DOES HER BIT FOR LANDON IN 'OWN TINY WAY'

Chicago Tribune Bureau, Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. W. Davis of Topeka, Kas., who is a convention visitor, is a loyal Landon worker. She doesn't belong to any committee, but she says, "I do my little bit, and even if I don't get the glory of the home delegates I know I'm just as important in my own tiny way."

She doesn't care what the platform is, as long as Landon likes it. "What he likes, I like."

Mrs. Bertha Gross of Union, Ia., had a green silk parasol that she thumped on the floor when she particularly liked a speech. "It saves my hands," she explained.

She is a housewife who doesn't believe women should be too militant in politics. "Just take a nice passive interest." Her husband will vote for Landon and so will she.

Recover Body of American Pilot Killed in Navy Plane

SANTIAGO, Cuba, June 12 [Friday].—(AP)—The body of the pilot of an American naval plane attached to the cruiser Memphis was recovered by a submarine today, reports from Caimanera declared. Search was continued for a second man believed to be in the plane, which was reported to have fallen into the sea near Guantanamo bay. Names of the pilot and co-pilot were not known here.

BORAH STUNNED BY LANDON CALL FOR GOLD MONEY

Cleveland, O., June 11.—(AP)—The Plain-Dealer says Senator William E. Borah of Idaho appeared "incredible or stunned" when informed at Akron tonight that Gov. Landon of Kansas declared for a currency based on gold and a constitutional amendment, if necessary, to permit state regulation of wages and hours.

Informed of Gov. Landon's telegram to the Republican convention, Borah said:

"Well, that's his business. Why didn't he send it sooner?"

The Plain Dealer says Borah ran his hands over his face four or five times. Asked if he had any more comment, he said, "I shall wait until morning and see what they do."

Borah was on a train en route to Washington. He left Cleveland just a few minutes before the delegates adopted a platform containing three of the planks in which his principles dominated. He had fought to have any mention of the gold standard eliminated from the platform.

In the heat of the fight over the resolution committee's adoption of the proposed platform had come a threat that Borah might bolt, and quickly moving events after his departure lent substance to that possibility.

Since Borah had fought to have any mention of the gold standard eliminated from the platform, and had expressed his opposition to "meddling" with the constitution, his reaction to Landon, the candidate, and the Landon interpretation of the platform raised grave doubts among political observers here that the "Lion of Idaho" would take the stump for the Kansas governor.

The Idaho senator also refused any comment on Landon as the party's leader in its efforts to replace President Roosevelt.

To persistent inquiries as to whether he would campaign for Landon this fall Borah's only answer was that he had nothing to say until he had had a "breathing spell."

Earlier Borah, informed that William Allen White had advocated the gold standard plank written by Mark Hanna for the 1896 platform, declared that was "utterly impossible."

HOOVER LAUDS PLATFORM AS NATION'S NEED

"Fighting, Progressive," His Comment.

New York, June 11.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover gave an unqualified indorsement to the Republican party platform tonight after Gov. Landon had made a personal declaration for the gold standard currency position which Mr. Hoover failed to get included in the convention draft.

The statement authorized by Mr. Hoover called the platform "the fighting, definite and progressive statement the country needs" and said that it "admirably covers the principles and methods I have so repeatedly advocated."

As first dictated by Paul Sexson, a secretary, the statement added, "There are one or two items that I should like to have been extended. The extension of these items is inevitable in any event."

Changes His Statement.

A few minutes later Sexson requested that these two sentences be eliminated and that there be added in their place this one: "Gov. Landon's statement amply covers any other points that may be in question."

Earlier today Mr. Hoover sent a telegram to the convention at Cleveland strongly urging a platform plank favoring ultimate return to the gold standard. His plea was rejected by the committee which stuck to its declaration for a "sound currency."

Mr. Hoover's complete statement follows:

"The platform admirably covers the principles and methods I have so repeatedly advocated. The platform is the fighting, definite, and progressive statement the country needs.

"When put into force by the American people, these principles will regenerate the country.

"Gov. Landon's statement amply covers any other points that may be in question."

Cheered Loudly at Depot.

Mr. Hoover arrived here today from Cleveland, O., where he addressed the Republican convention last night.

About 2,000 persons were at the Grand Central station when he left the train and they cheered him loudly.

Mr. Hoover, apparently much pleased with the reception, paused before he turned up the stairs to enter a motor car, and lifted his hat.

This brought louder cheers from the crowd and several of them held up newspapers whose headlines predicted victory for the Republican party.

In a short interview, Mr. Hoover smilingly declined to discuss political questions when he arrived. He brushed aside a question to the effect that his speech last night was a political valedictory.

On University Errand.

He said that there was optimism at Cleveland concerning the prospects for a Republican victory, but he refused to express his own opinion.

He also declined to state what part he might play in the campaign to elect the Republican candidate.

The former President said that his visit was concerned chiefly with the business of Leland Stanford university. He is a member of the board of trustees. He expects to complete the business tomorrow.

STUDIES G. O. P. CONVENTION TO LEARN POLITICS

Cleveland, O., June 11.—[Special.]—William E. Watkins, who says he is about the only Republican in Mena, Ark., is here for the Republican convention. This is his first convention and he got here by hitch-hiking. He hasn't got a ticket, but he manages to get in every day by waiting till the people leave after the morning session. Once in, he stays until it is all over.

He has heard every important speech and has very decided opinions about what is going on. He is going to be a politician himself one day. He operates a general merchandising store in Mena.

He is about the only Republican in Mena and sometimes gets into hot debates over the colored problem. He believes the colored people should get more of a break. He thinks it is all right to be liberal and he doesn't mind spending money, but he doesn't like the way Roosevelt is spending it.

POSTMASTERS PICKED; DODGE FUND CAMPAIGN

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—Postmasters in several Missouri cities said today they had been chosen chairmen of local units to raise Democratic campaign funds, but national party headquarters in New York asserted none would be used in active money raising.

Some said they had declined to serve. Postmaster C. W. Greenwade at Springfield said he had been informed he would be relieved of such campaign participation.

A spokesman for James A. Farley, postmaster general and national Democratic chairman, said in New York:

"Of course it's possible that some postmasters have been included, but when we find that a chairman is a postmaster we ask him to serve as honorary chairman and appoint somebody else as active head."

Greenwade said he received a telephone call late today from Forbes Morgan, secretary of the Democratic national committee, New York, telling him another was being appointed in his place.

Z. Lee Stokely, postmaster at Poplar Bluff, who at first had accepted appointment, said he was asked today by Farley's office to suggest another man.

11,000 Diamond Cutters, Miners Strike in Belgium

ANTWERP, Belgium, June 11.—(AP)—Fresh strikes of 8,000 diamond cutters at Antwerp and 3,000 miners at Liege were called today in sympathy with the continuing walkout of 10,000 dock workers. Almost 6,000 freight cars were tied up in the Antwerp yards and 4,000 others throughout the country as the striking employés sought wage increases.

PARKS BAR NAZI PROPAGANDA AT GERMAN OUTING

Dunham Explains Permit for Soldiers' Field.

Nazi propaganda will not be tolerated at the annual German Day association program on Sunday in Soldiers' field, Robert J. Dunham, president of the Chicago park district, declared yesterday in a letter to editors of Jewish newspapers. Mr. Dunham explained why the permit for use of the field was issued by the park board over the protests of anti-Nazi groups who objected to the display of the German flag with its swastika emblem.

"The permit issued contemplates a presentation of a pageant of German life, including singing, folk dancing, gymnastics, and sports demonstrations," Dunham wrote. "We are promised that there will be no singing or speechmaking which in any sense could be considered hostile or objectionable to the Jewish people.

Can't Ban Flag.

"We already have instructed our police division that if any attempt is made to distribute handbills or any other literature to any of those attending the celebration, inside or outside the stadium, such material will be confiscated promptly.

"The flag which we are informed will be flown is the present national flag of Germany. Its display in one of our parks is by no means an indication that the commissioners approve the acts of the German government any more than the display of any other foreign flag would indicate our approval of the policies of the nation it represents.

Adherence Is Assured.

"The commissioners have no more ground to forbid the display of the German flag than they have to prevent any group of citizens of foreign birth from displaying the flag of their fatherland at ceremonies held in the parks, provided only that the American flag is not subordinated in such display."

Mr. Dunham declared that any contrary policy on the part of the park district would embarrass the United States government.

Officials of the association in charge of the celebration were shown the letter in a conference yesterday and gave assurances that nothing will occur which might offend the Jewish citizens of Chicago, he said. Parking plans for the event, at which an attendance of 50,000 to 60,000 is expected, were completed yesterday by Otto K. Jelinek, park trafic engineer.

FRENCH STRIKE OUT OF CONTROL; UNREST GROWS

Cabinet Helpless; Hotel Walkout Hits Tourists.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 11.—After a forty-eight hour lull the strike movement took a more critical turn than ever today and tonight appeared to a large extent to have gotten out of control of both the French government and the Central Trades unions, which originally organized the strikes.

The helplessness of the authorities in the face of the tidal wave of unrest was illustrated by the strike which broke out this morning simultaneously in Paris hotels, cafés, restaurants, and bars and by nightfall was 95 per cent effective.

Tourists Suffer.

Tourists, including many Americans, suffered acultely from the hotel strike, and even had difficulty obtaining adequate nourishment. Hotel owners, government officials, and labor chiefs, realizing the strike was doing incalculable harm to the tourist trade, which is one of the major Srench industries, bent every effort to reach an agreement. It was reported late tonight that employers had agreed to strikers' concessions and that the hotel employés agreed to return to work.

Police, although more afraid of trouble in the streets than ever, stood by helplessly while hundreds of strikers marched in small bands through the heart of downtown Paris this afternoon, as often as not carrying red flags which struck terror to the hearts of the bourgeois and foreigners.

The chamber of deputies by overwhelming majorities approved tonight most of Premier Leon Blum's social reform measures designed to end the widespread strikes.

Pay Cuts Restored.

The chamber voted laws giving the workers paid vacations, exempting war veterans from certain taxes, restoring pay cuts of government employés, and providing for collective labor contracts.

The bill for a 40 hour week, which has met the most opposition, was held over until tomorrow when Blum will ask a vote of confidence for his new leftist government.

All measures passed tonight must be approved by the senate.

Despite the passage of the labor measures, the general situation appears worse, and what is particularly discouraging is a new outbreak of strikes in places where they had been settled, notably Belfort.

Threaten to Form Soviets.

The metallurgical union in an official communique proposed that unless employers give in to workers' demands within forty-eight hours the workers form soviets to take over the factories and produce under the supervision of national defense ministries.

The hotel, restaurant, and bar strike started this morning and gathered momentum during the day. At the Hotel Crillon, next to the American embassy on the Place de la Concorde, at the George V., favorite haven of Hollywood celebrities, the Hotel Scribe and the Grand, late rising visitors rang vainly for breakfasts and maid or valet service.

Closing of the restaurants was even a greater hardship on the American tourist than the closing of hotels, because many of them, ignorant of French and to topography of Paris, did not know where to go for a meal. The American Express, THE TRIBUNE information office, and even the embassy were besieged with calls by frantic tourists wanting to know where they could get lunch.

Hodes Tells of Strike.

The following picture of the strike at the Crillon was given by Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel for the city of Chicago, who is staying there with his wife and mother:

"We feel like prisoners here. We are free to come or go, of course, but inside it is the strikers who are running the show. Some guests were panicky or huffy, but most of us take it philosophically—all the same we are clearing out tomorrow unless things improve.

"The striking employés are polite but very stern about no service. My wife and I made our beds. No linen was furnished and no heat, so the room was pretty cold.

"The food, of course, was the greatest problem, especially as mother is lame and cannot get about very well. At lunch time I went out looking for grub, but everything seemed closed and not knowing French I could not inquire where to go. I finally found a food store and walked in. I did not know how to ask for what I wanted, but the clerk guessed it from the hungry look on my face, so he made a lot of sandwiches which I carried back to the hotel."

FEDERAL PRINTERS TO COMPLETE WORK ON BONUS BONDS TODAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 11.—[Special.]—Completion of the bonus job for the bureau of engraving and printing will come tomorrow with the running off of the 37th million $50 bond. The bonds will be distributed to the veterans after June 15.

The printing was the largest order in the history of the bureau, the next in size being the wartime 4th Liberty loan, which consisted of nearly 36 million separate bonds.

The bonus bonds, amounting to $2,237,000,000 in value, will weigh 300 tons and would fill more than 25 railway cars. The veterans have the choice of holding them for interest or cashing them.

With the huge payment in mind, the federal housing administration today issued a statement for veterans advising them to "think of your home first." Limping along without any appreciable results the New Deal agency saw a chance to drum up business, declaring that it "seeks to acquaint the veterans of the world war receiving around 3 billion dollars in bonus payments with the possibilities offered today in the construction field, and in modernization under provisions of the national housing act."

The 63 field offices of the housing administration have been given orders to assist local veteran organizations in telling them how they could use their bonus cash for New Deal housing ventures.

Housing Administrator Stewart McDonald admitted that the veteran would serve his interests best by holding his bonds until maturity, but, "however, to these veterans who cash their bonds, it is suggested that no better investment can be made than in a better home."

BANK SPEEDS UP DELIVERY WORK ON BONUS BONDS

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago in the last week has sent approximately 200 million dollars of veterans' bonus bonds to postoffices in the Seventh federal reserve district, it was disclosed at the bank yesterday. Delivery of the bonds to veterans is to begin Monday.

The Chicago reserve bank is playing an important part in preparations for the bonus payment. Acting as fiscal agent for the treasury department, the institution has been busy since early in April preparing bonds and checks for distribution in this district.

A staf of nearly 300 is working overtime at the bank under Vice President Alfred T. Sihler inscribing the names of veterans on the bonds and making out checks. The veterans are to be paid in bonds of $50 denomination with odd balances payable by check.

The 200 million dollars already delivered to the postoffices represents payments for approximately 400,000 veterans, Mr. Sihler stated. He said 491,000 veterans in the district are eligible for bonus payments aggregating about 250 million dollars.

Tavern in Croydon Hotel Loses License; Is Closed

The Croydon Cocktail Circle, tavern in the Croydon hotel, 616 Rush street, was closed yesterday following revocation of its liquor license by Mayor Kelly. The tavern was raided early Sunday morning when police found it open at 4 o'clock in the morning, two hours beyond the legal closing hour.

QUIZ AUTO THIEF, 16, ON STORY HE KILLED FATHER

Police Hunt for Body of WPA Worker.

State's attorneys police last evening were holding Emil Rudnick, 16 year old automobile thief, while they investigated his story that he killed his father, William Rudnick, 41 years old, 2104 North Damen avenue, a Works Progress administration employé. The father has been missing since June 1.

Throughout the day the slight, dark haired youth, who constantly begs cigarets from his police guards, reiterated his story that on the evening of May 31 he struck his father on the head with a tire tool, knocking him unconscious. He said he was angered when his father discovered him sitting in an alley in a stolen car and lectured him.

This much of his story was repeated again and again, but the youth, who is a pupil in the Montefiore special school for backward boys at 635 West 14th street, constantly varied the other details of his confession. At first he said he dumped his father's body into the north branch of the river near Goose Island.

Later he said he buried the body in a vacant lot near his home. When policemen went to the address he gave they found the lot had been excavated within the last week by a building contractor and no body had been found. Then Emil said he had left his father's body in a ravine in a forest preserve near Niles, but two squads failed to find it.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Curtis Donahue and Robert Garrison, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; William Calhoun and Mike Christman, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary, by Judge Cornelius Harrington.

Edward Murphy, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Alvin F. Speece, larceny of automobile, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary, by Judge E. I. Frankhauser.

OAK PARK INFANT MORTALITY RATE LOWEST IN STATE

Dr. Frank Jirka, state director of health, announced yesterday at Springfield that Oak Park was the safest city in Illinois for children to be born in, according to 1935 records. Its infant mortality was 29.4 for each 1,000 births. Danville, with 78 deaths to 1,000 births, made the worst showing. Chicago's deaths per 1,000 were 40.1 and Evanston's 38. The average for the state was 45.9, the lowest on record.

9 R. O. T. C. UNITS HERE AWARDED HONOR RATINGS

Among 20 in Area Cited After Inspection.

Nine of the 28 R. O. T. C. units in Chicago high schools have been awarded honor ratings as a result of recent inspections by a United States army officer, it was announced yesterday at headquarters of the Sixth corps area. A total of 20 units out of the 57 in the area, which embraces Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan, were given superior ratings.

The Chicago schools given honor ratings are: Austin, Calumet, Crane Technical, Hyde Park, Lake View, Lindblom, Morgan Park, Senn, and Tilden Technical.

The eleven other honor units in high schools in the 6th corps area are: Rockford Senior High and Waukegan Township High in Illinois; Campion Jesuit High school in Prairie du Chien, Wis., and the following in Michigan: Case, Eastern, Northern, Northwestern, and Southwestern in Detroit, Luther L. Wright in Ironwood, Union in Grand Rapids, and Calumet High school in Calumet.

Rating System Changed.

In previous years the units have been rated in order of their superiority, but that system was not used in the inspection this year. It was said the former arrangement was not considered fair to schools not as fortunate as others in teaching personnel and training facilities.

The inspections, made between April 15 and June 5, were conducted by Maj. James R. Urquhart of Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis. Members of the units were judged on their knowledge of military fundamentals, leadership, weapons, and combat training.

With the absence of official ratings, there was much speculation as to the order in which the Chicago school units might be classed. It was reported that Tilden and Senn schools placed high, if not first and second, respectively. For the last two years Tilden has won first place in the annual drill contest of the Chicago high school R. O. T. C. The Tilden unit also was selected to receive a stand of colors presented by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE at a review of 8,000 R. O. T. C. cadets in Soldiers' field on May 22.

First Among 17 Units.

Tilden was chosen for the honor from the group of 17 Chicago units which have been in existence more than one year. A second set of TRIBUNE colors was presented to Von Steuben High school, which was selected from the 11 high schools whose R. O. T. C. units were organized in the 1935-'36 school year.

According to one report the Senn unit was considered second best among the old group of Chicago schools in the inspection just made, and Sullivan High school placed second in the new group. Which unit was considered best in the new group was not known. Sullivan won second place in the annual drill contest last March 22.

GASOLINE IGNITED; COUPLE BURNED.

Edward Baker, 38 years old, and his wife Sarah, 35 years old, were severely burned yesterday when gasoline was ignited by a spark from their automobile battery as they were using the liquid to clean automobile parts in the garage behind their home at 9608 Ewing avenue.

An item yesterday said erroneously that the Illinois Supreme court had affirmed the Appellate court's voidance of the divorce of Gordon F. Patchen of Winnetka from his first wife. The Supreme court affirmed the divorce and dismissed Mrs. Patchen's plea for alimony. It held that Judge Rudolph F. Desort, who heard the case in Superior court, had properly signed the divorce decree after being transferred to the Criminal court.

Report Queen Mary Hit by Engine Trouble on N.Y. Trip

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 11.—(AP)—A report that the S. S. Queen Mary developed engine trouble on her recent voyage to New York was current in shipping quarters today. According to one version of the story, the blades of one turbine were damaged, but the ship was enabled, by the use of reserve power, to keep to its schedule. Cunard-White Star line officials refused to discuss the subject.

"HARSH SOAP IS TOO EXPENSIVE FOR ME

says MRS. WILLIAM M. RICHARDSON

"I bought some cheap soap one day in an attempt to save a few pennies. But oh! what an expensive experiment that was! The suds were so weak and watery I had to add more and more soap. Worse than this, I had to rub so hard that my linens and children's clothes began to wear out long before they should have. It didn't take me long to get back to safe American Family—it's the only soap I'll ever trust on the new things I bought. I can't afford any other kind."

YES, American Family Soap makes washing easier, safer, quicker . . . because the formula is created especially for the water of this region. You get more real suds-making material . . . purer, creamier DOUBLE-SUDS. That's economy for you! And these double-suds, you know, work double-fast yet gently. Out floats even the grimiest dirt—rinses completely—without hard rubbing. Colors stay true. All washables keep life, newness, months longer. Next washday, just try American Family Soap. See what a "find" it is in cutting washing time and labor, in saving money on clothes needs. Here's added proof—Chicago women buy more American Family brand than any other.

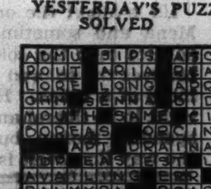
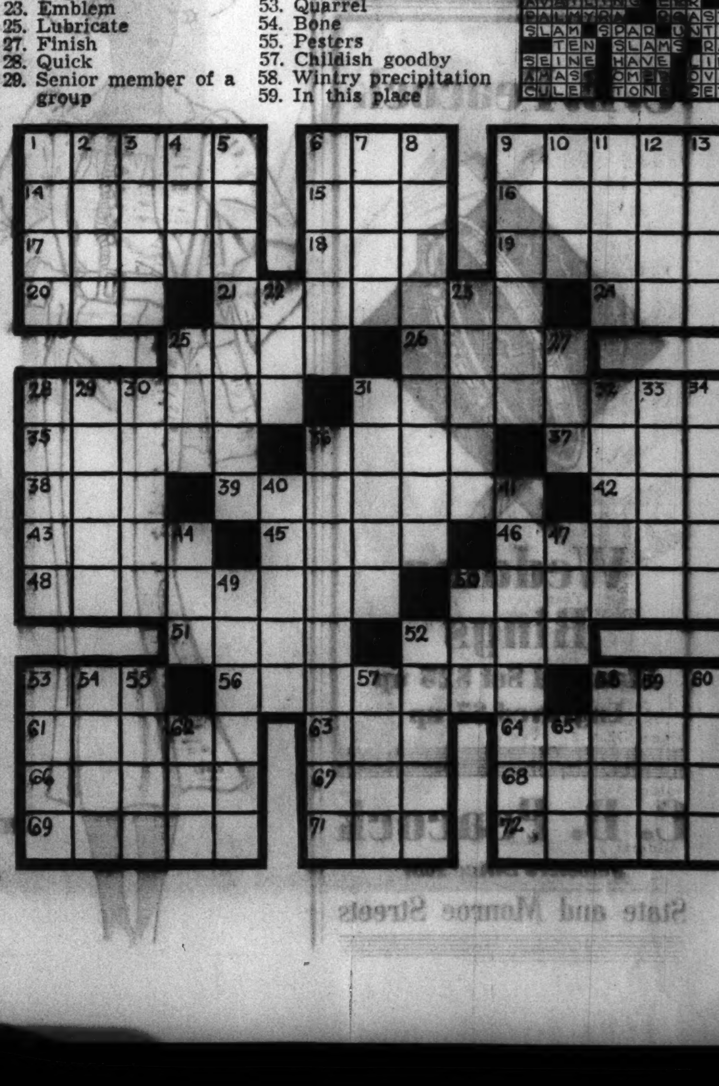
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





RUSSIA TO BUILD 'DEMOCRACY' AND EXTEND LIBERTY

People Win Right to Elect Own Parliament.

MOSCOW, June 11.—(AP)—An official program for the building of "soviet democracy" which calls for a government through two parliamentary-like bodies to be known as supreme councils was made public tonight.

The presidium of the all-union central executive committee approved the text of a proposed new constitution for the U. S. S. R. and convoked a session of the all-union congress of soviets for Nov. 25 to pass on the constitution.

Members of the two bodies will be elected for terms of four years and have the rights of initiating and promulgating legislation.

Extends Rights of Citizens.

Drawn up under the personal supervision of Dictator Josef Stalin, the constitution grants equal voting rights to all citizens regardless of class or origin save those disfranchised by the courts.

It establishes a system of direct and secret elections and extends citizenry rights to freedom of speech and press.

The parliament as a whole, or two chambers combined, is to be known as the supreme council of the union and council of nationalities. The former will be made up of approximately 600 deputies and the latter of approximately half that number.

Deputies to the council of the union will be elected directly by the citizenry, the ratio being one delegate to each 300,000 inhabitants.

Republics Represented.

Deputies to the council of nationalities will be chosen by the supreme councils of the eleven allied republics making up the U. S. S. R. and by central soviets in the so-called autonomous republics and provinces.

Each allied republic will have the right to name ten deputies to this body. Each autonomous republic will name five and each autonomous province two.

The constitution creates five new allied republics. They are Azerbaijan, Georgia, Armenia, Kazakstan, and Kirghis, splitting up the old Trans-Caucasian republic and making a total of eleven compared with the present seven.

An All-Powerful Body.

The supreme council of the U. S. S. R. will be all-powerful, having the authority to declare war, to ratify international agreements, to discharge and appoint members to the council of the people's commissars. The latter body is the soviet equivalent to a cabinet or council of ministers.

When the two chambers making up the supreme council fail to agree the presidium of the supreme council will be empowered to dismiss the council and call a new election.

The parliamentary bodies will hold two 60 day sessions yearly. A single majority is required to enact legislation.

The right to vote was granted all citizens over 18 years old, regardless of their sex, race, social origin, religious beliefs, previous activities, or amount of property owned. The right to stand for election was granted on the same basis.

Guarantees Religious Freedom.

Courts will be presided over by judges elected to three year terms. The constitution guarantees citizenry religious freedom and forbids arrest except on order from the court or prosecutor.

It also guarantees all citizens the right to employment and payment "in proportion to the quantity and quality of work performed."

The constitution expressly states women are to have equal rights as men in all branches of economic, cultural, public, and political life.

Work is described as "the duty of every able bodied citizen in accordance with the principle he who does not work does not eat."

GETS 30 DAYS FOR ASSAULT.

Alonzo Alpino Bey, 28 years old, 922 Townsend street, was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in the Bridewell by Judge Thomas A. Green in the Municipal court yesterday on a charge of assaulting George Paul, 923 Townsend street, with a knife.

Thomas Resigns Parliament Seat in 'Darkest Hour' of Life

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 11.—James H. Thomas, former British colonial secretary, for [illegible] years a member of parliament for Derby, and Sir Alfred Butt, resigned from the house of commons tonight.

The resignations followed findings of a judicial tribunal that Thomas, an engine wiper who became a powerful trade union and Laborite leader, had told official budget secrets relating to income and tea tax boosts, and that Butt had used such information "for private gain" by insurance transactions.

Protests Innocence.

Thomas, looking careworn and speaking emotionally, said he accepted all the tribunal's findings without a challenge, "but I do say that, regardless of any report, I never consciously gave a budget secret away. Nothing can ever be said that will humiliate me more than I have been humiliated. But I can at least go to one who has shared all my trials and triumphs and who still believes in me this darkest hour of my life."

Butt's speech was a vigorous protest of innocence and complaint that no opportunity was given him to fight the matter out in a law court.

Baldwin Sees Expiation Made.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, who moved the acceptance of the tribunal's report, said both members had made expiation in full. He was followed by C. R. Attlee, Labor leader, who demanded a cleanup of the "city," the London financial district. Attlee spoke of the "corrupt influences emanating from gamblers' there."

Personalities were scrupulously avoided except by the communist member, Willie Gallacher. He insisted that Butt and Thomas be tried "so that both will go to jail." Gallacher was rebuked as a "dirty swine" by the government supporter, Lieut. Col. G. K. M. Mason.

Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, winding up the debate, announced that Lloyd's is imposing a "closed season" on budget risks to run from the end of the financial year until the budget statement is announced in the commons.

CITY COMMITTEE OPENS DEBATE ON BUS FRANCHISE

The city council's local transportation committee yesterday began consideration of a franchise granting the Chicago Motor Coach company authority to operate on city streets. The company, which now is operating under a certificate from the Illinois commerce commission, is required to obtain a city franchise under the provisions of the utility home rule bill adopted by voters in the April primary.

The company in its application for an ordinance has offered to pay the city 3 per cent of its gross revenues derived from operation on city streets. The company already pays the Chicago Park district for use of its boulevards.

B. J. Weintraub, vice president of the company, told the council committee that the concern paid the park district $154,000 last year and that on the basis of estimated revenues for 1936, the proposition offered the city would bring about $36,000 a year.

PROTESTS STATE CUT IN INDIVIDUAL PENSION ORDERS

Arbitrary reductions in the amounts of old age pensions have been made by the state pension office at Springfield in about one-fourth of the fifty-four cases in which promissory certificates of payments have been received, it was disclosed yesterday by Joseph L. Moss, director of the Cook county bureau of public welfare, who sent a letter of protest to James H. Andrews, state pension superintendent. None of the 50,000 Cook county applicants has as yet received any money.

Without explanation or investigation, Moss said, the state office reduced the recommended amounts by $4 to $1, so that the monthly payments to pensioners involved will be only $7 to $14 each. Mr. Moss declared the county bureau had followed the state office's budget in making up its recommendations.

"I believe that the individual recommendations were justified," he wrote to Andrews, "and therefore protest the reductions which will bring the grants below the amount necessary to the maintenance of a minimum standard of living."

LIQUOR MAKERS AID DEMOCRATS IN ISSUING BOOK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 11.—[Special.]—Twenty distillers and brewers kicked in approximately $80,000 to the Democratic national committee to help pay for the handsomely printed "National Democratic Convention Handbooks" which sell for $2.50 per copy to loyal Democrats, a report of the committee disclosed today.

The report, filed with the clerk of the house under the corrupt practices act, revealed that the committee has $299,000 in cash with which to start its presidential campaign as of May 1. The committee received $456,544 during the period from March 1 to May 31 and expended $384,775.

G. O. P. Report Filed Earlier.

The Republican committee report, filed Tuesday, showed $435,152 in contributions during the same period and expenditures totaling $571,549.

A separate report of the Democratic committee on its "convention handbook," a gaudy pamphlet, disclosed advance sales of advertising in the handbook totaling $302,550 and advance sales of copies totaling $33,734. The estimated cost of printing the handbook was placed at $178,700.

The leading distilling and brewing corporations of the country led in the purchase of advertising space in the pamphlet, it was revealed. Among the companies making such contributions and the amount handed over to the committee by each were the following:

Frankfort Distilleries, Louisville	$17,500
Calvert-Maryland Distilling Co., New York	2,500

Coughlin Report Filed.

The National Union for Social Justice, headed by the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin, radio priest of Detroit, filed a report showing that during the three months ending May 31 it received $190,749. For the first five months of 1936 the Union's receipts totaled $291,810 and expenditures totaled $281,733.

ELECTRIC RATES BOOST DELAYED BY I. C. C. ACTION

A proposed increase in the electric rates of the Commonwealth Edison company to offset the state 3 per cent sales tax will not go into effect tomorrow because the new rate schedule has been temporarily withdrawn by the company, Irvin Broks, chief counsel for the Illinois commerce commission, announced yesterday.

The postponement was made at the request of the commerce commission, which is now conducting a hearing on the Edison company rates.

The procedure now will be for the company to refile the higher schedule to go into effect in ten months unless a contrary ruling is issued by the commission, it was stated. The commission also has under advisement evidence taken in hearings on a petition of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company for authority to increase its rates to offset the sales tax. Unless the commission denies the petition, the new schedule of the gas company will go into effect automatically tomorrow.

Reopen Michigan Avenue at Roosevelt Road Today

The intersection of Roosevelt road and Michigan avenue will be reopened to trafic giving access to the Illinois Central railroad station, now that WPA asphalt resurfacing crews have moved southward, it was announced yesterday by Otto K. Jelinek, trafic engineer for the park district.

ENGLAND PUSHES PLAN TO ABOLISH BOYCOTT OF ITALY

Offers It to France for Approval.

PARIS, June 11.—(AP)—A British plan for the abolition of sanctions against Italy has been presented to the French government for its agreement, it became known tonight.

The plan, which diplomats said includes a general revision of the league of nations covenant, calls for the cancelation of sanctions on the ground they have failed to prevent the conquest of Ethiopia, and it now is impossible to use them to punish Italy.

Acknowledgment by the league of Ethiopia's new régime, however, would be made contingent upon Italy's willingness at Geneva to work out a definite status for the conquered nation.

Plan to Change Famous Article.

A revision of the covenant would include the changing of Article 16, which hitherto has made the application of sanctions obligatory for all members, it was said. Under the plan nations of the league would be divided into regional groups with an obligatory application of sanctions to be called for only in the region where an act of aggression occurred.

Diplomats said France's approval would mean that the plan would be submitted to the league assembly June 30 in the name of the council, which would be expected to adopt it as its own plan at its meeting before the assembly session.

The plan was said to have been presented orally to the new premier, Leon Blum.

Badoglio to Build Defenses.

ROME, June 11.—(AP)—Marshal Pietro Badoglio, 63 year old grizzled veteran of the world war and "conqueror of Ethiopia," was entrusted with another big task today—that of reorganizing all of Italy's defense forces.

Premier Mussolini returned Badoglio to his former duties as chief of the Italian general staf, Badoglio resigning as viceroy of Ethiopia.

Military sources said Badoglio would reorganize all military forces, including the army, the navy, and the air force.

Graziani Named Viceroy.

Marshal Rudolfo Graziani, "wolf of the south," was named viceroy of Ethiopia succeeding Badoglio and will continue in control there. He commanded Italy's southern army in the war against Ethiopia.

Fascists applauded the decision to keep Badoglio, their "hero of the African campaign," at home. Although easing of the tension between Italy and Great Britain has been felt, most Black Shirts considered Il Duce's move an alert one.

At the same time King Victor Emmanuel honored Badoglio by creating for him a new title—"duke of Addis Ababa."

GERMANY'S ECONOMIC CHIEF IN BELGRADE TO IRON OUT TRADE PACT

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BELGRADE, June 11.—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Germany's "economic dictator" and president of the Reichsbank, began his important Balkan tour this morning when he arrived by airplane from Vienna where he conferred with several Austrian business leaders.

Schacht was welcomed by the governor of the Jugo-Slav National bank. The Nazi minister of economics said his visit had no political significance. The governor of the Jugo-Slav National, however, said Schacht came to study certain questions connected with the payment of goods exchanged between Germany and Jugo-Slavia.

Schacht's visit, he said, concerned the intensification of trade between Germany and Jugo-Slavia which, in consequence of recent alterations in their commercial treaty—when Germany agreed to increase her quotas on Jugo-Slav goods—now put Germany at the head of the list of Jugo-Slavia's suppliers and customers.

Schacht saw Premier Stojadinovitch and had a long talk. He will be given an audience tomorrow by Regent Prince Paul.

MOTHER WINS IN LATEST ROUND OF FIGHT OVER BOY

David Lee Coslett, 6 years' old, whose divorced parents have been battling over his custody for four years, was turned over to his mother, Mrs. Blanche Coslett, 27 years old, 5145 Schubert avenue, by Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Superior court yesterday. The boy's father, Stanley Coslett, 35 years old, was taken to the county jail when he was unable to post $1,000 bond to guarantee he would not leave the state while he is in arrears on alimony.

Judge Desort returned the boy to Mrs. Coslett with the understanding that a permanent ruling on the custody will be entered June 18. David and his two brothers, James, 10 years' old, and Roger, 7 years' old, were awarded to Mrs. Coslett when she won a divorce in 1934.

Since 1932, when the Cosletts were first estranged, they have "kidnaped" their children from each other several times. In February, 1934, Coslett took his son, David, to his mother's home in Wilmington, O. The child was brought back recently.

GETS 30 YEARS FOR KIDNAPING 4 YEAR OLD GIRL

Paul Dickelman, 30 years old, 1834 Melrose street, was found guilty of kidnaping a 4 year old girl by a jury before Judge John J. Lupe in the Criminal court last night. The jury fixed his punishment at 30 years in prison. Dickelman was indicted on charges of rape and of kidnaping an infant, but the state elected to prosecute him on the abduction charge. Both charges carry similar penalties. Dickelman is a registered pharmacist and the father of a 3 year old boy.

CANTON REJECTS PLEA TO STOP ITS 'WAR' ON JAPAN

Threatens to Start Civil Conflict with Nanking.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, June 11.—The Cantonese government today rejected the peace appeals of Dictator Chiang Kai-shek of the Nanking government and served warning that the central government must take the responsibility if there is a civil war.

South China's leaders in Kwangsi and Kwangtung provinces attacked the Nanking government for refusing to unite in resistance to Japanese aggression in north China.

The Cantonese ironically requested Nanking to "designate the route for the northward march, to fix concentration points, and arrange for supplies of money, food, and munitions for the anti-Japanese expedition."

Rush Troops to Hankow.

A warlike atmosphere is evident at Hankow, where the railway leading from Changsha, capital of Hunan province, to Canton has suspended trafic except for troops and military equipment. Nanking is rushing the 43d central army division to Hankow from Kiangsi and Chiang Kai-shek is apparently determined to hold Hunan despite the wavering attitude of Gen. Ho Chien, provincial chairman.

Chiang also is concentrating a strong aviation armada at Hankow with the reported intention of bombing the Cantonese forces in the event that they venture north of Hengchow in Hunan province. Hengchow apparently still is in Nanking's hands, although the southern forces now are within gunshot of the city.

The Cantonese are using the town of Lokchong on the Canton-Hankow railway as a concentration point for men, munitions, and rolling stock.

Nanking Calls Troops.

The southerners charge that Nanking is calling a plenary session of the Kuomintang central committee on July 10 as a subterfuge to gain time and enable Chiang to recall troops from Kansu, Shansi, and other outlying points where they have been fighting communists.

The Japanese are reported to have ordered a fleet to Fukien ports. The Japanese lodged another strong protest at Nanking, warning of "grave consequences" in the event of a renewal of the anti-Japanese boycott.

DAUGHTER BORN HERE TO WIDOW OF DR. PEACOCK

Mrs. Ruth Peacock, widow of the slain physician, Dr. Silber C. Peacock, gave birth to a 7½ pound daughter in the Henrotin hospital early yesterday. The mother and baby are doing well, attendants said.

Mrs. Peacock, who is 35 years old, will return after 12 days to her home in Bowen, Ill., where she now resides with her other daughter, Betty Lou, 7 years old.

Dr. Peacock was slain last Jan. 2 after he had been lured from his home at 5555 Sheridan road by a fake telephone call and robbed. Four youths—Durland Nash, Robert Goethe, Emil Reck, and Michael Livingston—are now serving prison terms for the crime. Nash, Goethe, and Reck were sentenced to 199 years and Livingston to 30 years.

STRIKERS SHOT IN VENEZUELA RIOT; RADICALS JAILED

Troops Fight Workers in Caracas.

CARACAS, Venezuela, June 11.—(AP)—The new Venezuelan government, moving swiftly against a general strike inaugurated today by workers, threw the strike committee at Maracaibo into jail and there was shooting on streets here.

Wholesale arrests were made in the capital here and at Maracaibo, where workers in the huge oil industry participated in the walkout.

The strike was called to protest against a law before congress for suppression of extremists. Labor unions contend it is dictatorial and unconstitutional.

Call Situation "Ugly."

The situation at Maracaibo was described as "ugly" after the strike committee was arrested.

In fighting in a remote section of the capital an undetermined number of persons was wounded. A government spokesman said only a few were hurt. Patrols of soldiers and police roamed through the streets, firing into the air to disperse demonstrators.

Many known communists were taken into "protective custody" and other leftists went into hiding to escape arrest.

No Newspapers Published.

No newspapers were published here. The strikers are demanding the dismissal from government employ of all supporters of the late dictator, Juan Vicente Gomez.

Strikers there elected supplementary officers for their organizations to serve "in case of eventualities," taken as an indication the workers expect violence.

L. A. TASCHEREAU, QUEBEC PREMIER 16 YEARS, QUITS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., June 11.—Louis A. Taschereau, premier of Quebec for the last sixteen years, resigned today.

Adelard Godbout, minister of agriculture, was sworn in as premier immediately. He will lead the Liberal party, which has been in office for 38 years, at the elections Aug. 15. The party was returned to power last fall with a majority of only six, the smallest in history.

Conservatives and a young Liberal organization are expected to unite and form the opposition to the Liberal party at the August elections.

Stray Bullet Kills Boy in Street Fighting.

MADRID, June 11.—(AP)—The assassination of a high official of the province of Malaga and another slaying brought the total of dead in two days of fighting there, between syndicalists and communists to four tonight.

At the same time the four month old leftist national government, harassed by strikes and disorders, announced it had crushed a rightist movement in seven provinces.

Shot on Bridge.

Antonio Roman Reina, 62 years old, president of the Malaga provincial parliament and the province's leading Socialist, was assassinated as he crossed a bridge en route to the Parliament building. A companion, Rodrigo Lara Valejo, communist councillor, was attacked but escaped unhurt.

In a street battle Francisca Manzanares Cruz, 11 years old, was killed by a stray bullet.

Despite heavy police forces patrolling the streets of Malaga, sporadic fighting broke out and several persons were injured.

Franciso Llopis, Socialist parliamentary secretary of the national government, said rightists had plotted to revolt in seven sections—Madrid, Malaga, Saragossa, Navarra, Burgos, Seville, and Huesca—but the government squelched the movement.

Premier Acts to Stop Disorders.

Premier Santiago Casares Quiroga, determined to halt disorders, took over the forces of the ministry of the interior and ordered special precautions taken in Saragossa and Navarra provinces.

Authorities investigating the alleged smuggling of money from Spain promised today that Benjamin Fulgensi of Las Vegas, N. M., would be examined at once and "if his responses are satisfactory, he will be immediately released."

Fulgensi, assistant director of the Madrid branch of the International Banking corporation, an organization controled by the National City Bank of New York, was taken into custody yesterday for questioning regarding the alleged smuggling.

DIES PUSHING HAND CART.

Thomas Mackowiak, 76 years old, 1513 48th court, Cicero, died of heart disease yesterday while pushing a hand cart at 1523 South Cicero avenue in the suburb.

Mrs. Sarah Stafford of Waukegan Is 99 Today

Mrs. Sarah Stafford will celebrate her 99th brithday today in her home at 213 North Utica street, Waukegan. Mrs. Stafford went to Waukegan, then known as Little Fort, with her parents in 1837, when she was 6 months old. She has lived there ever since. Her husband, Joseph, a contractor, died 20 years old, and her two children are also dead.

Mate Still After Fortune, So Wife Wins Freedom

Mrs. Estelle Hansen, 30 years old, 1811 North Francisco avenue, testified yesterday before Judge Rudolph Desort of the Superior court that her husband, Edward, left her in 1929, telling her he was going to make a fortune in Florida. She has not heard from him since. Judge Desort granted her a divorce on a desertion charge.

DIPLOMA GIVING EXERCISES ARE IN FULL SWING

Summer Vacation Begins Today in City Schools.

Commencement week activities were in full swing yesterday in the universities and colleges in Chicago and in the city's elementary and high schools. At noon today the city schools will close for the summer vacation.

Commencement programs were held yesterday in two junior colleges, 28 high schools, and most of the 350 elementary schools in the city. The other public schools wil have exercises today and tomorrow and a total of 35,651 pupils will be graduated. They include 21,663 from elementary schools, 12,191 from high schools, and the remainder from junior colleges and vocational and evening schools.

N. U. TO GRADUATE 1,500

The 78th annual commencement exercises of Northwestern university will be held tomorrow afternoon at Dyche stadium, Evanston, where 1,510 students will be awarded degrees. The baccalaureate service will be at 7:30 this evening in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston.

Eight members of the senior class of Northwestern's law school—all living in the Chicago area—were elected yesterday to the Order of Coif, national law scholarship fraternity, at class day exercises in Lincoln hall on McKinlock campus.

Old Grads Reunite.

The four others were James E. S. Baker, 347 Maple avenue, Wilmette; George F. Dyche, 819 Michigan avenue, Evanston; Donald Graham, 840 Judson avenue, Evanston; and J. Dean Vail Jr. of Kenilworth.

Twenty-five physicans, graduates in the class of 1896 of the Northwestern medical school, gathered at the Palmer house last night to celebrate their fortieth reunion. Of sixty members of the class, forty-two are still alive and practicing medicine.

909 U. OF C. GRADUATES

Next Tuesday 909 students will receive degrees at the University of Chicago, 404 obtaining advanced degrees. Among those who will receive a bachelor of science degree will be Donald MacMurray, 21 years old, 5514 Blackstone avenue, whose home is in New York City.

MacMurray broke all records at the university by completing a four year course in one year. He passed his last examination—in psychology—yesterday. He expects to complete work for a master's degree this summer and receive it in August, when he will return to New York to study for a Ph. D. at Columbia university and get married.

Two Degrees on Same Day.

Another University of Chicago student, Henry Kelley, colored, 6421 Langley avenue, will receive a bachelor's degree and a master's degree on the same day. He spent only four years in acquiring both, majoring in English. He was an associate editor of the Daily Maroon.

The class of 1911 held its 25th reunion at the Hotel Sherman last night. The class of 1901 will hold its 35th reunion dinner tonight and then will join the reunion revue at Mandel hall on the campus at 9 p. m.

ARMOUR GRADUATES 713

Armour Institute of Technology held its fortieth commencement exercises yesterday afternoon. Willard E. Hotchkiss, president of the college, conferred 173 degrees on students, 10 of them higher degrees.

Lawrence A. Downs, president of the Illinois Central railroad, a member of the institute board of trustees, was the principal speaker. He declared that a knowledge of "team play," such as is learned in college, is a requisite in modern business.

HITS BOONDOGGLING

The commencement program of the Evanston High school was held yesterday. There were 698 members of the graduating class. The Rev. Hugh Elmer Brown, pastor of the First Congregational church, Evanston, was the speaker.

"I wish you not health, wealth, and happiness," Dr. Brown said, "but hardship, the seeing eye, and courage. The art of boondoggling is becoming widespread. It is a false idea that man does not have to work."

Diplomas were presented last night to 552 seniors at New Trier Township High school and to 275 at Maine Township High school.

FEDERAL SUBSIDIES FOR MOTHERS SEEN AS BIRTHS DECLINE

Prof. William F. Ogburn, University of Chicago sociologist, predicted yesterday that the declining national birth rate will induce the government to offer bonuses for babies within the next twenty years. He spoke at the university's alumni school, which is being held in connection with the annual reunion of graduates.

"The national birth rate has swung upward in the last two years," Prof. Ogburn said, "but the trend is apparently temporary and the result of improved economic conditions. The long term trend is downward, promising to bring about a stationary population in twenty-five years."

Before then, Prof. Ogburn predicted, motherhood will be subsidized by the United States government in much the same manner as it is now done in France. He said he also expected a further sharp increase in the number of employed married women and a continued decline in the importance of the family as a social unit.

The number of employed married women before the depression was one in every eight or nine, Prof. Ogburn said. He predicted that the ratio would increase to one in every four or five as economic recovery progresses.

GIRL, 12, IS SHOT ON RAIL TRACKS; SEIZE WATCHMAN

HELEN JAZDYK.

Helen Jazdyk, 12 years old, 4635 South Francisco avenue, was shot and critically wounded last night as she walked with two girl companions on the Grand Trunk railroad tracks at California avenue between 48th and 49th streets. Shortly after the shooting police seized George Luckett, 44 years old, colored, a watchman in a junkyard at 4850 South California avenue, who was named as the girl's assailant by John G. McCowan, 33 years old, 3025 West 47th street, another watchman. McCowan said he saw Luckett curse the girls and fire one shot at them as they passed the junkyard. The wounded girl was taken to the Southtown hospital. Her companions, Martha Grajek, 15 years old, and Anastasia Grajek, 14, 4640 South Mozart avenue, confirmed McCowan's story of the shooting.

Luckett, however, declared that McCowan and a woman companion were scuffling for possession of a pistol in McCowan's car, which was parked near by. Both watchmen and the woman, who refused to give her name, were held by police.

BANDITS GET BANK WITHDRAWAL.

Leonard Sadowski, 3642 George street, reported to police yesterday that three gunmen stopped him in an alley at 1137 Noble street and robbed him of $500 he had withdrawn from a bank.

VETERAN ASKS BONUS, BUT GETS A POLICE VISIT

Seized on Boston Charge of Leaving Family.

Martin G. Fallon, 44 years old, 9529 South Bishop street, was arrested yesterday at the request of the police of Boston, who have warants charging him with abandoning his wife and three children there in 1922.

Fallon, who was married in Chicago in 1926 and has two children, girls 6 and 8 years old, by his second wife, was traced through a bonus application filed with the government. He had requested that the bonus bonds, to the amount of about $500, be sent in care of Clarence A. Lincoln, 4256 Lowell avenue. The Boston police learned of this and suggested that Fallon might be at that address.

Ten Years with Phone Company.

Lincoln, who is an employé of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, told where Fallon could be found and the arrest followed.

"Fallon has been employed in the safety and first aid department of the telephone company for ten years," Lincoln said. "He told me he had been a student at Yale and Columbia universities and that he was a lieutenant in the army.

"In 1931 he asked if he could have his bonus check sent to my country home at Fox Lake, saying that he was having trouble with his wife and didn't want her to get the money. He got the check, all right. For the second instalment he made similar arrangements, asking that the bonds be sent to my home. He had asked me several times if an acknowledgment of his application had been received, and seemed worried when I told him it had not come."

Will Fight Extradition.

At the detective bureau the prisoner announced that he would fight extradition.

"I had some trouble with my wife in the east," he said, "and we parted. In 1926 I went back there to attend a funeral and was told that she had obtained a divorce. That's why I married again."

The Chicago Mrs. Fallon, who is a sister of Municipal Judge Joseph B. Hermes, and her relatives declined to comment on the charges.

Swell snaps—

Your old camera may have been a world-beater in its day, but that wasn't 1936. Give your skill a chance to grow with one of the new Kodaks. They're smart in looks—compact, smooth lines, easy to carry. You'll be proud to be seen out with one. And prouder of the pictures you bring back.

There's a 1936 Kodak at your price. See it—own it—use it this week-end. The snapshots you'll want tomorrow you must take today. Kodaks as low as $5; Brownies from $1 . . . at your dealer's . . . Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester, N. Y.

KODAK JUNIOR SIX-20 (f.6.3) $13.50

A lot for your money. Its fast f.6.3 lens lets you make snapshots on dull days—gives you greater picture range. 1/100-second shutter . . . eye-level finder . . . styled to "go places." Makes 2¼ x 3¼-inch pictures. Kodak Junior Six-16 (f.6.3)—$15.50. Makes large size pictures, 2½ x 4¼ inches.

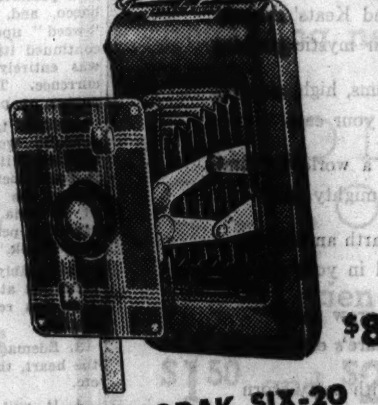
BABY BROWNIE

Under the sleek, molded case of this grand little picture maker is built the trustworthiness everybody associates with "Brownie." Has handy folding eye-level finder. The whole camera is about the size of a baseball—you could throw it a mile, but you'll want to keep it forever. Takes eight pictures, 1⅝ x 2½ inches.



$8

JIFFY KODAK SIX-20

SIX-16 BROWNIE JUNIOR

CINÉ-KODAK EIGHT

Gives you clear, brilliant movies at the touch of a button. Low in cost—but more important, it makes 20 to 30 movie scenes—each as long as the average newsreel scene—on a roll of film costing $2.25, finished, ready to show. Priceless movies at 10¢ a shot!

WOODSTOCK FAVORS THE SUPERHIGHWAY.

Resolutions requesting the city council of Chicago and the state legislature to speed the construction of an elevated highway system in Chicago have been voted at a series of meetings called by the Chicago Motor club in the metropolitan area. The latest action was taken a few days ago by a group of leading citizens of Woodstock. Previous meetings were held in Joliet, Dixon, De Kalb, Rockford, La Salle, and St. Charles.

Throughout the region the desire of motorists is to shorten the time required to reach the heart of Chicago. The construction of a superhighway system would be equivalent to moving the outlying communities twenty miles or more closer to the loop. Naturally their citizens desire this advantage. It will enable them to enjoy more fully the business and cultural opportunities which only a great city can offer.

Chicagoans have a comparable desire to shorten the trip into the outlying territory to enjoy its opportunities for rest and recreation. But that is only one reason why Chicago demands elevated highways. A far more important consideration than the saving of time is the saving of lives. Almost all of the motor accidents in Chicago take place at street intersections. The separation of the grades would go far to end the daily massacre.

Northern Illinois has always contributed by far the greater part of the funds for hard road construction in the state and has always received far less than its just share of the highways. The injustices perpetrated by the Small administration have been corrected only in part. The next great advance in the development of the state's highway system must be the building of modern, safe, convenient superhighways through the congested districts of Chicago.

A CHEAP TRICK THAT HAS FAILED.

It was a cheap and characteristic Tammany trick for the President to embark on a royal progress while the Republican convention is in session. The motive was obviously to take the front page and as much as possible of the broadcasting facilities away from the Republican proceedings. Apparently the scheme has failed, so far as the newspapers coming to our hands are concerned, and the consequence can hardly fail to be a loss of prestige and standing to both the President and his régime. Self-seeking politics, trickery, and unfairness are resented by the American people, regardless of party affiliation.

O, FATHER AND MOTHER PAY ALL THE BILLS.

—and we have all the fun. The time honored jingle is presumed to typify the college student's attitude toward life and, to a certain extent, that of the parents. The "goats" are supposed to be looking on with indulgence while their favorite offspring is having his fling at their expense. The time will come soon enough when the remittances must be stopped and the fledgling thrown on his own resources to make his way in the world and become a useful citizen. The weaning process is a little rough on the student at the time, but if the program is not followed the latent abilities in the youth will fail to develop and thus increase the ranks of the noncreative idle rich.

The citizens of the United States continue to send monthly checks to a similar problem child—our merchant marine. Its predecessors were of the self-reliant type, for in the last century they had achieved world eminence in the construction of fighting ships, the clippers, steel and steamships. The twentieth century model, however, was given an appetite for subsidies in world war construction as well as through excessive mail payments, and now has planned subsidized existence in perpetuity through the terms of the Copeland bill.

The United States has attained leadership in the manufacture of automobiles, farming implements, motorcycles, radios, sewing machines, and a host of other modern devices. These industries are able to pay wage scales on a parity with shipyards. When any question is raised as to the apparent contradiction the answer is invariably that Yankee ingenuity, plus skilled labor, has overbalanced the economies possible under lower living standards. But where are these characteristics in the shipbuilding industry? As long as subsidies are continued an anemic industry will continue. The voters know this and in the past have been overwhelmingly opposed to subventions.

The New Deal, however, is different. An outstanding characteristic is its subservience to organized minorities. The subsidy bill is before congress with good chances of passage. It is supported by an active lobby and President Roosevelt is said to be in favor of it, although he has not been very vocal on the subject. Perhaps this is understandable when it is considered that Vincent Astor, Kermit Roosevelt, et al., his erstwhile yachting cronies, will be among the principal beneficiaries.

THE NEW DEAL AND BEEF.

Cattle sold on Thursday at the stockyards at the average price of $7.60 per hundred pounds. This was $3 less than a year ago and the lowest in many months. That the price of beef on the hoof fluctuates daily because of varying supply and demand conditions is not a cause for wonder or alarm. As in the case of other commodities the price determining mechanism generates its own correction. On the supply side, advancing prices bring about an increase in breeding and feeding operations and eventually in the supply of cattle in the market. On the other hand, low prices discourage cattle feeders and breeders and serve to contract the future supply of beef. In the past the government has not interfered with these adjustments, and wide swings in prices were avoided. The New Deal has interfered twice with these mechanisms, and the result in both cases has been harmful for all parties concerned.

The beef supply last year by reason of the drouth would have been small. The available stock was made smaller as a result of the cattle buying and killing program carried on by the government in the fall of 1934 and the early months of 1935. The reduction of the available supplies coming into the regular markets raised the prices last year far beyond what they would otherwise have been. It would be hard to find a social justification for this accentuation of a shortage during a famine.

The government interference with the beef supply in 1936 has been equally unsocial, although it has been of a different sort. The marketing of cattle this year was bound to be larger than last year. The experts in the department of agriculture warned farmers last fall that prices would go down under the impact of increased breeding and feeding. But the government contribution has been anything but beneficial. With the certainty of a mounting domestic supply of cattle, the government entered into an agreement with Canada to admit Canadian cattle upon payment of a duty of $2 per hundredweight, instead of $3, the rate previously prevailing. As a result of this and other tarif concessions there has been a phenomenal increase in the importation of cattle into this country. The 130,948 head of foreign cattle in the first five months means about one pound for each man, woman, and child in the United States. In the year of a cattle glut the government has increased the excessive supplies by letting down the tarif bars.

Government planning is usually justified on the ground that it narrows the swings. New Deal planning of the beef supply has had the opposite effect. When prices were advancing the New Deal has reduced supplies and made for even higher prices. And when prices were declining the New Deal has managed to increase the supplies, resulting in even lower prices. The finest elocutionary efforts will not convince intelligent people that this has been in the interest of either cattle feeder or consumer.

EDWARD IN THE PICTORIALS.

King Edward's present day displays in the pictorials show a great deal of troop reviewing. The British army comes under the royal eye. As a bachelor king, Edward has put upon him nearly all of the ceremonials and exercises required to develop his personality and fit it into the regal tradition. His public must learn to know him as king. If there were a queen she could help at the orphan asylums, the homes for aged, and the more sanitary cottages in the dell. Edward without a queen must carry the whole show.

The army is getting particular attention because it is thought to need it, not to bring the present personnel up to the mark but to bring the British to a more favorable view of a larger establishment. There is the ancient British dislike and distrust of a large peace time force. The army should be small and charged with sacrifice.

Great Britain is rearming with great haste. The omens are not good. Friends are fickle, others are truculent, the times are troubled, and the future is dark. In the face of it the British resent, as well they might, a precariousness in which they think they have no responsibility and prospects which again may cause them grief without prospect of gain. Preparation for the next sacrifice a mad Europe may demand goes against the grain.

Edward cannot use the ritualistic imperialism of Mussolini and Hitler. The sacred seven hills of Rome are out of his vocabulary, as also is Siegfried. He cannot go Launceloting about. He can only inspect troops and furnish pictures without martial oratory.

THOUGHTLESS PACIFISTS.

[Illinois State Journal.]

The seeds of extreme pacifism sown in England have now come to fruit. Britain is unable to find recruits for its army, and the nation's defense forces lack some 59,000 men. The government is giving serious consideration to adopting military conscription.

The situation is an unusual one, characterized by a spirit of opposition to war which has gone so far as to lead young men to take the Oxford oath, a vow that binds them never to rise to their country's defense in any war.

The idealistic thought behind this pledge is that wars are made by stupid statesmen and greedy munitions manufacturers. Undoubtedly that is partially true, but the war cloud that hangs over Europe today comes from smoldering fires of hatred, ignited by dictators who oppose everything England stands for.

This unwillingness to bear arms contrasts strangely with the hearty reception given former Emperor Haile Selassie. The fugitive monarch was cheered by London crowds. They must not have realized that their beloved King Edward, too, may some day be forced to flee if they are not ready to defend their country.

War is the most terrible problem we have to solve, and it cannot be conjured out of existence by words. And terrible as it is, there still remain a few things more hideous. One of these is domination by foreign despots who menace civilization. Our American pacifists, as well as those in England, must give this serious thought.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

I WISH I could have been in the convention hall at Cleveland and heard Mr. Hoover deliver his great speech. It even sounded great over the radio, and Mr. Hoover's speeches didn't use to sound so especially good over the radio, but the man has changed. I helped in the thirty minute demonstration until the neighbors rapped on the wall in protest and also called the janitor. It reminded me of William Jennings Bryan's speech down at the Coliseum in Chicago. I heard that one, in which he used the phrase that set the convention mad: "You must not press down this crown of thorns upon the brow of labor; you must not crucify humanity upon a cross of gold." "Comparisons are odorous," as Mrs. Malaprop said, but just the same as I listened to Mr. Hoover the other night I couldn't help thinking back to the time when William Jennings Bryan drove a political convention half mad. But orators counted for more in the old days before the movies, the radio, and the machine age took the kick out of public speaking. If we heard William Jennings Bryan today say anything about pressing down the crown of thorns on the brow of labor or crucifying mankind on a cross of gold we would just murmur "baloney" and mix up another cocktail. That's why Mr. Hoover's speech the other night was the more wonderful; he made us enthusiastic over a speech when we're fed up on speeches.

AT THE SHORE.

Much shall be ours. Today be satisfied
To let the thought of me as lightly run
Across your mind as those soft ripples ride
The pebbles shining in the fading sun.

Keep your concern for me as thin and cool
As these few, favored grains of moistened sand
That you let slip between the beautiful,
White fingers of your outstretched, moving hand.

Yet, should your heart know want one instant—cry
My name. Love shall encircle you as tight
And firm as those great rocks that cut the sky . . .
As certain as the coming of new light.

THE CONVENTION at Cleveland seems to be evenly divided between the permanent chairman, the delegates, the audience, and the band on one side and William E. Borah on the other. And Mr. Borah seems to be holding up his half of the show without the slightest trouble.

"JOE LOUIS IN CONDITION to Step Into Ring with Schmeling."—Headline. But who cares? Unless Joe Louis or Schmeling is in condition to step into the ring with Landon or Roosevelt I don't care a snap about 'em. Who are they, anyhow, and how many delegates have they got pledged?

THEY'VE GOT an "Applause Indicator" at Cleveland to show how much enthusiasm any candiate registers. That thing should be in every home. Lots of husbands who think they are simply marvelous would be surprised after they've sneered at the toast and the coffee at breakfast to turn around and look at the applause indicator and find out they've registered twenty-five degrees below zero.

AND GLANCING DOWN the "News Summary" in the Trib. yesterday I noticed this headline: "Cubs Win Seventh in Row." Mercy! what are the Cubs? Oh, yes, it's a polo team or a football eleven or something like that. I wish the Cubs would keep off the first page until the Cleveland convention is over. I have a one track mind and Cubs don't mean anything to me right now. My mind is full of Alf Landon.

MR. HOOVER gave the Republicans a great message the other night when he said in effect that this was not a political campaign but a crusade. I would respectfully suggest that in place of "Three Long Years," a parody on "Three Blind Mice," the delegates at the convention sing "Onward, Christian Soldier."

LINES TO CALIBAN.

What to you, who blindly grope,
Are a poet's songs of hope?

Ayrshire's bard sang all in vain
If for you he hummed his strain;

Shelley's songs and Keats' dreams
Vainly throw their mystic gleams;

Wordsworth's poems, high, sincere,
Are as babble to your ear.

Shakespeare held a world in thrall,
Did you hear his mighty call?

He surmounted earth and time;
You, who reveled in your slime,

Saw a multitude grow tense
Hearing Shakespeare's eloquence;

Yet you turned with petty scorn
To the cave where you were born.

Poet's songs bring heaven to man—
Can't you hear them, Caliban?

GOOD HYGIENE VS. LAXATIVES.

IF physicians were limited to the medical knowledge possessed by the Greeks, recognition of hundreds of disease entities would escape them. Nevertheless, there are so many observations of value in ancient medical lore that one is astonished constantly at the soundness of the conclusions of many of the older writers.

More than 20 centuries ago Hippocrates [460-370 B. C.] said, "Persons in good health lose their strength by taking purgative medicines or using bad foods." Celsus [about 25 A. D.], a Roman physician, taught that "physic is not always good for the sick but it is always hurtful to the healthy."

Even in the period when laxatives and enemas were hailed as great "cleansers of the system." Cicero's physician condemned the use of purgatives and advocated baths and massage—kneading the abdomen gently. Emerging from the middle ages we find the dictum that proper habits and diets, plenty of fluids, and massage comprise the best treatment for chronic constipation.

Among the many causes of constipation habit is probably the most important. People who are "sitters" and not "doers," who eat too much, take too little exercise, and neglect the call when it comes, rarely fail to exhibit the symptoms. Again, a diet that is so stimulating that it brings on a spasm of the colon, or one that provides but little residue, are factors. The presence of hemorrhoids is sometimes the only obstacle to normal action of the bowel, inasmuch as pain serves as a deterring influence.

All too often, with the first sign of constipation, the individual will take a laxative. By repeating the process periodically he brings on the condition known as spastic colon, in which the large bowel is in a state of more or less constant contraction. A colon that is constantly whipped by some irritating drug will sooner or later get out of the habit of doing its work well.

We must recall that the wavelike affair which propels food onward in the intestinal tube occurs automatically without the knowledge or consent of the individual. There is no pain under normal conditions. The whole matter is regulated by the sympathetic nervous system, which in turn governs the muscle of the bowel. The small intestine gradually fills the colon and from the colon material passes to the rectum. Then follows stimulation of certain nerve centers that convey the message that emptying the reservoir is demanded.

In planning our attack we must make certain that there is no obstruction to the onward movement of the intestinal contents, such as tumors, foreign bodies, strictures, adhesions, kinks, or chronic contractions. Most cases — provided no disease exists—can be managed by the patient himself, observing good hygienic rules.

Foremost is the acquisition of good habits. This means establishing a regular toilet routine. A proper régime on arising would be 10 minutes of setting up exercises or walking in the open air. Inasmuch as the rectum is reasonably well filled from half an hour to an hour after breakfast, the impulse should be heeded faithfully. Hurry and nervousness should give way to calm, orderly procedure. The time of day set aside for emptying the bowel should be varied as little as possible from day to day.

If the bowel is lazy, a so-called laxative diet may be needed. This consists of whole fruit, particularly prunes, stewed rhubarb, pears, plums, and dates with breakfast food. Rather less than more food should be the rule, and no irritating roughage—taken merely for the purpose of creating bulk—should be added. Well cooked cellulose [vegetable fiber], however, such as is found in spinach, cauliflower, cabbage, beets, parsnips, celery, etc., may be used.

We must not forget the importance of massage, particularly of the abdominal muscles, and of supporting a dropped or pendulous abdomen. Colon irrigations are not recommended unless there is actual disease and even then they are often unsuitable.

Each case is a law unto itself and we must endeavor to disabuse the victim of the belief that he is certain to be poisoned if the "call of nature" does not come once or twice daily.

FALSE ANGINA.

Mrs. G. H. P. writes:

1. What causes false angina?
2. Is it all right for one with this trouble to drive a car?
3. What causes edema of the abdomen and the hands?
4. Will a salt free diet help?

1. The terms "false" angina and "pseudo" angina are used to describe pain in the chest that simulates angina pectoris. The symptom may be of neuralgic origin [intercostal neuralgia] or appear as the result of the excessive use of coffee, tea, or tobacco. The case is related of a celebrated heart specialist who made a self-diagnosis of angina pectoris. He was a heavy user of tobacco, and, knowing the influence of the "weed" upon so-called heart pain, he discontinued its use. Within a few weeks he was entirely free from pain, with no recurrence. This could well be called toxic angina or pseudo angina pectoris.

Another type of false angina occurs in neurotic women. The symptoms appear identical with true angina except that there is great mental excitement and restlessness during the attack. There are other signs of hysteria. In true angina the patient can't be persuaded to move a muscle—not even speak.

2. Possibly safe but not desirable if attacks are at all frequent. I cannot be sure that you refer to a "genuine" or a false angina.

3. Edema is a symptom of some disease of the heart, the kidneys, the liver, the thyroid, etc.

4. It will frequently. We have such a diet sheet, which will be sent on request accompanied by stamped, addressed envelope.

GALL BLADDER DIET.

A. C. R. writes. I am 33 years old and recently suffered a gall bladder attack.

1. What fruits may be eaten?
2. Is it all right to eat broiled steak?
3. How about light ale?

REPLY.

1. Apples, prunes, peaches, pears, apricots, and oranges.

2. The diet should be cholesterol free—that is, avoid egg yolk, cream, and fats. Starches and sugars should be limited; hence fruits requiring sugar and cream are best omitted. Lean steak broiled is allowed.

3. Alcohol in any form is unsuitable.

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

BY JAMES MADISON.

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

Terms for Congressmen.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 12, 1787.—In committee of the whole, Mr. Sherman and Mr. Ellsworth of Connecticut moved to fill the blank for the periods of electing members of the first branch with the words "every year." Mr. Rutledge of South Carolina proposed every two years. Mr. Jenifer of Maryland proposed every three years. Mr. Madison of Virginia seconded the motion for three years. Instability is one of the great vices of our republics to be remedied. One year will be almost consumed in preparing for and traveling to and from the seat of national business.

Mr. Gerry observed that the people of New England will never give up the point of national elections. They know of the transition made in England from triennial to septennial elections and will consider such an innovation here as the prelude to a like usurpation. Mr. Madison observed that if the opinions of the people were to be our guide it would be difficult to say what course we ought to take. No member of the convention could say what the opinions of his constituents were at this time. We ought to consider what was right and necessary for itself. Mr. Gerry repeated his opinion that it was necessary to consider what the people would approve. If the reasoning of Mr. Madison were just and we supposed a limited monarchy the best form in itself we ought to recommend it though the genius of the people was decidedly adverse to it and having no hereditary distinctions among us we were destitute of the essentials for such an innovation. On the question for the triennial election it was carried 7 ay, Connecticut, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Massachusetts no [Mr. King ay and Mr. Gorham wavering].

For the senate Mr. Madison considered seven years as a term by no means too long. What we wished was to give to the government that stability which was everywhere called for and which enemies of the republican form alleged to be inconsistent with its nature. His fear was that the popular branch would be still too great an overmatch for it. It was much to be lamented we had so little experience to guide us. On the question of seven years it was agreed to by eight states. Connecticut no, Massachusetts, Mr. King and Mr. Gorham ay, Mr. Gerry and Mr. Strong no; New York divided. It was moved and agreed to postpone the resolution relating to the judiciary. The committee then rose and the house adjourned.

Q.—What was the "dead chicken" case?

A.—This is the same as the Schechter case, in which the Supreme court found the NRA unconstitutional.

Q.—What is meant by the "Little NRA"?

A.—This refers to the Guffey coal bill, which establishes the principles of NRA in the local business.

TAXES AS GOADS TO ACTION.

Chicago, June 6.—The passage of another huge tax bill makes me wonder how many people remember that our war of independence was started by ruthless taxation; that the French revolution grew out of the anger of people whose every penny went for taxes; that since the beginning of time honest men have refused to pay for the right to buy food and clothing in order to provide luxuries for the shiftless members of society.

C. PRATHER.

ALTERNATIVE TO STREET WIDENING.

Chicago, June 6.—What are our city fathers thinking of anyway? Speed and more speed for motorists, I'd say! Pedestrians can go to—the hospitals or the morgue!

Proof? In my corner of the city alone, they're widening Irving Park boulevard, Crawford avenue and Elston avenue, cutting sidewalks down to a few feet for pedestrians, scooters, baby buggies, bicycles, etc. What chance have we?

May a mere citizen suggest as my solution [1] leaving streets and sidewalks a reasonable width, [2] keep pavements in repair, [3] eliminate all parking on all car lines, [4] city purchase vacant property for free [or 5 or 10 cent] public parking places?

I'm sure it would be cheaper and for the greatest good to the greatest number.

TOLERANCE.

Chicago, June 7.—I see by THE TRIBUNE of June 6 that Mr. Allen, president of the district board of education [Maywood], decided to allow Beverly Buffington to graduate, although her religious convictions would not let her salute the flag. I wish to commend Mr. Allen highly for his broad-minded and liberal viewpoint. It is, as Beverly said, a personal matter—"We don't expect other people to understand . . . but I have to stand up for what I believe in." It seems to me that Mr. Allen's position regarding this matter represents the true American tradition—liberty and tolerance for every citizen as long as the exercise thereof doesn't interfere with liberty and tolerance of others. Would not such conscientious devotion toward God be indicative of the patriotism that would also be shown our country?

WILLARD FESSLER.

PORTRAIT OF A LOAFER.

Chicago, May 28.—I know of one man who was a faithful worker until the depression struck him. Now he doesn't want to work. He lies around the house all day and makes his wife go to work to support him, and she works every day. He is what they call a good-for-nothing loafer. There are thousands just like him.

JOSEPH DE FREY.

BURNED UP.

Chicago, June 8.—It positively burns me up to see twenty or thirty men with shovels and rakes stand on a vacant lot, spit in their hands and lean on the handles discussing the weather. By and by the men with the rakes begin leveling the ground and pull a few weeds. Soon one of them starts digging a hole in the center of the lot until he reaches sand. Then the rest of the "workmen" carry sand and spread it over the lot. What for? For the wind to carry it into the adjacent houses and into the eyes of passing pedestrians. If they would be set to work cleaning the filthy alleys and streets they would be doing something constructive. Get going, fellows.

M. MERKLE.

THE TICKET.

Chicago, June 8.—With reference to the "Perfect Thirty-six" cartoon I am of the opinion that if Gov. Landon, otherwise known as the "Kansas Coolidge," is not the Republican nominee we shall have to contend with Roosevelt for four more years, therefore making me skeptical of the outcome of our good country.

With Landon and Vandenberg we have an excellent chance to win.

HANDLING ESTATE.

Chicago, June 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother died in 1932. 1. Mother appointed an administrator for the estate, which is in Indiana, and as he is spending the rent money as fast as he takes it in on the building [2] the heirs would like to change the administrator. 3. Can you give me any advice regarding Indiana laws? 4. Can you tell me what procedure we would have to take to have the administrator removed and turned over to one of the family who lives in Illinois? 5. Would we have to petition the court with all signatures signed to petition, or the biggest majority?

W. P.

1. A personal representative named in a will is called an executor rather than an administrator.
2. The powers of the executor would depend on the wording of the will. In order to displace the executor, you would have to make a strong showing to the judge of the Probate court. We do not have the facts before us to determine the propriety of his expenditures.

NEW HEAD OF BAR ASSAILS JUDGES' HAND IN POLITICS

Chas. M. Thomson Takes President's Chair.

Officers of the Chicago Bar association who were elected Wednesday for the ensuing year were inducted into office at the annual dinner and meeting of the association in its quarters at 160 North La Salle street last night.

Attorney Charles M. Thomson, who was installed as president to succeed Herbert M. Lautmann, gave an inaugural talk in which he criticized judges who participate in politics and assailed lawyers who make a practice of defending habitual criminals. Mr. Thomson is a former judge of the Circuit court.

Plea for a Dignified Bench.

Referring to the canons of judicial ethics of the American Bar association, he said: "The judge who makes a habit of engaging in partisan politics is seriously damaging the honor and dignity of the profession of law and the dignity of the bench."

He reviewed the recent controversy between the Circuit and Superior judges and the bar association over the question of participation in politics, and asserted that most of the judges wished to keep out of politics.

"However," he went on, "there are some who want to be active in politics in spite of the canons of judicial ethics, and for these we shall continue to exercise our rights and fulfill our duty to criticize and condemn their political activities so long as they are continued."

Raps "Tricks" to Aid Guilty.

Concerning the criminal lawyer who "resorts to every sleight of hand trick to free a defendant whom he knows is guilty," Mr. Thomson said:

"This situation presents a problem which has great difficulties. I hope we are not so weak as to desert the high traditions of our profession and our own declarations of intentions as set out in our by-laws as an association of members of that profession, by failing to make a real and a persistent and continued effort to put to an end this condition."

JOHN HOULIHAN NEARLY DROWNS IN BATH FALL

Omaha, Neb., June 11.—[Special.]—John T. Houlihan, 30, Chicago attorney, was in a serious condition here today after narrowly escaping death by drowning in a bathtub last night at the Omaha home of a cousin, James Regan.

Houlihan apparently slipped in the tub, struck his head, and plunged unconscious into the water. He was found lying face down in about six inches of water.

A fire department inhalator crew was called and tried vainly for half an hour to revive him. Police then took him to a hospital, where he regained consciousness. Police Surgeon N. H. Attwood said the attorney suffered a brain concussion.

Houlihan lives at 4720 South Union avenue in Chicago and has law offices at 30 North La Salle street in that city. His brother and sister were on their way here by plane to take the attorney back to Chicago.

Mrs. Helen Lindquist Hammond, 21 years old, 2250 Adams stret, was sent to the county jail yesterday to await trial for bigamy when she told Judge Justin F. McCarthy in the Racine avenue court that she would not live with either of her husbands. Mrs. Hammond married Arthur Lindquist, 4416 North Damen avenue, in 1933 and deserted him last February. In April she married Frank Hammond.

DIAMOND DEMAND GROWING; RISE IN PRICE PREDICTED

Chicago Experts Find London Market Firm.

Leading diamond merchants in Chicago predicted yesterday that as a result of improved demand for precious stones in America and a strengthening of values in European markets, a further gradual increase in prices can be expected in the near future. They said the diamond prices have improved moderately since the low point of the depression and that "distress" stocks of stones, which deluged the trade in 1931 and 1932, have been liquidated and imports are steadily increasing.

Frederick M. Gottlieb, an importer of diamonds who makes several trips to Europe each year, said that while there have been no spectacular rise in prices of precious stones in America in the last two years, values have risen with the prices of other commodities and the market is now in the best condition since 1929.

Advance in Prices Coming.

W. J. Buffington, official of a large jewelry concern who has just returned from a two months' trip to the diamond markets of Europe, reported a similar situation. The London market, center of the world diamond trade, is strengthening, he said, and the diamond syndicate there is considering advancing prices.

The Diamond Corporation of London, Mr. Buffington said, is an amalgamation of producers who control 90 per cent of the world's output of diamonds. A representative of the corporation, he said, made the statement that America, directly or indirectly, takes 75 per cent of the corporation's output. He added that approximately half of the world output is used for industrial purposes such as making diamond drills.

Scoffs at N. Y. Reports.

The Chicago experts ridiculed reports from New York that diamond prices are advancing daily as a result of the shrinkage of supplies of stones in pawnbrakers' hands. A New York report yesterday was that "pawnbrokers' offerings make the New York market, and the New York market makes the American market." The American market, the experts said, follows the European market.

The opinion of dealers here is that prices of diamonds today are 10 to 20 per cent above those prevailing in 1933, but are still 30 to 50 per cent below those of eight or ten years ago.

60 WOMEN STRICKEN BY BLINDNESS; START REDUCING DRUG QUIZ

Los Angeles, Cal., June 11.—[Special.]—Sixty women have been stricken with blindness or are going blind in Los Angeles, in the last two weeks, apparently victims of some mysterious malady or drug, Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, city health officer, declared today.

He assigned eight men to investigate the cases and to interview the women's doctors. The sudden surge of cases was too great to be a coincidence, Dr. Pomeroy said.

A drug used in certain preparations for reducing might be the cause of blindness in some of these cases, the health officer said. This drug was outlawed for use in reducing by the last California legislature, following discovery that women in the San Francisco vicinity had gone blind last September, he stated. He said the records did not show blindness cases among men.

The investigators are checking all drugs and foods used by the sixty women.

"The situation is serious and the cause must be discovered promptly and eradicated," Dr. Pomeroy said.

LIFT QUARANTINE IN LAKE FOREST PARALYSIS CASES

Quarantines on the Lake Forest homes of Volney Foster and Leslie Wheeler were lifted yesterday by William Paape, health officer of the suburb. Foster's son George, 17 years old, was exposed to infantile paralysis in a Massachusetts preparatory school, and Wheeler's sons, Harry, 18 years old, and Leslie Jr., 16, were exposed to the disease at a country club.

The Foster home is at 335 North Green Bay road and the Wheeler home is at 20 South Mayflower road. Paape said he will lift the quarantine next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. D. M. Ryerson, 261 North Mayflower road, Lake Forest. Anthony Ryerson, 17 years old, was exposed to the disease.

At the A. Watson Armour estate, 900 North Waukegan road, Lake Forest, where a similar quarantine is in effect, Charles Armour, 15 years old, was reported recovering from the disease. Philip D. Armour IV., whose home is on Green Bay road in Lake Bluff, is being treated for the disease at the Passavant hospital.

GIRL PLACED ON PROBATION.

Miss Leona Ostrowski, 19 years old, arrested at 1304 Cornell street with an $800 ring belonging to Mrs. Alex Weinberg, 5729 Bernard street, was placed on three months' probation on a charge of petty larceny by Judge Matthew D. Hartigan yesterday.

M'KINLEY SLATED AS NEXT HEAD OF CRIMINAL COURT

The judges of the Superior and Circuit courts will meet in the County building today to elect a chief justice of the Criminal court for the coming year, beginning Sept. 7. It was reported yesterday that Judge Michael L. McKinley, who is now chief justice of the Superior court, has been agreed on to head the Criminal court and it is expected he will be elected unanimously.

The Superior and Circuit courts alternate annually in supplying the chief justice of the Criminal court. This year it is the Superior court's turn. Judge D. J. Normoyle of the Circuit court has headed the Criminal court for the last year.

It was learned that three other Superior court judges—Rudolph Desort, Robert G. O'Connell, and Peter Schwaba—will be assigned to the Criminal court with Judge McKinley. The Circuit court judges have not yet named their three members who will sit in the Criminal court.

Officials of West Suburbs Plead for Rail Transfers

Officials of the villages of Oak Park and Berwyn yesterday advocated the interchange of transfers between the Chicago and West Towns railway and the elevated lines at a hearing before the Illinois commerce commission. The hearing was on the petition of several west suburbs that the commission order the joint transfer arrangement. The hearing will be resumed June 23.

FINLAND TO MAKE PAYMENT ON WAR DEBT WHEN DUE

Other Nations Expected to Default Again.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 11.—[Special.]—Finland notified the United States today that its regular semi-annual war debt payment of $164,315 would be met on June 15. The little republic is the only nation that has not defaulted on obligations to this country.

All of the other debtor nations that have payments due on June 15 were expected to default. Great Britain, with a payment of $85,670,765, and Italy, with a due instalment of $15,641,593, have already told Uncle Sam through diplomatic channels that they would not pay. Another large payment due is that of France in the amount of $74787,725. The total in instalments due June 15, exclusive of Finland, is $193,789,036.

More Than Billion in Default.

Of the twelve and a half billions in war debts owed to the United States by more than a dozen foreign nations a total of $1,160,122,766 will be in default on June 15. This includes the regular semi-annual instalments plus the amount previously in arrears.

Finland's notification was sent to Secretary of State Cordell Hull by Dr. Siguard Von Numers of the Finnish legation in Washington. The note read as follows:

"Referring to your excellency's note of May 19 transmitting statement of amounts due and payable on June 15 by the Finnish government to the government of the United States, I have the honor to inform you that the amounts will be paid on the said date."

Watch European Situation.

Possible settlement of the war debt problem has been discussed only sporadically in this session of congress. Officials here were looking hopefully toward factors in Europe to force a change in the stand taken by foreign governments.

Although Premier Blum of France voted in 1932 for default on the French debt to the United States, Paris newspapers have suggested recently that he is anxious to wipe France off the list of debt defaulters, which are banned by statute from floating new American loans.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Busy Days Afield.

June 11, 1936.

ALL hands are kept busy early and late on the Tribune farms nowadays. With corn to cultivate, soy beans to plant, alfalfa to be cut and made into hay, and cattle to be fed, it is one of the busiest times of the year.

Soy beans were planted at the Yorkville farm this week. Twenty-five acres of the Illini variety have been planted for hay. The beans were broadcast at the rate of two bushels per acre in a field where corn was grown last year. The stalks were cut up with a disk before the ground was plowed with tractor drawn gangs. The ground was hard and had to be plowed fairly deep to reach enough moisture to sprout the beans. The beans were inocculated before they were sown.

More Steers Sold.

The steers on feed at the Yorkville farm gradually are being marketed. Twenty head of the Herefords were sold this week on the Chicago market. They brought $7.85 a hundred, averaging 1,051 pounds. The steers weighed a total of 21,020 pounds and brought a total of $1,591.98 after transportation costs of $31.52 and terminal marketing costs of $26.57 had been deducted. The steers were from lot No. 1; 20 head still are left in this group. There is a total of 181 head out of the original herd of 426 on feed at the farm.

Oats Pushing Ahead.

Oats straw is expected to be short this year in contrast to the rank growing crops that resulted in heavy losses from lodging last year. Heads are beginning to form in the fields at the Wheaton farm. It is too early to estimate the yield.

Contest Holiday.

Saturday, June 20, has been declared a holiday for the Yorkville farm men who are planning to attend the second annual Tribune horse and mule pulling contest which is to be held that day at the Wheaton farm. Clarence Thurow, manager of the Yorkville farm, and his brother, Louis Thurow, have been appointed official timekeepers of the contest.

All farmers and city team owners who are planning to compete in this year's contest must have their entries mailed not later than midnight Saturday. There is no charge for entering the contest. Clip and fill out the coupon or entry blank on this page and mail it before midnight Saturday to the Agricultural Editor, Chicago Tribune.

ROOSEVELT TALK MADE ON FIELD OF SAN JACINTO

Train Carries Him on to San Antonio.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD PRESIDENTIAL TRAIN ENROUTE TO DALLAS, TEX., June 11.—[Special.]—Under a broiling sun and in front of the six flags which have flown over Texas, President Roosevelt today offered homage to the pioneers of the southwest on the battlefield of San Jacinto where Texas won independence from Mexico.

From San Jacinto, where he reiterated his oft expressed hope that Americans by example will help to maintain peace in the world, the President was carried on to San Antonio to visit the shrine of Texas, the Alamo. There he placed a wreath in tribute to Travis, Bowie, Crockett and Bonham and their 132 companions who died to a man in withstanding a seige against terrific odds.

Praises Garner at Austin.

After the Alamo, Mr. Roosevelt went to the state capitol at Austin where in a platform appearance he said of Vice President Garner: "Not only I but the whole nation owes a special debt—to one who began his long and distinguished public career as a member of your legislature here in Austin—one whom I proudly and affectionately call my helpmate—the Vice President of the United States."

Mr. Roosevelt arrived at Houston at 10:30 a. m. Chicago time from Little Rock, Ark., where he challenged Republicans last night. He drove through streets lined by an estimated crowd of 300,000 persons to a dock where he boarded a yacht. For an hour and a half he cruised down a channel to San Jacinto. There he sat in his car before the Spanish, French, Mexican, Texas Republic, Confederate and United States flags.

At his side was Col. Andrew Jackson Houston, venerable son of the Texas liberator, Sam Houston. Mr. Roosevelt recalled that his father had known Col. Houston's father.

From the battlefield he drove to Deer Park, where he boarded his train for San Antonio.

"I cannot help but feel that the brave men who died here saw on the distant horizon some forecast of the century beyond," he said at the Alamo. "I hope they know we have not discarded or lost the virility and the ideals of the pioneer. I hope they know that the overwhelming majority of the Americans of 1936 are once more meeting new problems with new courage— that we, too, are willing and ready to stand up and fight for truth against falsehood, for freedom of the individual against license of the few."

Talks from Car Platform.

At Austin Mr. Roosevelt did not leave the train but delivered his talk from the platform of his private car. Late at night his train continued on to the state's centennial capitol, Dallas where he will deliver the second major address of the tour, in which he again may take up political cudgels in defense of the New Deal.

ROOSEVELT AND MATE TO ACCEPT AT SAME TIME

Philadelphia, Pa., June 11.—[Special.]—The Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees will make their acceptance speeches at the same ceremony on Franklin field the night of June 27, it was announced today.

This will mark a precedent in American political history, according to W. Forbes Morgan, secretary of the Democratic national committee, who made the plan known following a conference.

Mr. Morgan said the ceremony would start at 8 p. m.

The Cocktail that drained the Shaker

Fleischmann's Gin is distilled especially to the American taste that gave the world the cocktail. It brings out the subtle flavors of Vermouth, fruit juices, and other ingredients—never overpowers them.

DISTILLED FROM AMERICAN GRAIN. Fleischmann's Gin is always uniform. Fleischmann controls every step in its manufacture, from the grain to the finished bottle.

Next time, try Fleischmann's Gin. When the party's over, you'll find your shaker empty—and your reputation as a host enhanced.

Does your Jaw say "I am hard to Please?"

How to find out a person's character by looking closely at his face.

Eyes that watch pennies
Rather small and long; very little white of eye visible. Lower lids slightly crinkled. Glance steady, calculating. Eyes indicating a wise investor, a sound buyer.

Lips that delight in fine dining and wining
Upper lip thin . . . lower full but not permitted to droop. Lips of one endowed with a sensitive taste, a keen enjoyment of life's luxuries . . . but with the will-power which prevents over-indulgence.

A Jaw that says, "I am hard to please"
Jaw conspicuous, well-formed, heavy and angular, but slender and refined. The solid jaw of a man not too easy to please.

JUDGE GORMAN JAILS WOMAN HIT-RUN DRIVER

Ten Others Sentenced in Safety Drive.

Mrs. Mary Lee Norris, 23 years old, 3744 North Sawyer avenue, was sentenced to three days in the county jail yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman of the Safety court. She was the third woman sent to a cell by Judge Gorman since he assumed charge of the Safety court on May 4 and began a campaign against drunk driving, reckless driving, and hit and run driving.

Mrs. Norris, arrested and brought into court under the name of "Mary Smith," which she gave to the police, was charged with leaving the scene of an accident in which Mrs. Paul Langoch, 1647 Julian street, was injured. Their cars collided at Kimball avenue and Addison street a week ago.

Alderman Loses Plea.

Ten other motorists were sentenced to jail by Judge Gorman during the day, one of them in spite of the plea of Ald. Frank E. Konkowski [26th].

James Mack, 28 years old, 1045 West Huron street, a truck driver for whom the alderman appealed, got a five day sentence. Motorists chased and caught him after his truck collided with an automobile at Ogden and Western avenues on June 4.

"This is a hit and run case," Judge Gorman told the alderman. "I'm here to stop that kind of driving. You may be the next victim."

Others Get Sentences.

James Fritsch, 22 years old, of Lansing, Mich., a sign painter. Five days for reckless driving which resulted in his car's striking two parked machines at 62d street and Indiana avenue.

Tony Westmoreland, 22 years old, colored, 4032 Michigan avenue. Three days for causing a collision at 53d street and Dorchester avenue while delivering a customer's car for the garage that employs him.

Norbert Hergenroeder, 22 years old, 2951 Haynes court, a truck driver. Three days for failure to stop after his truck struck an automobile at 89th street and Dauphin avenue.

David Burkholder, 33 years old, 823 Edgecomb place, a WPA worker. Ten days for drunk driving at Irving Park boulevard and Broadway, where police arrested him and found he was driving without shoes.

Rudolph Kubicki, 24 years old, 4538 South Whipple street. Three days for reckless driving, a charge growing out of a collision at Archer and Cicero avenues.

Leo Dircks, 35 years old, of Columbus Junction, Ia., a truck driver. Five days for recklessness which resulted in a crash at 35th and State streets.

Theodore Moss, 27 years old, colored, 1151 Washburne avenue, three days for leaving the scene of an accident.

Harry W. Gahagan, 36 years old, 5555 Sheridan road, real estate operator and manufacturer, was arraigned before Judge Gorman on a drunk driving charge that followed a two mile chase by the police through Lincoln park on June 2. He asked for a jury trial and his case was assigned to Judge Charles S. Dougherty for a hearing on June 23.

REPORT 100,000 LIVES LOST IN 1935 ACCIDENTS

Accidents cost 100,000 lives and caused injuries to 9,340,000 other persons in the United States during 1935, the National Safety council reported yesterday. The council estimated the cost of all accidents for the year at $3,450,000,000—about $27 for each resident of the nation.

Trafic fatalities totaled 37,000, a new all time record, the report said. Motor vehicle accidents also permanently disabled 105,000 persons and temporarily disables 1,180,000 others during the year.

The second largest block of accidental deaths occurred in homes, where 31,500 persons were killed and 140,000 permanently disabled, the report said. Public accidents, including drownings, burns, firearms mishaps, and others, took 18,000 lives. Deaths in occupational accidents totaled 16,500.

HURLS HIMSELF BENEATH TRAIN; LOSES BOTH LEGS

Jack Besterfeldt, 43 years old, 2527 South Millard avenue, jumped under the wheels of a freight train in the yards near Cermak road and Sangamon streets early today. Both his legs were cut off.

Taken to the county hospital, where his chances for life were considered slight, Besterfeldt gave a brief explanation.

"I tried to kill myself," he said. "Remorse made me try suicide. Something I did not so long ago caused a heartache for a friend and I didn't think I wanted to live any longer."

2 WPA WORKERS ON OUTING KILLED AS CAR HITS TREE

Empty Liquor Bottles Are Found in Auto.

Two men were killed and two others were critically injured early last evening when the automobile in which they were riding ran off Rand road two miles north of Wauconda in Lake county and crashed into a tree.

The dead were Carl Thurson, 50 years old, 4020 North Troy street, and William Stinson, 39 years old, 2927 Clybourn avenue. The seriously injured, who were taken to the Condell Memorial hospital in Libertyville, are John McGuire, 36 years old, 3345 North Kedzie avenue, and Joseph Tobin, 37 year sold, 3972 Elston avenue. Roy Olson, 42 years old, 4239 North Albany avenue, was also a passenger in the car but suffered only slight injuries.

Find Liquor Bottles in Car.

The five men were all employed on a WPA project in Evanston and had used a day off for a trip to Round lake in McGuire's car. They were on their way home when the accident occurred. At the hospital Dr. J. A. Ross, attending physician, said that all of the injured had been drinking.

Peter Poulous, 5 years old, was killed last night when he was struck by a truck as he played in front of his home at 7204 South Paulina street. He was dead when taken to the Holy Cross hospital by the truck driver, James King, 1725 West 67th street. King was held by the police.

David McKown, 29 years old, 6643 Greenwood avenue, a salesman, was killed early today when the automobile in which he was riding collided with another driven by Henry Booth, 2527 East 76th street, at Stony Island avenue and 75th street. Booth was only slightly hurt.

Boy Killed Under Truck.

Frank Milota, 13 years old, 2738 North Central Park avenue, was killed yesterday when he fell from the cab of a truck in a coal yard at 1905 North Mobile avenue and was run over by one of the wheels. Bernard DeMares, 23 years old, 2846 North Hamlin avenue, the driver, was released.

Harry Husing, 24 years old, 1631 Euclid avenue, Chicago Heights, died in St. James hospital yesterday of injuries received when the automobile in which he was riding overturned at Chicago and Joe Orr roads in Chicago Heights Wednesday night. Theodore Jankowski, 20 years old, of Phoenix, driver of the car, was fatally injured.

Edward Johnston, 40 years old, 1950 Howe street, a WPA watchman at the Montrose avenue beach, was arrested by the Hudson avenue police yesterday and confessed that he is the motorist who fled on Wednesday after leaving a boy his automobile had injured at the entrance of St. Joseph hospital. He was booked on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was held pending the outcome of the boy's injuries.

The victim is Albert Jourdan, 10 years old, 728 Fair place, who was struck while playing in front of 735 Rees street. He suffered internal injuries.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 439 persons had been killed in motor vehicle accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to figures from the coroner's office. In the same period 343 were killed and 7,296 injured within the Chicago city limits.

HIJACKERS GET 2 YEARS; FENCES ARE HARDER HIT

Two men who acted as fences, helping hijackers dispose of their loot from an interstate truck shipment, were sentenced to longer prison terms than the hijackers themselves by Judge Walter C. Lindley in federal court yesterday.

The fences, each of whom was sentenced to three years in the Leavenworth penitentiary, are Fred Horner, 46 years old, a butcher at 7164 Grand avenue, and Peter Sharkey, 46 years old, owner of a tavern at 6712 Grand avenue.

The hijackers, who were sentenced to two year terms, are Burt Anderson, 40 years old, and Louis Smith, both of 3613 Armitage avenue, and William Mahoney, 32, of 1022 Oakdale avenue.

NEW YORK BODY WANTS LEHMAN TO RECONSIDER

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Several hundred business and professional men and women, civic leaders, and social welfare workers representing many parts of the state have formed an independent committee to urge Gov. Herbert Lehman to reconsider his decision not to be a candidate again this year, it was learned today.

Headquarters have been opened and local committees are being extended here and in upstate cities and towns. The new organization is known as the Citizens' Committee for Lehman.

When the complete committee is formed a conference will be held to formulate an appeal to the governor.

Political observers have considered Gov. Lehman's refusal to run for a third term a distinct blow to New Deal chances in the state in the November election.

"THEY'RE TOPS WITH ME!" ... "Congratulations!" Every day the letters pile in — unsolicited — from women who have gone wild about those marvelous new Fels-Naptha Soap CHIPS. They're the chips women have wanted for years — the first and only chips to hold real naptha!

AND IF YOU LIKE WINNING HANDS — be sure to do your dishes, too, with Fels-Naptha Soap CHIPS. They speed the job — make china and glassware gleam. Yet these brand new chips are wonderfully kind to hands because they hold soothing glycerine—the beauty ingredient of many costly hand-lotions.

TWO WORK FASTER! To make your washdays speedier — use Fels-Naptha Soap CHIPS — and get two cleaners instead of one. Real naptha blended into curly chips of richer, golden soap!

YOU'LL GET A GRAND KICK when you see how lovely and new Fels-Naptha Soap CHIPS keep your nicest undies and sheerest stockings. They're milder chips—full of naptha. And your own dry cleaner will tell you that naptha is so gentle it's used for cleaning the most delicate fabrics.

"CLOTHES LOOK SO BRIGHT you'd think I dropped the sun in my washing machine," says another letter. See what a difference Fels-Naptha Soap CHIPS make! See how much cleaner and whiter their full-of-naptha suds get your clothes!

THEY'LL WIN YOU IN A JIFFY!
THE FIRST AND ONLY CHIPS TO HOLD REAL NAPTHA!

Time them—you never got through so fast before! You never saw a whiter, sweeter-smelling wash!

And the reason is simple. These crinkly CURLS are the first and only chips to bring you richer, golden soap and lots of naptha. They dissolve quickly and completely. No "sneezy" dust to hurt your nose!

See the box—it's different, too. A handy new pouring-spout in the top. Open it—pour out what you want—shut it again. No spilling or waste—no messy soap-spots on the floor—no raggedy edges to make the box look untidy.

You've always wanted chips like these—don't get along without them another day! Ask your grocer for Fels-Naptha Soap CHIPS and discover the easiest washdays of your life! These wonder-working CHIPS are made by the makers of the famous golden bar, Fels-Naptha Soap.

Make use of our convenient budget plan of buying home-furnishings. We will be glad to discuss the matter with you at any time.

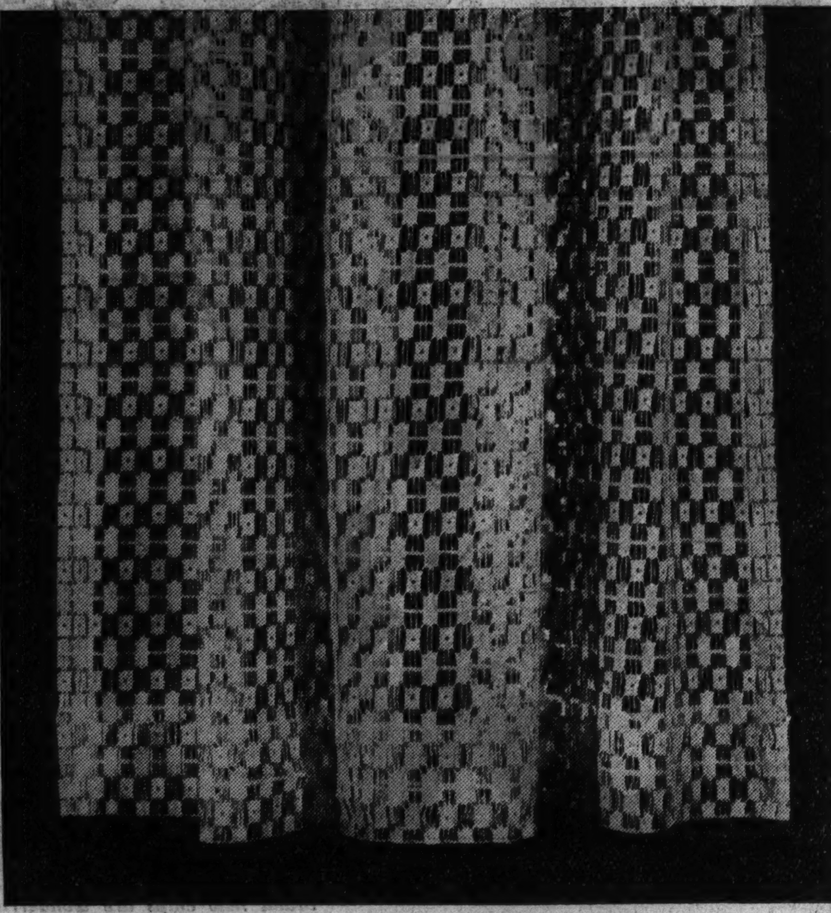
PERSIAN SAROUKS

With all the richness of color and beauty of design true Orientals always possess, a limited quantity of 9x12 ft. sizes at only

$195

There is a variance of opinion as to the why of it, but true it is that rugs from Persia are and have been for some time steadily advancing in price. When we had the chance to purchase a quantity at prices that would enable us to offer them at before-advance prices we did so. Every rug in the group has been woven by a master in the art of Oriental rug weaving . . . every rug is a thing of beauty that you will be proud to possess. As said previously, the quantity is limited, and the earlier you shop, the better your selection.

(All Oriental rug sizes are approximate.)



EXTRA WIDE AND LONG

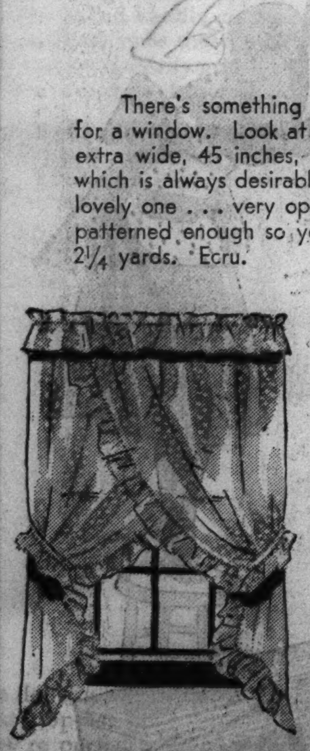
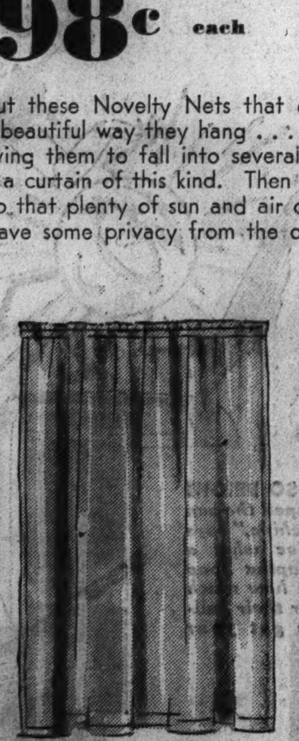
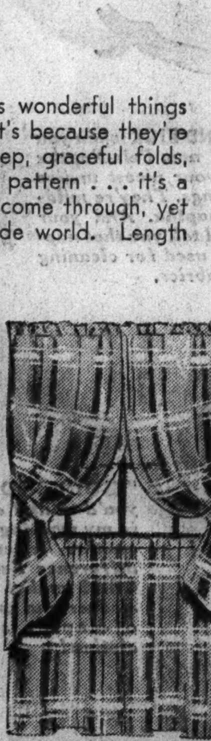
98c each

There's something about these Novelty Nets that does wonderful things for a window. Look at the beautiful way they hang . . . that's because they're extra wide, 45 inches, allowing them to fall into several deep, graceful folds, which is always desirable in a curtain of this kind. Then this pattern . . . it's a lovely one . . . very open so that plenty of sun and air can come through, yet patterned enough so you have some privacy from the outside world. Length 2¼ yards. Ecru.







Splendid Curtain Values Not to Be Overlooked!

Ruffled Priscilla curtains, pin and cushion dot styles, 5-inch finished self ruffles, selvages removed, back edges hemmed. White, ivory, ecru. 45 in. by 2¼ yds. With tie-backs and bone rings. $1.28 pair

Headed Ninon curtain panels, ready to hang, with headings and hems neatly sewed in. 34 inches wide, 2 yds. long, 3 in. base hem, 1 in. side hem. Champagne, white, beige. $1.28 each

Cottage sets in colorful Scotch plaids of gold, tan, green, brown, red, and blue. Tops 36x45 in., sash 36 x36 in. Selvages removed, back edges hemmed. $1.28 set

Floor-Coverings and Curtains, Sixth Floor.

Widow Allowed $85,000 Pending Settlement.

The estate left by Emory H. Fahrney, who died last Oct. 9, is valued at $1,700,000, it was disclosed yesterday when his widow, Mrs. Marion Fahrney, 400 North Euclid avenue, Oak Park, was granted an award of $85,000 pending settlement of the estate. Previously the estate had been estimated at $530,000.

The widow's award was allowed by Judge Harry McEwen of De Kalb, sitting in the Cook county Probate court. Fahrney was the son of the late Dr. Peter Fahrney, patent medicine millionaire.

Disposition of Estate.

Under the terms of Emory Fahrney's will his widow will receive half the income from the estate and her two daughters, Merry Fahrney and Mrs. Myrtle Fahrney Saemann, will share the balance, with the exception of $50,000 held in trust for Merry Fahrney's son Peter, 3 years old. The boy, born to Merry Fahrney of her former marriage to Hugh Parker-Pickering, was adopted by her parents.

Mrs. Saemann, formerly married to Franklin Saemann, was declared insane at a secret hearing in the Circuit court in November, 1934, and was placed in the care of her mother. Her husband was given custody of their son.

The will of James C. Curtis, former president of a casket manufacturing company at 122 West Van Buren street, disposing of an estate valued at $1,000,000, was admitted to probate yesterday. The bulk of the estate is left in trust for a half brother, John C. Curtis, 614 Winona avenue, Oak Park, and a niece, Mrs. Grace Watson of Rochester, N. Y., each to share equally in the income.

The will bequeathed $5,000 each to the Salvation Army and the Little Sisters of the Poor and $2,500 to the Home for Destitute Crippled Children. To one employé, Miss Agnes Yoerger, who served as housekeeper at his winter home at Miami Beach, Fla., Mr. Curtis left $15,000 and the lifelong privilege of using the home as her own. Seven other employés will receive bequests totaling $22,000. Mr. Curtis, who was a bachelor, died on Tuesday in his home at 2600 Lake View avenue. He was 78 years old.

The will of Mrs. Mary W. Malone of La Grange, disposing of a $200,000 estate, was admitted to probate yesterday. Mrs. Malone, who died on May 18 at the age of 66, made bequests of $10,000 each to the University of Chicago and the Chicago teachers' pension fund and $20,000 to the La Grange Public library. The balance of the estate is divided among eight relatives. Mrs. Malone was a retired Chicago school teacher and the widow of John Malone, a druggist, She lived at 412 South Park road, La Grange.

WIFE OF PRINTING OFFICIAL DROWNS IN YACHT HARBOR

Mrs. Theresa Erickson, 51 years old, 2220 South Ridgeway avenue, wife of William L. Erickson, head of a printing firm at 2628 South Wabash avenue, was drowned yesterday in the Jackson park yacht harbor. Her body was recovered by coast guardsmen under Capt. A. E. Kristofferson.

Mrs. Erickson was on her husband's yacht, the Eric V., in the afternoon. She took her son, William Jr., ashore in a rowboat at 4 p. m. and then returned to the craft, which other yachtsmen saw her board. At 6 p. m., when Mr. Erickson, who is fleet captain of the Jackson Park Yacht club, rowed out to the Eric V. she was missing.

Mr. Erickson said that he and his family, with 16 guests, were to have started on a cruise at 5 a. m. today. He said she may have fainted or suffered a heart attack which caused her to fall into the water.

RETIRED TEACHER DIES AFTER LEAP BENEATH TRAIN

Horace C. Wright, 67 years old, 3116 Maple avenue, Berwyn, retired mathematics teacher at the Deerfield-Shields Township High school in Highland Park, died in the Berwyn hospital yesterday several hours after he had leaped under the wheels of a suburban train of the Burlington railroad at the Harlem avenue station in Berwyn.

Commuters who witnessed the tragedy told the police that Wright waited until the train started to pull out of the station and then hurled himself between the first and second coaches. Both of his legs were severed. At the hospital he said: "It was as good a way of ending it as any other."

Dr. William L. Buhrman, Child Specialist, Is Dead

Dr. William Lane Buhrman, a specialist in children's diseases, died suddenly on Wednesday in his home at 7427 South Shore drive. He was 39 years old. Dr. Buhrman was born in Nashville, Ill., a member of a pioneer family of that district. He was graduated from the University of Illinois college of medicine in 1922. Recently he had been clinical instructor in pediatrics at Rush Medical college and a member of the stafs of the Presbyterian and Chicago Memorial hospitals.

Mrs. Fay Wood, Railroad Executive's Widow, Dies

Mrs. Fay St. Clair Wood, 211 East Chestnut street, died yesterday in a hospital at Glen Cove, N. Y., after a three weeks' illness of pneumonia, according to information received by relatives here. Mrs. Wood was on a visit to the east when she became ill. She was the widow of John C. Wood, former Chicago railroad executive.

FR. NIEUWLAND, 58, DIES; TEACHER AT NOTRE DAME

Washington, D. C., June 11.—[Special.]—The Rev. Julius A. Nieuwland, professor of chemistry at the University of Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., discoverer of the formula for synthetic rubber, died of a heart attack today in the chemistry laboratory of Catholic university here. He was 58 years old.

Father Nieuwland left Notre Dame Tuesday following the commencement in which he witnessed the laying of the cornerstone of the new biology building. He had been staying at the Holy Cross convent at Brookland, D. C.

Father Nieuwland was born Feb. 14, 1878, in Hansbeke, Belgium, and came to America with his parents when he was two years old. He was graduated from Notre Dame and later obtained degrees of doctor of philosophy and doctor of science from the Catholic university. He was ordained a priest in 1903.

During the commencement at Notre Dame this year he was elected honorary president of the university alumni association.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at Notre Dame.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

As Herbert Hoover made his way to the rostrum of the Republican convention Wednesday evening listeners heard on the air for the first time in many months the song, "California Here I Come." Abe Lyman formerly used it as his theme song, but when Warner Brothers put into effect their copyright restrictions last winter, this was one of the many ditties that faded from the networks.

Prior to the opening of the convention the Republican subcommittee on music got Warner Brothers to lift their restrictions on all music they control for the duration of the convention. Thus Lou Rich, director of the convention band, knew he was perfectly safe in going on the air with the melody. The committee on music in casting about for a band leader wanted a radio-wise director. Rich, who is musical director for WHK, the CBS outlet in Cleveland, is the dean of radio musicians there.

He was a happy choice. Rich, they say, gets many a cue from the rostrum and he has missed none of them. He has made the most of each opportunity and his work has added much color to the convention. Whether it was his own idea or not is not known, but the melody of "Three Blind Mice" was quickly fitted to the words "Three Long Years" to become the convention theme song.

And when the delegates began calling, "We want Hoover," Rich promptly burst into Eddie Cantor's old theme song, "We Want Cantor," and the crowd swiftly substituted "Hoover" for "Cantor." Apparently everybody there had followed Cantor's radio show.

Because of the Hoover demonstration Mrs. Benjamin Harrison never got to address the convention, but radio listeners were afforded a chance to hear her when she was presented from NBC's booth.

"What are all these wires for?" exclaimed the widow of President Harrison, "I won't be electrocuted, will I?"

She did not realize she was on the air from Maine to Honolulu.

RITES TOMORROW FOR J. W. KNOBBE, MANUFACTURER

Funeral services for John William Knobbe, a Chicago ice cream manufacturer for more than forty years, will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 1820 South Michigan avenue. Mr. Knobbe died on Wednesday in the West Suburban hospital. He was 67 years old.

Mr. Knobbe was a founder of the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers and was its president in 1914. Since 1926 he had operated the Walworth Condensed Milk company.

Surviving are his widow, Martha, and three daughters.

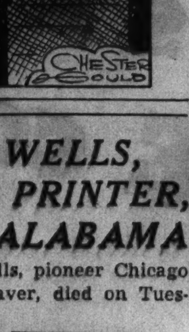
Mrs. Wilhelmina Hall Dies in Glencoe Home at 77

Mrs. Wilhelmina Hall, 77 years old, died yesterday in her home at 874 Bluff street, Glencoe. She was the wife of Robert W. Hall, a retired department manager of Carson Pirie Scott & Co. Four sons also survive. The funeral will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in the family home.

M. R. Scott, Wisconsin Manufacturer, Dies Here

Marshall R. Scott, 50 years old, president of Barlow & Selig, Inc., of Ripon, Wis., washing machine manufacturers, was found dead yesterday in his room in the Morrison hotel. His death was attributed to heart disease.

WILLIS J. WELLS, PIONEER PRINTER, DIES IN ALABAMA



WILLIS J. WELLS.

Willis John Wells, pioneer Chicago printer and engraver, died on Tuesday at his home in Fairhope, Ala., according to word received by friends here last night. He was 78 years old.

Mr. Wells was born in Geneva, Kane county. He entered the printing business in Chicago in 1872, and was associated with several concerns until 1902, when he organized Wells & Co., of which he was president until he retired in 1915. In the Spanish-American war he served as a captain in the First infantry, Illinois National Guard, and in 1917-'18 he was a lieutenant colonel of the 3d Illinois reserve regiment. In 1918 he served in France as a Red Cross officer.

POTATO PRICES TUMBLE AFTER BALK BY BUYERS

Harvest in Southwest Causes Reduction.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

King Spud has been sent back to his former lowly position in the vegetable kingdom. Housewives balked and refused to pay the high hat prices asked for potatoes during the last week. Both retail and wholesale prices are tumbling rapidly. Retailers in some cases were caught holding bags filled with high priced potatoes and ordered sparingly for the week-end. Wholesalers found themselves holding the bag, too. An increasing supply of freshly dug potatoes is rolling in from producing sections.

Potatoes were expected to retail at $1 a peck. Some stores were able to sell a few at 99 cents a peck before shoppers generally turned thumbs down on buying the old tuber that is ordinarily on almost every housewife's economy list. Store managers yesterday said that they would be forced to make drastic reductions in their potato prices for today and tomorrow, but they had not yet decided how much the cut would be.

Southwest Causes Cut.

Wholesale potato prices already have taken a substantial drop and may go even lower soon, because diggers are making the dirt fly in the patches of Oklahoma and Arkansas. These potatoes are beginning to show up on the Chicago market. Growers in North Carolina are now taking care of the eastern markets that were coming to the south central states in Mississippi and Alabama for their supplies last week.

Retail merchants generally already have cut their prices on fresh tomatoes, green beans, and strawberries. Man are reducing their prices on rhubarb and asparagus. Lard, lemons, coffee, and canned goods such as peas, corn, and tomatoes have been reduced this week compared to last.

Butter and Eggs Rise.

Several old standbys started climbing on the higher price perches this week. For example, butter is up 1 cent a pound and eggs 1 cent a dozen in stores generally. The lowly cabbage is apparently trying to take the place held by the potato last week. Retailers have added from 2 to 3 cents a pound to cabbage compared with last week's prices in city and suburban stores.

In most stores sweet potatoes, celery, and head lettuce are up. Some stores have discontinued carrying sweet potatoes and rutabagas. Carrots are higher in a few stores, although several merchants are placing carrots on their bargain counters for today and tomorrow.

Pork and Veal Favored.

Butchers have turned to pork and veal for their week-end bargains. Many shops are featuring all veal cuts. Pork loin roasts are about 2 cents a pound lower than last week. Three to 4 cents a pound have been shaved off bulk pork sausage and park spareribs. Some kinds of fresh fish are cheaper. Practically all retail cuts of fresh beef and lamb are selling at last week's prices.

The live stock and wholesale meat markets showed some unusual reactions during the week. Live lamb prices advanced about 25 cents a hundred pounds, while wholesale cuts of lamb dropped $2 to $4 a hundred. Last week wholesale lamb prices reached the highest level in six years, resulting in a decrease in sales, which caused the severe price drop this week, federal market reporters said yesterday.

Wholesale Pork Takes Drop.

A similar situation occurred in the live hog and wholesale pork markets. Farmers were paid about the same prices this week as last for live hogs at Union Stockyards, but wholesale pork cuts dropped $1 to $2 a hundred pounds. Beef steers sold steady to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower this week and dressed beef carcasses declined 25 to 50 cents a hundred.

Wholesale prices are lower than last week on a long list of fresh fruits and vegetables. Included are green beans, cabbage, both old and new potatoes, canaloupes, bunch carrots, roasting ears, head lettuce, dry onions, raspberries, spinach, fresh tomatoes, strawberries, watermelons, lemons, and pineapples.

Home grown head lettuce now is furnishing a good portion of the local supply. The quality if only fair, but is improving. Fresh blueberries from Georgia are reaching the Chicago market.

BEG YOUR PARDON

The Pineapple Spice Cake, printed June 2, 1936, was lacking in the liquid ingredient. This recipe should have read as follows:

PINEAPPLE SPICE CAKE.

- 1 cup light brown sugar
- ½ cup margarine
- 1 egg
- 1 cup well drained, crushed pineapple
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 2 cups flour
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ⅓ teaspoon cloves.
- ⅓ teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ cup raisins
- ½ cup pineapple juice.

Cream sugar and margarine together until light. Add the well beaten egg and pineapple and mix well. Sift the dry ingredients together and add the raisins. Beat into the first mixture alternately with the pineapple juice. Turn into a loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 55 to 60 minutes.

Decorative Ice Cubes Brighten the Cocktail

For a luncheon, dress up the tomato juice cocktail with a decorative iced cube. To make these cubes, pour tomato juice into freezing trays which have cube dividers. When juice is frozen to a mush, insert a stuffed olive in the center of each cube and let the red tip of the olive peep out of the top of the cube. Freeze until very firm. Place one cube in each glass of juice, red tipped side up.

Paprika Edged Lettuce Fine for Spring Salads

Even lettuce leaves come in for their share of prettying up. To make a frilly red edged lettuce leaf—and it's a beauty—shake paprika on a plate and in this dip the edges of the lettuce. The frills stay neatly in place and the lettuce cup, so edged, makes a handsome background for spring salads—particularly tomato aspics and stuffed tomatoes.

Her Husband's Past

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Nell Martin elopes to London with Eric Cameron, an older divorced man, who had been visiting in Wellsport, her home town, ignoring her parents' pleas to marry Dick Holmes, her childhood sweetheart. Eric has two children, Meg, 17, and Robin, 15. Mrs. Beaumont, the mother of Hilda, his first wife, lives with them. Hilda has married again. Granny tortures Nell with constant reminders of Hilda. The family move to Wellsport where Eric has an engineering job. A solicitor's clerk, Shyner, calls and tells Nell that Hilda's husband had died and she is in London destitute. Nell arranges to send her a weekly sum secretly. Meg receives a string of pearls from her mother from London. Eric suggests looking up Hilda. Nell threatens to leave him. Granny arouses Eric to jealousy of Dick Holmes, but that is ended when Dick elopes with Meg. When granny hears that Nell is expecting a baby she leaves them to stay with a relative. A letter comes for Nell from the solicitors. Nell confesses to Eric about Hilda. Eric asks Nell to go with him to London to call on the solicitors.

INSTALMENT XLVII.

THE TRUTH ABOUT HILDA.

Nell got to her feet, her face pink, her eyes shining.

"I don't think I can either," she said. "Anyway, I'm with you when it comes to the suspense. I'm glad—I'm a little vain and proud—that you want me to come with you. Whatever happens, Eric, I promise I won't embarrass you by making a scene. I didn't know how I was going to get through this day. Having a tooth out is ten times better than trying to bear the everlasting ache of it."

"You bet it is!" Eric agreed.

She was a good scout; a good friend, as well as the dearest girl in the world.

This sorry business of Hilda was going to be cleared up at last.

"Only—I warn you—" he said—"whatever happens, I don't intend to let you get away from me. What you said about marriage goes for you and me, too. It goes for us most of all."

"I've heard it said that at heart every man is a Mormon," she told him. "But if we are going to catch that train I'll have to do some hurrying."

"You'll have to leave the beds and dishes," Eric said.

But he was wrong.

He was made to do the dishes, himself, while Nell flew through the bedrooms and came down with her hat and coat on just in the nick of time.

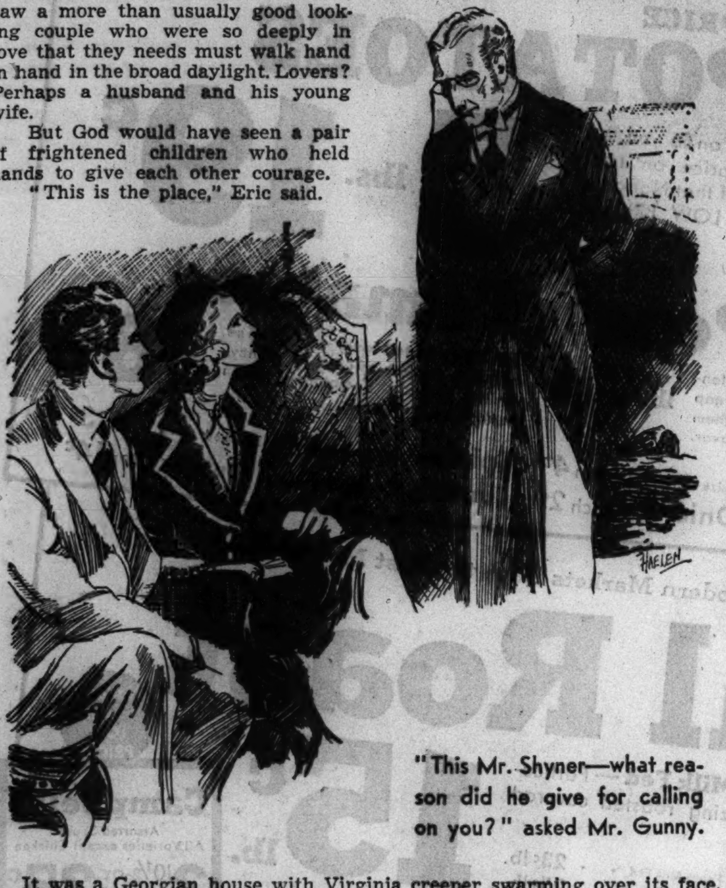
"We'll miss the train," he prophesied.

They didn't, however.

The people who passed them as they toiled up the steep and lengthly Mount Ararat road some hours later, saw a more than usually good looking couple who were so deeply in love that they needs must walk hand in hand in the broad daylight. Lovers? Perhaps a husband and his young wife.

But God would have seen a pair of frightened children who held hands to give each other courage.

"This is the place," Eric said.



"This Mr. Shyner—what reason did he give for calling on you?" asked Mr. Gunny.

It was a Georgian house with Virginia creeper swarming over its face. The shining windows peered at you through lace-lidded eyes. In the middle of the square of tiny front garden posed a small marble Eros in a fluted bird-bath. The front door was painted a bright clean green and the steps were so beautifully whitened that it seemed a pity to tread on them.

"Well, aren't you going to ring the bell, Eric?"

He did so and the door was opened by something very stiff and starched in old fashioned parlormaids.

"We would like to see Mr. Gunny," said Eric. "The name is Cameron."

"I'll find our," said the parlor-maid. "Will you step inside?"

They were shown into a drawing room as neat and shining and old fashioned as one might expect.

The parlor-maid came back.

"Is it Mrs. Cameron of Wellsport?" she asked, speaking to Nell.

"Yes, I am Mrs. Cameron."

"Then Mr. Gunny says he won't keep you waiting but a minute. He's at the cheese."

Swish, and she was out, closing the door behind her with becoming care. Nell suppressed a nervous giggle.

The mansion, so very solidly respectable, had revised Eric's suspicions about Nevill Gunny and his partner, Mr. Troop, being shyster lawyers. No shyster would ever have been able to keep such a rare model in parlormaids, for one thing.

And the moment he set eyes on the dry-as-dust and consciously impeccable Mr. Gunny, himself, every vestige of a lingering doubt vanished.

Mr. Gunny was oldish and thin, and he wore what, in his youth, undoubtedly had been mutton chop whiskers, although now they were close pruned as a concession to modernity. His gold-rimmed pince-nez was attached with a black silk ribbon; his correct morning dress spoke of dutiful attendance at church service.

Eric felt like a disorderly school boy in the presence of a headmaster whose gimlet eyes saw straight through the guilty entanglements of his soul.

"I—we're awfully sorry to bother you, sir——"

"Mr. and Mrs. Cameron? I was hardly expecting you both. I think I said in my letter any day next week at my office."

"We couldn't wait," said Nell. "We simply couldn't bear the suspense." Something in her pale, anxious face must have moved old dry-as-dust. He motioned her to an armchair with a courteous gesture.

"Please sit down, Mrs. Cameron. And you, too, sir. Unfortunately I haven't any of the papers here. Otherwise, it's quite all right your coming today."

Mr. Gunny took up a position on the hearth rug and glanced from one to the other of his visitors.

"I know—I mean my wife told me—that my—er—that Mrs. Juan Dellapanna, known professionally as Hilda Beaumont, is a client of yours. You may speak freely, Mr. Gunny. My wife has told me everything," said Eric.

"Ah!" commented Mr. Gunny. "That's the point. Mrs. Dellapanna was never our client. We merely had a commission to execute on her behalf. May I ask, Mrs. Cameron, if a man named Morris Shyner paid you a call some two months ago at your home in Wellsport?"

Nell nodded. "Yes," she murmured.

"Will you kindly tell me what he had to say—what he gave as his reason for calling?"

"It was about Mrs. Dellapanna. He said her husband had been killed in a motoring accident."

"Quite so. What else?"

"And that Mrs. Dellapanna was in London without any means of support."

Mr. Gunny raised his eyebrows, but waited for her to go on.

"So we agreed—as I didn't want my husband to be worried—that I would send £3 a week for Mrs. Dellapanna. Then about a month later he—Mr. Shyner—wrote that Mrs. Dellapanna was ill and had to go into a nursing home. He said she would need £50. I sent him the money but I haven't heard from him since."

Mr. Gunny gave an abrupt exclamation.

"Ha! That explains it! I have your check for that £50 in my office, Mrs. Cameron. It has never been cashed."

Eric and Nell looked at each other, and Nell's face was the picture of dismay. She half started to her feet.

"You—you mean that Mrs. Dellapanna died before she could use it?"

"Mrs. Dellapanna died over a year ago. She died by the same accident in which her husband was killed."

He sprang to his wife's side, and the alarmed Mr. Gunny was about to ring for the parlor-maid when Nell spoke and held out her hand.

"No—no," she gasped. "I'm not going to faint. But . . . perhaps a glass of water."

How to Make the Batter for Frying Spring Chicken

Dip spring chicken in batter before deep fat frying. To make the batter beat together 1 cup flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon of pepper, ⅝ cup of milk, and 2 eggs. The temperature of the fat should be 375 degrees F. or should brown a cube of bread in 60 seconds.

Flavored Sugar Cubes Recommended for Tea

Lemon or orange cut sugar is suitable for use in hot or ice tea. To make these, rub entire surface of loaf sugar backs over the rind of a lemon or orange which has been washed and dried. Store sugar cubes or loaves in a jar and use when needed to sweeten and flavor.

Tribune Recipes

COFFEE REFRIGERATOR CAKE.

1½ dozen lady fingers or 1 sponge cake
1 cup butter
2 egg yolks
1½ cups confectioner's sugar
½ cup strong coffee
¼ cup toasted almonds
½ cup whipping cream.

Arrange a layer of lady fingers or slices of sponge cake in the bottom of a spring form mold. Cream together the butter, egg yolks, sugar, and coffee until the mixture is light and fluffy. Pour this over the first layer and press more lady fingers or sponge cake slices into the top. Chill in the refrigerator for several hours and serve garnished with almonds and whipped cream.

TROPICAL GINGERBREAD.

⅛ cup molasses
1 teaspoon ginger
½ cup water
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup coconut
2 eggs
1¾ cups flour
¼ teaspoon salt.

Cream the butter and sugar, add the unbeaten eggs, and blend. Beat the soda into molasses until smooth. Sift the flour, spices, and salt. Add liquids and flour alternately to the creamed mixture. Add the coconut. Pour into buttered tin and bake in a moderate oven [350 degrees F.] for 25 minutes. Remove from oven, split in two and fill with cheese filling.

CHEESE FILLING.

Work one package of cream cheese until soft and add three tablespoons orange marmalade. Fold in a cup of whipped cream.

COCONUT SNOW PUDDING.

1 tablespoon granulated gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons vanilla
¾ cup shredded coconut
2 egg whites, beaten stiff.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water for 5 minutes. Add the boiling water and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Add the sugar, salt, and vanilla. Chill the mixture until it is cold and sirupy. Then place the pan in a bowl of cracked ice or ice water and whip with a rotary egg beater until fluffy and as thick as whipped cream. Fold in the coconut and the egg whites. Turn out into a shallow pan. Chill until firm then cut in one inch cubes and pile into sherbet glasses. Serve with a thin lemon sauce.

RHUBARB SHERBET.

2 cups finely sliced rhubarb
1 cup crushed pineapple
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon granulated gelatin
1 tablespoon cold water
1 egg white.

Simmer the sliced rhubarb, pineapple, and sugar together until tender and then press through a coarse sieve. Soften the gelatin in the cold water, mix with the hot pulp, and chill. Then whip the egg white stiff, fold into the cold fruit mixture, pour into a cold freezing tray and place in the refrigerator. The freezing time varies between two and four hours.

MAPLE GRIDDLE CAKES.

2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
4 tablespoons maple sirup
1¾ cups milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 tablespoon melted butter.

Combine maple sirup, milk, beaten egg, and melted butter and add to the sifted dry ingredients. Mix well to make smooth. Drop by spoonfuls on a hot, well greased skillet and fry on both sides to a delicate brown.

SPARERIBS WITH CINNAMON APPLES.

4 pounds spareribs
2 quarts boiling water
1 sliced onion
1½ tablespoons salt
¼ cup melted butter
6 tart apples, medium
2 cups water
4 tablespoons red cinnamon candies
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Wipe spareribs and place in boiling water with onion and salt. Simmer until tender, or for about two hours. Remove from water, cover with melted butter and place on a hot broiler to brown on both sides. While spareribs are simmering pare and quarter apples. Combine water, red candies, lemon juice, and sugar. Place over burner and when candies have melted add apples and cook until tender. Serve with spareribs.

Cold Cloth Takes Excess of Fat from Hot Broth

To remove the fat from hot broth, strain the broth through a cloth which has been wrung out of cold water. The fat hardens when it comes in contact with the cloth, and the broth will strain on through the cloth. Reheat the broth for serving.

SPRIGS OF MINT WILL EMBROIDER SUMMER MENUS

Its Color and Its Flavor Add to Cookery.

If your garden or kitchen window box boasts a fine array of growing mint, you're lucky. But even if that delightful green does not grow practically under you feet, you can "blow" yourself to at least an occasional bunch and have a splendid time introducing its inimitable flavor into a variety of dishes.

Take lamb with mint for instance—ordinary, overworked, you say? But how about a currant jelly and mint combination with lamb chops or steaks. It's made like this:

CURRANT MINT SAUCE.

[Serves 6.]

1 cup currant jelly
2½ tablespoons fresh mint, chopped
Fresh mint leaves

Pan broil lamb chops until done. Remove to a hot platter. Melt jelly and heat to boiling. Remove from stove and add chopped mint. Pour over lamb chops. Garnish with fresh mint and serve very hot.

Summer beverages are heightened in color appeal—to say nothing of "cooler" appeal—when decorated with a sprig of mint, or flavored with the juices from the crushed leaves. Ice cubes frozen around maraschino cherries and a tiny mint sprig beg for a place in the punch bowl for a festive summer affair.

MINT STUFFING.

3 cups fine dry bread crums
½ cup fresh mint leaves
6 tablespoons butter
2½ tablespoons celery, chopped
1½ tablespoons chopped onion
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook onion and celery in 3 tablespoons butter until lightly brown. Add mint and seasonings. Cook until liquid evaporates, then add rest of butter [melted] to crums and combine ingredients. Pack well into bird. This also makes a tasty stuffing for lamb chops or lamb shoulder.

Crystalized mint leaves are a rather different form of confection, and are ideal for passing at the end of the luncheon. To make these, wipe fresh mint leaves with a damp clean cloth, remove from stems, and brush each leaf with egg white beaten until stiff. Dip in granulated sugar flavored with oil of spearmint drops [about 8 drops to a half cup of sugar]. Place close together on wax paper placed on a wire rack, and let dry in slow oven. Repeat the process if the leaves are not well coated.

For dressing up a rather bland looking pudding—such as a cornstarch or tapioca pudding—nothing adds more of a decorative effect than fresh mint leaves bordering the sherbet glass, and a candied cherry perched atop.

"Parties for the Bride-to-Be," a booklet containing menus and accompanying recipes for announcement parties and "showers," is on sale at the Tribune Public Service offices, 1 South Dearborn street and Tribune Tower, for 3 cents. BY MARY MEADE.

"Eat carrots and you'll have rosy cheeks and a beautiful complexion," I was told once upon a time when I was very young. So I gathered carrots from the garden every day and ate them happily. And every day I would stand for an hour looking at myself anxiously in the mirror. But, alas, no miracles were wrought and not a freckle was missing! I counted them to be sure. But I had come to like carrots so well that I continued eating them in spite of the lack of beautifying effect.

Maybe carrots won't turn an ugly duckling into a swan overnight, but they are an important source of vitamins and certainly are conducive to good health. Eat them raw as crisp carrot sticks, steam them and butter them, or serve them in salads, but eat carrots in some manner!

Carrots retain their flavor best if you cook them in a small amount of water, and only until tender. Maybe you'll like them fixed this way.

MINT GLAZED CARROTS AND PEAS.

Melt ½ cup butter and add ½ cup sugar and 1 tablespoon of fresh mint leaves, chopped. Add 4 carrots, cut in pieces lengthwise, which have been cooked in salted water. Cook them slowly in the butter, sugar, and mint until they are soft and glazed. Add 1½ cups cooked peas, and season with salt, pepper, and more butter.

Some time when you find extra large carrots you can have some fun fixing them in this way as a garnish for steak or a roast.

CARROT CUPS WITH PEAS.

Scrape large carrots and cut crosswise in inch and a half pieces. Make cups by scooping out most of the center of each. Steam until tender. Then fill with tiny green peas, heated and buttered, and decorate with small sprigs of parsley. If you don't want to be wasteful you can save the scooped portions for soup.

Ah, but here's something else, probably the acme of deliciousness in carrot cookery—stuffed carrots! The recipe for the stuffing: ¼ cup ground cooked ham, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 tablespoon of butter, salt, and pepper. Mix thoroughly and pile on carrot halves [lengthwise] after cooking the carrots, of course. Sprinkle with buttered crums, place on buttered baking sheet, and brown in the oven.

To come back to the carrot sticks mentioned above: They may be used with other crisp fresh vegetables in lieu of salad. Carrot sticks, pieces of raw cauliflower, and radish roses [or just plain radishes] are appetizing.

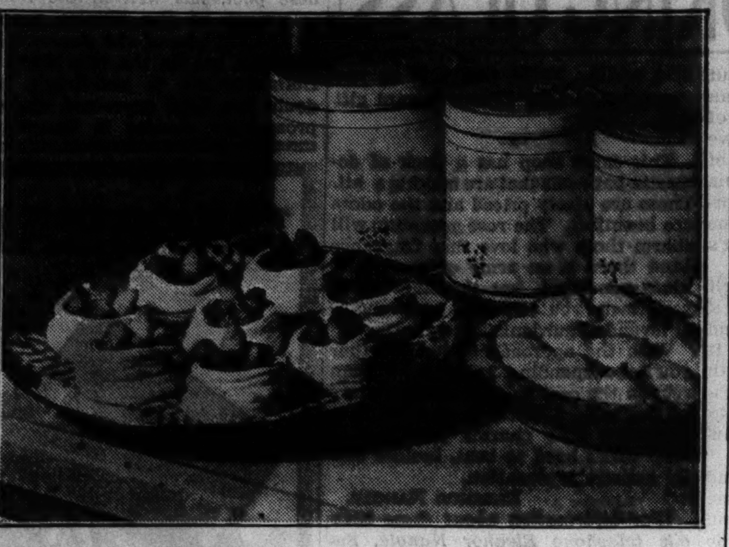
BAKE SLOWLY



Contrary to popular belief, meringue cases, such as these posing as strawberry cups, are surprisingly easy to make. The secret lies chiefly in using the correct proportion of ingredients and in baking in a very slow oven (275 degrees Fahrenheit) for forty to fifty minutes.

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

FOLLOW RULES AND MERINGUES WILL BE EASY

Practically every housewife either prides herself on her ability to make meringues—or yearns to master the art. A billowy meringue pie or tart topping, creamy and delicately browned, is a joy to behold. And the other type of meringue—the hard meringue—which serves so nicely for nesting a scoop of ice cream or a topping of fresh fruit, is equally attractive.

Both types of meringues are comparatively simple to make, provided several basic rules are closely followed. It is of interest to know that egg white beats up more quickly and to a better foam when warm.

SOFT MERINGUE.

3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon [illegible]nilla [illegible] 1 teaspoon lemon [illegible]
6 tablespoo[illegible]d sugar

Add the salt [illegible]la or lemon juice to egg, and beat to a stiff foam. Add the sugar by the tablespoon, beating after each addition. When the last of the sugar is added, beat until the mixture piles well and the sugar is dissolved. Spread on top of the pie and bake in a moderate oven until the high peaks of the meringue are tinged with a pale gold. [350 degrees F. for 10 to 12 minutes.]

Baking a soft meringue at a low temperature gives less satisfactory results than a moderate or a moderately hot oven.

If desired, the meringue may be baked separately. This is done by dropping or shaping the egg and sugar mixture on greased paper, baking, and then transferring to the top of the pie. This is particularly recommended if the pie crust has become a little overbrown at its initial baking and would become too crisp with an extra 10 minutes in the oven.

Hard meringues are made in a slightly different way and with the sugar ingredient in double proportion. These individual meringues have a puffy, dry appearance, a fairly smooth but crisp crust with little or no browning. Cream of tartar is used as an ingredient, because of its importance in keeping the sugar crystals as small as possible. This factor gives the meringue easy cutting and chewing qualities, as well as smoothness. In the mixing, a large proportion of the sugar is dissolved. During the baking—a long, slow process—the moisture evaporates and the sugar recrystalizers.

HARD MERINGUE.
[4 Servings.]

1 egg white
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
4 tablespoons granulated sugar

Add salt and cream of tartar to the egg white. Beat until stiff. Add sugar in 1 tablespoon portions. Beat until mixture peaks. Shape with a spoon or pastry bag into mounds or rings on ungreased dry paper placed on a baking sheet. Unless heavy paper is used, use 2 or 3 layers. Bake in a 275 degree oven until dry but only barely browned, about 40 to 50 minutes.

If the meringues are made small, they may be served as little cakes or cookies for a dessert accompaniment.

HERE'S AN OLIVE OMELET FOR ANY TIME OR SEASON

Omelets are favorites for any occasion or hour from breakfast until the midnight snack. A delicious omelet for luncheon or supper uses ripe olives, cheese, and snappy seasonings. It's made in this fashion:

RIPE OLIVE OMELET.

2-3 cup finely sliced ripe olives
1⅓ cup finely cut yellow cheese [quick melting type]
½ cup cream
1 tablespoon minced pimiento
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
12 eggs
Butter

Combine cheese and cream in top of double boiler and melt over hot water, stirring until smooth. Remove from stove, but leave over water to keep hot, and add sliced olives, pimiento and worcestershire sauce, and stir until blended. Combine eggs and milk and beat just enough to blend. Melt sufficient butter in heavy skillet to cover bottom generously and place over low heat. Pour in eggs, let cook until portion next to pan is cooked. Lift edges gently, letting eggs from the top run onto bottom of pan. Repeat this procedure until all are cooked to desired doneness [this method keeps eggs from becoming watery]. Cover bottom of warm platter with thin slices of buttered toast, top with the cooked eggs, sprinkle lightly with salt and pour cheese-olive mixture over all. Sprinkle with paprika.

Country Ideal Place for the Nervous Child

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Here is a letter which I received after several articles had appeared in my column with suggestions for helping the nervous child back to normal:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I am interested in your column because of my love for little folks, and what you do to help along worried parents.

"I've seen a nervous child similar to the one you described. The lad went from nerves to St. Vitus dance, so the parents were told to find a nice home on a farm—one where there was good wholesome food and kind people.

"The country mother and dad had three sons, all older, but each had certain work to do, so they let the little fellow in on all that was done, of course. He just drifted into their hearts as theirs went out to him. One day he came in saying: 'Mother, can I go and get the cows from the field with Shep?' From the first day he and the dog had become pals.

"Three months later his own parents went to see him. Driving along in their big car, they met a boy in overalls, barefooted, talking to a dog who was helping him do the work he liked—he was taking the cows to the pasture. When they saw their own big boy he seemed to have grown, and the happiness in his face!

The first words little R. said to them were: 'Please don't take me back to the noisy city for a while, mother—dad. You could sleep here for two days without waking up, it's so lovely and quiet.'

"When they reached the farm house with R. in the big auto, the entire country family appeared. One of the boys said: 'Please don't take R. away just yet. You know there is so much for him to do.' The parents looked surprised. Little R. had ducks, chicks, and lamb—all his own.

"More than satisfied that R. was getting good care, they returned to the city. R. stayed for two years, and went to the country school, even in winter. Today he is a man to be proud of and, as he says, 'The quietness of God's green country and love of that entire family helped me to gain strength and serenity.'"

◆

I realize, in quoting this letter, that those parents found ideal conditions for overcoming their little boy's nervousness, and for restoring serenity and stability to his body and spirit. Still, similar results could be brought about in a different way. The peace of the country, the quiet and vigor of the seashore often are balm to overly nervous children. It is possible for many people who do not do so to get away from the city for two or three months in the summer. Such a change, with its freedom, new scenes, and fresh, pure air, can set a child on the path to mental and physical health if in addition he is put on a carefully planned regimen.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

We have a leaflet called "Helping the Nervous Child." It is sent out on receipt of a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Mrs. Bevans' column also appears in The Sunday Tribune.

Buttons Highly Important

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

The sun-back frock with its companion cape is with us again, and in a delightful version. Buttons are an extremely important feature of the dress, lending chic to the entire back and to the neckline in front. The latter is square and broad. Two inseparable pockets adorn the simple skirt.

The brief cape is easy to put on. It fastens in a jiffy to the two buttons which trim the tabs at the neckline.

Cotton shantung in subtle pink was chosen for the original of this frock. Yellow, aqua, and lilac are other delicate shades which will make up distinctively.

Linen, tub silks in pastel shades, piqué, challis prints, glazed chintz, and innumerable other cotton fabrics will create this outfit with equally lovely results.

Style No. 3153 is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, for both frock and cape.

Correct Diet Helps Rectify the Oily Skin

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Now comes the parade of oily skin sufferers! Let the weather get warm, and history repeats itself annually with an influx of cries for help from the oily skinned. They can't keep powering all the time. The oil keeps on oozing out because the glands are extra active, pouring out more oil than the skin needs. This greasy residue makes one feel so messy.

In the young this condition is common. In adolescence it is due to the change the glands of the body are undergoing. In adults the condition results invariably from a faulty diet, digestive disorders, or sluggish elimination. Right now is the time for the adult to make diet changes, because it is an easy time to dismiss the offer of cream and butter, bacon, fat meats, nuts, peanut butter, and so on. The market and the menus set before one in restaurants are rich in substitute foods for the oily skinned person bent on correction. Fruits and salads, light soups [not cream], and lighter types of meats are easily available and most palatable right now. Whole grain cereals may be taken.

Another thing the season makes easy for you to do is to take to water drinking, six glasses a day at least. That isn't much to absorb in a day, really, if you space it properly. A glass of water with a dash of lemon juice on arising helps. Add lemon juice to breakfast orange juice. The diet change is bound to have an improvement on your constitpation trouble. But it is well to take oils or something nonhabit forming until you have established regular daily elimination.

Another helpful feature that is of infinite value to the oily type skin is the shower habit, turning the water on until it is cold enough to make your skin rosy as you dry. One of the famous skin specialists heartily recommends the cold water ablutions.

A liquid cleanser may prove good for your skin, but it must be followed with a hot bath with soap and complexion brush and the cold, cold face plunges already referred to. An astringent, pore tightening lotion may be added for good measure.

Keep a bottle of freshener or skin tonic handy and wipe the face frequently with clean absorbent cotton pads during the day. Try the liquid powder instead of the other kind.

[Copyright: 1936: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Spare the brush and spoil the hair is the sub-title in the helpful booklet by Antoinette Donnelly, "Bring Out the Beauty in Your Hair." On sale at the Tribune Public Service Offices, 1 S. Dearborn Street and Tribune Tower. Price, 5 cents. By postpaid mail, 7 cents.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

It may be old fashioned of us, but we've lost our heart completely to an imported bath oil in the fragrance of orange flowers. We must confess we haven't seen many interpretations of this sweetest of sweet scents, but this one has them all topped. It's thoroughly delightful—very much on the romantic, delicate side. We think it's a find for many reasons.

In the first place the scent itself isn't commonplace and it's grand if you're the type for it. In the second place the bath oil is a fine one. It breaks down immediately in the bath water, diffusing its exquisite fragrance, but not leaving globs of oil to rim the tub. It scents the skin beautifully.

The bottles are most attractive and there are two sizes—a smaller one for those who wish to experiment and a larger, handsome one for those who fall in love with the scent at the first whiff. You'll find this at two shops in Chicago. It's an elegant gift idea.

This same shop has a flock of domestic bath oils that are making a hit. These are nicely priced and the odors are beautiful. The rose geranium will charm those who love that fragrance [and there is an army of rose geranium admirers], but if that isn't to your taste you can take your choice of lavender, gardenia, or carnation.

With the approach of hot weather you'll be spending more time than ever in the cooling, refreshing waters of the tub. A dash of fine oil in a fragrance that charms you adds a fillip that's hard to beat, besides subtly assisting relaxation.

Picked as Ad Club Queen; Engagement Is Told Same Day

Miss Martha Frances Purnell, 21 years old, who will be among the graduates of Northwestern university tomorrow, was chosen "summer queen" by the Chicago Federated Advertising Clubs yesterday. She will fly west by way of American Air Lines to the Texas Centennial later in the season to urge visitors there to visit in Chicago on their way home.

Simultaneously her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Purnell, of 834 Judson avenue, Evanston, announced her engagement to Merrill MacNamee, 23 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. William MacNamee, 940 Fourth avenue, Evanston. He is a graduate of Kenyon college, Gambier, O., and of Babson institute, Babson, Mass. He is in the insurance business.

Miss Purnell was Syllabus queen and Navy ball queen at the university in 1936, and previously was May queen at Gulf Park Junior college, Gulfport, Miss.

Strauss Is 72; Spends Day on His New Opera

The composer, 72, changed his mind about coming home from Cologne and stopped off at Heidelberg instead.

He telephoned that he would spend the night there.

Frau Strauss said her husband was in the best of health. Numerous congratulations had been received for the occasion, she added, but no celebration was planned.

Strauss is working on a new opera and he spent some time on it today. He guarded carefully the subject matter, declining to reveal any details except that Joseph Gregor, a Viennese poet, has written the libretto.

Because of the libretto prepared by Gregor, one of the circle of literary men led by the late Hugo Von Hofmannsthal, a non-Aryan, some doubt has been expressed as to the prospective success in Germany of the contemporary composer's newest work.

Musical circles recalled the fate of Strauss' last opera, "The Silent Woman," whose libretto was written by Steffan Zweig, a Jew.

Its première in Dresden was followed by the dismissal of Strauss from his posts as president of the reich's culture chamber and chairman of the Federation of German Composers. Since then Strauss has been very little in the public view.

Romance comes to girls like these

CAROLYN M. JACOBI, Boston fashion artist, writes: "My skin grew nicer very soon after I began to use Lux Toilet Soap. When I was married a year ago in July, people said the bride had lovely skin! I made up my mind then never to use any other soap!"

AILEEN RYAN—young Morristown, New Jersey, secretary—writes: "Everything you say about Lux Toilet Soap is true. It keeps my skin so clear and smooth that I never worry about getting Cosmetic Skin. Nobody knows it yet, but I've met the man."

CAMILLA RAY is a photographer's model. She says: "A girl who's a professional model simply has to keep her skin top notch. I do just what you advise about using Lux Toilet Soap to remove cosmetics. My fiancé says my skin couldn't be better!"

CHERIE OVERTON, popular New York debutante, writes: "I could never think of facing the whirl of parties and dates if I wasn't sure about my skin. Lux Toilet Soap has done wonders for it." Popular girls keep complexions lovely the easy Lux Toilet Soap way!

"Wise girls guard against COSMETIC SKIN the Screen Stars' way," says Ruby Keeler

"DON'T take chances with Cosmetic Skin!" says Ruby Keeler. "I guard against it with Lux Toilet Soap. I use powder and rouge, but I use this soap regularly to keep my skin smooth." When cosmetics are left choking the pores, Cosmetic Skin develops—tiny blemishes, dullness, enlarged pores. Lux Toilet Soap's ACTIVE lather sinks deep into the pores, removes every trace of dust, dirt, stale cosmetics. Use it before you put on fresh make-up during the day —ALWAYS before you go to bed.

New Quarters for Arts Club Open in Fall

Complete Plans Announced by President.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THAT the Arts club will be the setting for more private parties than ever after its move into new quarters in the South Wrigley building is certain. For the new home of this smart club, which numbers in its membership people of social and varied artistic tastes, is to be 60 per cent larger than the present home in the North Wrigley building. Letters announcing that plans have been completed for the new clubrooms to be opened next October first were received by the members yesterday.

The new rooms will occupy the entire second floor and a large part of the third floor. On the second floor will be a large lounge which by means of removable columns can be transformed into an assembly room; it will front on the river and have a stage at one end with a small library adjoining.

Three exhibition galleries will extend along the other side, and there will be a dance floor and a place for card playing. The elevator foyer will be the club's exclusively. On the third floor will be the dining room and kitchen with a large dining room on the river. A grand staircase twenty-two feet wide will connect the two floors. The letter is signed by Elizabeth Fuller Goodspeed [Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed], president. Arthur Heun has drawn the architectural plans for the new rooms.

Summer Closing Effective Tuesday.

No mention is made of any plans for a bar, something every club finds essential in these post-prohibition days, but no doubt Mr. Heun has made provision in his plans for some place in which liquid refreshments will be served. The fact that the dance floor is described in Mrs. Goodspeed's letter as "good" will appeal to young people for the dance floor has been the one complaint they have had against having more dancing parties in the present club.

The present clubrooms on the third floor of the North Wrigley building will be closed after Monday. For thirteen years the club has been located there, having moved there from a location on Michigan avenue, south of the Fine Arts building in which the club had its first quarters. The club was started in 1915 and Mrs. Robert G. McGann was its president then, but the late Mrs. John Alden Carpenter succeeded her shortly and was its efficient and popular president until her death five years ago. Mrs. Goodspeed has served as president since then.

The Casino, which also closes its doors during the warm weather months, will be dark from the 27th of June until the 14th of September.

Plan Teas at Camp for Crippled Children.

Over a luncheon table yesterday at the Casino some of the board of managers of the Emilie Lehmann Peacock Camp for Crippled Children discussed plans for giving six teas during the summer at the camp, which is to open Monday. The use of twenty acres at Lake Villa with a lake and a furnished house has been granted to the camp managers by Mrs. William Haerther, Mrs. G. William Reynolds, and Mrs. Maurice V. Reynolds in memory of their mother, Mrs. Emilie Lehmann Peacock. The donors also are giving fresh garden vegetables, the necessary ice, and $300 per season

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

Depreciation—Logic—Games.

A FEW days ago a teacher of the sixth grade at the William Penn school—name Ann Barzel—took her class to the ABC studios in the Civic Opera building where they made answer over the air to inquiries she put to them.

"What would you do if you had a hundred dollars?" she asked 10 year old Sol Wernick.

"I'd buy a 1936 P—— automobile," he answered promptly, naming an expensive make of car.

"But you couldn't buy that car with a hundred dollars," he was told.

"By the time I got together a hundred dollars I could," retorted the lad.

"Domestic. Why should I pay their way over," retorted the patron.

THE parlor game that was popular some years ago has cropped out again, and people are running about the drawing room after dinner trying to guess their own identity, which is printed on a slip of paper pinned to their backs. Each player must guess what prominent person he represents by the questions asked him by other players. Thus at a recent gathering one player concluded she was one of the Dionne quintuplets because every one chucked her under the chin and talked baby talk to her; another that she was Emily Post because of the questions put to her concerning etiquet, and a third decided he was Clark Gable when all the ladies tried to kiss him. The man who was Dr. Dafoe had no trouble at all identifying himself, and neither did Alf Landon. Time makes changes. When the game was being played some years ago a few of the persons represented were John Gilbert, Mae Murray, Prince Mdvani, Al Smith, and Queen Marie.

* *

HOW fame diminishes when the publicity dies down was demonstrated when the aforementioned game was mentioned recently. Queen Marie was named as being one of the persons frequently represented when the game was played in other years. Princess Vasili, who was a member of the group and whose husband, a nephew of the last czar, is related to several royal families, spoke up.

"Who is Queen Marie?" she inquired.

It was explained to her that Queen Marie, who was a relative of her husband, was referred to.

Bucovich Sets New Goal for Camera Artist

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An intriguing exhibition of photographic art prints by Baron Mario Bucovich, an Austrian artist, has opened at the Drake hotel. The most beautiful and unusual item in the show is "Bambus," a three folding screen embellished with an enlargement from an original 9x12 negative of wild grapes against a gray sky. It reminds one directly of dune hill tops.

The same subject has been painted and photographed by Chicago men, but never has the result been used to such fascinating purpose. It opens a new goal to photography.

Baron Bucovich has traveled widely and photographed abundantly. He is showing many stunning portraits of men and women and a group of interesting views of places, buildings and landscapes. A study of hands possesses great merit. Chiefly the portraits are remarkable for their sincerity and honesty. Bucovich deals very little with retouching. His effects are natural and his poses good.

Professional men, actors, diplomats, and royalty have sat for the artist and his exhibit is filled with imposing names. Although Baron Bucovish was trained in the United States as a young man for an engineering career the war stopped him in this, and when he found his liberty again he fell into the pursuit of photography.

He has taken his camera into most of the interesting places in the world and his records are full of entertaining and delightful incidents. At present he is making England his home; it is, according to him, the only country where a sane man can live sanely on the other side of the Atlantic.

Down the hall from this exhibit are hanging the portraits by Baroness Violet Wenner, under the auspices of the All-Illinois Society of the Fine Arts. Baroness Wenner shows numerous important paintings of such personages as ex-President Hoover, President Roosevelt, Gov. Horner, and the like. Her portraits of Count Zeppelin and Prof. Paul Clairmont of Zurich stand out as two of the finest. Several little paintings have charm, chief among them a study of a hand and a quaint, restful still life of a tiny bouquet of flowers.

The exhibitions will continue some two weeks.

ENGAGEMENTS

The wedding will take place Aug. 22 at St. Chrysostom's church.

Shoes in High Color Accent White Clothes

Blazing Footgear Worn on Many Occasions.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

There's nothing like blazing colored footgear to dramatize the icy splendor of the all-white ensembles that are so tremendously effective during the heat wave weeks. All-white suits, all-white three piece outfits of dress and jacket, smart, simple all-white heavy silk dresses with short, cool sleeves and clever details that make them distinctive enough to wear to even formal luncheons, all are the better for the glowing footnotes of color.

One smart shoe shop is positively giddy with the splashing color hits of the season! Gaudy golds to wear as footnotes for white, green just as compelling to behold, sapphire blue, copper, and a good flaming red are some of the eye openers you will find. Matched to bags, the world is yours to startle, especially when the shoes and bags are the only colors to relieve the clear, cold white outfits.

Simple street shoes in any of these bright and cheerful tones have decorative though practical heels, just high enough to redeem them from any suggestion of being pluggy, and yet so designed that they keep you comfortable after hours of wear.

If the one color models seem a bit calm for your exuberant spirits, and you really want to step into the color business with emphasis, you'll like the flippant sandals combining three good bright colors. The toe sections are just a matter of cross straps with enough space between to make them the coolest things you can find. Some are tied coquettishly high on the instep with a small ribbon bow, others are buckled a bit more sedately, and the heels are frivolous enough for any one. The soft suede finish kidskin makes them ideal finds for afternoon dresses, for cool white sheers and sheer dinner clothes.

Fashion photograph . . . Countless yards of fine white val lace fashion a romantic dance dress for summer. Baby blue grosgrain ribbon makes the shoulder straps and the tie sash belt. Blue-mauve violets and a single moss rose bud are tied at the left waistline. The skirt flares from the kneeline to the floor, and the underslip is of dull white crêpe. It will be found in a Chicago shop.

Barbara Hutton's Son Christened at Chapel of Marlborough House

LONDON, June 11.—(AP)—Lance, the 3½ months' old son of Count Court Haugwitz-Reventlow and the former Barbara Hutton, was christened today in Danish services in the private chapel of Marlborough house.

About 75 persons watched the baby being carried into the church by his nurse, accompanied by his richly dressed mother, the heiress to the Woolworth fortune.

The christening service was attended by the Danish minister, since the baby's father is a member of the Danish nobility.

Marlborough house is soon to be the home of Queen Mary.

The party will be given at the Skokie Country club and preceding it there will be numerous cocktail and dinner parties all along the north shore, some of the hostesses being Mrs. Samuel C. Smart and Mrs. Tom E. Hough, co-chairmen of the committee in charge; Mrs. Vernon Welsh, Mrs. Henry MacFarland, Mrs. Richard Matthiessen, Miss Susan Miller, Mrs. Erwin Meyer, Mrs. Earl Bryson, and Mrs. Endicott Bradstreet. This picture of Miss McKisson was taken at the Glen View Country club.

Barbour-Dillingham Wedding Takes Place in Paterson Today

A wedding of interest to Chicago society that is taking place today in Paterson, N. J., is that of Miss Harriet Barbour, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards Barbour of Kilbarchan, Paterson, to Lowell Smith Dillingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Dillingham of La Pietra, Honolulu. Mrs. Dillingham is the former Louise Adams of Chicago and all her children have visited in Chicago many times.

The service will be read at 4 o'clock in the Church of the Messiah, the Rev. Robert R. Bryan officiating. Miss Betty Lou Dillingham will be one of the seven attendants of Miss Barbour and among the ushers will be William B. Cudahy, Wyndham Hasler, and Andrew B. Cooke of Chicago. Mr. Dillingham will be his son's best man.

After a short wedding trip Mr. Dillingham and his bride will sail for Honolulu.

Hepburn Gets Jitters; Sits Out a Preview

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 11.—[Special.]—Katharine Hepburn's volatile moodiness sometimes amazes even herself. She got her manager, Leland Hayward, to drive her to Santa Barbara, where a "sneak" preview of her recently completed picture, "Mary of Scotland," was being shown.

Arrived in front of the theater, the star got an attack of the jitters about her acting and refused to go into the showhouse. Hayward's efforts at soothing the actress resulted only in making a crowd of people aware of her identity, and soon her automobile was surrounded by a buzzing crowd.

So Katy told Hayward to drive her away. They drove off a short distance, parked the car, and Katharine sat in the car and read a book under the street lights. Hayward plied back and forth between the automobile and the theater bringing reports as to how the audience was receiving her production. When the film was over and the final report was that the audience clapped and beamed Katy felt all pepped up and insisted on driving to a nearby hotel, where she ate a big midnight meal.

William Powell is said to have received $5,000 for one fifteen minute radio broadcast, but lamented that his income was at such a height that the government will take most of this added compensation in taxes. Marlene Dietrich, it is said, was promised $7,500 for her fifteen minute broadcast.

R. K. O.-Radio studio is seeking two girls, 3 and 5, who not only look a great deal like each other but who also look a great deal like either Katharine Hepburn or Herbert Marshall. The girls are supposed to play the daughter of Miss Hepburn and Marshall in "Portrait of a Rebel." There is an interval of two years between some of the scenes, therefore two children for one picture rôle.

Many actresses rest their feet when their head is doing the work [close-ups and such] by going through their scenes in comfortable slippers or sneakers, which don't show in the shot. It was late in a hard day for Alice Faye, Adolphe Menjou, Gregory Ratoff, Ted Healy, and Patsy Kelly on the set of "Sing, Baby, Sing" at Twentieth Century when the camera man got around to a close-up of Alice and Menjou.

Alice wanted to rest her feet. "Bring me some low heels," she called out to the wardrobe girl.

Miss Kelly pricked up her ears. "Ratoff! Healy! Front and center," she chirped.

Caroline Chew, Chinese-American girl whose father edits the San Francisco Chinese newspaper, Chung Gai Yat Po, has been given a featured start in films as a dancer in M. G. M.'s "The Good Earth." Audiences who see the completed film probably will remember her saber dance, done to tom toms and drums. It's a dance symbolical of the slaying of the dragon by Prince Li and is an adaptation of a dance 2,000 years old. Miss Chew attended an American college and then founded a "school for oriental dancing and culture" in San Francisco.

Children's Theater at Pier Will Hold Registration July 6

Chicago boys and girls from 8 to 18 years old may register Monday, July 6, for free lessons in dancing, drama, and music to be offered for eight weeks at the Children's Civic theater. The theater is financed by the city and conducted under the auspices of the Chicago Drama league. Registration will be at the Navy Pier auditorium. Three operettas will be given by the children, the first to be July 27, by the high school age group.

This civic work was inaugurated by the Chicago Drama league 18 years ago with the object of keeping city children off the streets and offering them an opportunity to develop in knowledge of the arts. Mrs. Ernest R. Graham and Mrs. William E. Vogelback are co-chairmen of the league's committee.

Field Museum Points to Educational Factors Available to Young

"The museum," Stephen C. Simms, director, said, "offers children inexpensive journeys through the world's wonderlands. The cost is only carfare. The building is cool and safe from trafic hazards. The young people will enjoy themselves while learning valuable facts about nature and mankind. There are many new exhibits for those who have not recently visited the museum."

The visiting hours are from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily, and children are admitted free every day. There is a cafeteria, as well as lunchrooms for those who bring their own food.

Tire Easily?

That dragged-out feeling is frequently due to poisons absorbed by the blood from constipated bowels. Headaches, sleeplessness and skin trouble can all be traced to the same source.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody. Nujol is safe for everybody. It does not affect the stomach, and is not absorbed by the body. Medical authorities approve Nujol because it is so safe, so gentle and so natural in its action.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if you don't feel better than you ever suspected you could.

Feed Them "Strength-Building Iodine" for Blood and Glands!

Thousands say Seedol Kelpamalt is Quickest Way Yet to Add Lbs. of Solid Flesh, Build Strength, Feel Better—Sleep and Eat Better!

Seedol Kelpamalt, the new natural mineral concentrate from the sea — richest source of NATURAL IODINE—gets right down and corrects one of the real underlying causes of weakness, skinniness and nervous, rundown conditions—IODINE STARVED GLANDS. When these glands don't work properly all the food in the world can't help you. It just isn't turned into flesh. The result is, you stay weak and nervous, tired out and skinny.

The most important gland—the one which actually controls body weight and strength-building—needs a definite ration of iodine all the time—natural assimilable iodine (not to be confused with chemical iodides which often prove toxic). Only when the system gets an adequate supply of iodine can you regulate metabolism—the body's process of converting digested foods into firm flesh, new strength and energy. Seedol Kelpamalt contains 1300 times more iodine than oysters, once considered the best source.

Try SEEDOL KELPAMALT for one week. Notice how much better you feel, sleep and eat—watch at least five husky new pounds appear. You will have increased strength and energy, freedom from nervousness. Results absolutely guaranteed or the trial is free.

Get Seedol Kelpamalt today. Your doctor will approve of this way. SEEDOL KELPAMALT costs little to use.

New Quarters for Arts Club Open in Fall

Complete Plans Announced by President.

to assist in the maintenance of the camp.

The women interested in the camp have secured subscriptions for enough to carry on the camp for two years and it is for the subscribers that the teas will be given so that they can see to what use their money is being put. Sixteen girls will be at the camp for the first six weeks and the same number of boys will be there for the last six weeks of the summer. The managers had intended having more children during the season for two week periods but the doctors at the Home for Destitute Crippled Children in the city, from where most of the camp children will come, have assured the women that it would be better to have fewer children for longer vacations.

Mrs. Otto Lehmann, whose husband was a brother of the late Mrs. C. D. Peacock [Emilie Lehmann], is chairman of the board of managers, the other members of which are Mrs. Frank Reynolds, who is vice chairman and treasurer; Mrs. Lithgow Mitchell, secretary, Mrs. Howard Emig, Mrs. Sidney Strotz, Mrs. Theodore S. Proxmire, Mrs. Boyd Hill, Mrs. Maurice Bent, Miss Betty Longstaff, Miss Annie May Henry, Miss Ann Winston, Miss Betty Keith, Mrs. A. D. Plamondon Jr., Mrs. Leonard Prince, Mrs. Elliott Detchon, and Mrs. Haerther.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehmann, Dr. Proxmire, Dr. Edward L. Campere, Mrs. Benjamin L. Behr, Mrs. Brode Davis, Mrs. Harry H. Lobdell, G. William Reynolds, Maurice V. Reynolds, Mrs. H. Foster Straw, Mr. Haerther, and his mother, Mrs. Emily Haerther, and Richard Greiner are on the board of directors of this new charitable institution.

Others at Casino for Luncheon.

Lunching at an adjoining table in the Casino were Mrs. Charles Garfield King who leaves tomorrow for the east, not to return until autumn; Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, who will leave soon for her summer place in the Adirondacks; Mrs. Irene Sidley, Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, who also will be leaving soon for a summer in the east, and Miss Gretchen Green of New York. However, the talk, no doubt, was of more serious things than summer vacation plans, for all of the women are very much interested in many worth while things, including the Red Cross and the Seeing Eye, in the interest of Miss Green is here.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Greenlee entertained at dinner at the Casino last night for Miss Louise Fentress and Dr. Fravel Scammon Barry, who are to be married tomorrow at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Fentress, in Hubbard Woods. After dinner the Greenlees took their young guests to see Katharine Cornell in "Saint Joan."

Tonight Dr. and Mrs. George Barry, the bridegroom's parents, will give the bridal dinner in their Evanston home. Mr. and Mrs. Fentress returned to Chicago yesterday with their younger son, David Wendell Fentress, who was graduated this week at Lehigh university. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Behlen of Ardsley, N. Y., arrived here yesterday, too, for the wedding of Mrs. Behlen's sister.

Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin is sailing for Europe today on the Ile de France, accompanied by her daughter, Barbara. They will be away for a month or five weeks.

Mrs. George S. Oram Returns to New Jersey.

Mrs. George S. Oram, the former Grace Dewes, and her baby son left yesterday for their home in New Jersey after a visit of several weeks with her mother, Mrs. Edwin P. Dewes.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Donald Bateman [Elizabeth Hart] are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, a daughter, at noon Wednesday at the Evanston hospital. The infant has been named Judith. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. Stillson Hart and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bateman, all of Barrington, where young Mr. and Mrs. Bateman make their home.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Johnston announce the marriage of their daughter, Isabel, to Francis E. Williams, which will take place at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening at the Moreland Lutheran church, followed by a reception at the Carleton hotel. Mr. Williams and his bride will live in Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis L. Harmon, uncle and aunt of tiny Judith, who now are living in Colchester, N. Y., are hoping to come to Barrington on their vacation this summer.

Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker returned yesterday from Asheville, N. C., where she went for the graduation from the Asheville school of her son, Warren Jr. Her daughter, Miss Helen, has just graduated from Dana Hall in Wellesley, Mass. Miss Shoemaker will not be at home very long, for she is sailing on June 27 to spend the summer in France with a group of school friends. In the autumn she will enter Sarah Lawrence college.

Mrs. Kirk Returning to West Coast

Mrs. Wallace F. Kirk, who was with her sister, Mrs. William M. Scudder, when she returned from a winter in Santa Barbara, until she went east to get her children, Vesta and Samuel A. Culbertson II., will pass through town today on her way back to Santa Barbara, where she has taken a house at 1 Rametto road for the summer. The children have been in eastern schools, but will spend the summer with their mother on the west coast.

The junior Louis F. Swifts and their infant son, who have been staying with Mrs. Swift's parents, Mr. and Samuel T. Chase, in Lake Forest, are moving today to the George Strom house in Wheaton, which they have taken for an indefinite period. Another of the Chases' daughters, Mrs. Frederick Hauck, who also is visiting the Chases, is leaving with her little daughter next week for their home in New York.

Mrs. Rudolph Altrocchi and her two sons have come from their home in Berkeley, Cal., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ward Cooley, of Greenwood avenue. Mr. Altrocchi will join his family soon and they will go to their Michigan cottage at Singing Sands, Harbert, to remain until Nov. 1. Mrs. Altrocchi's story in verse of the Donner expedition in 1846 has just been published under the title "Snow Covered Wagons."

James Breasteds Will Take Auto Trip in South.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Breasted Jr. [Helen Hull Ewing], who arrived at home two weeks ago from England, where they have been living since their marriage last August, are leaving today or tomorrow for a motor trip south. They have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hull Ewing, in Lake Forest, and will return to be the Ewings' guests at the conclusion of their southern trip.

Miss Katherine Ewing, who teaches dramatics at Vassar, where she was graduated several years ago, will arrive at home next month to spend the summer.

Mrs. James W. L. Stone, the former Cherie Burnham, has been visiting her parents, the Hubert Burnhams, in Evanston. She will return to her home in California next week. Mr. and Mrs. Burnham and their younger daughter, Miss Mardi, are leaving about June 16 to spend the rest of the summer in their Mackinac Island home.

Miss Nancy and Miss Emmy Lou Freund have returned from schools in the east to spend the summer with their mother, Mrs. Ernst Freund. Mrs. Freund and her daughters are debating whether to vacation on a Wyoming ranch. Miss Nancy, who is a student at Sarah Lawrence college, will not come out for another year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes Jr. and their daughter, Miss Nancy Leigh Bowes, will return to Highland Park next Sunday from Warrenton, Va. Miss Nancy was graduated last week from the Warrenton Country school and her father and Mrs. Bowes flew there to attend the exercises. They had landed in New York that morning after several weeks in England. Mr. and Mrs. William A. Blake, who live in New York, flew south with the Boweses to see Mrs. Blake's niece receive her diploma. Another aunt, Mrs. Scott Nesbit of Covington, Va., was in Warrenton, too, for the occasion.

Evelyn Lawrence, who with her sister, Kitty, goes to the Warrenton school, has returned to spend the summer in Barrington with her mother, Mrs. Samuel Davis Rowe, and Mr. Rowe. Kitty is remaining in the east for a fortnight's visit in Englewood, N. J., before coming home.

Bucklins Return from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Vail R. Bucklin and their daughter, Miss Gene Bucklin, have returned to Chicago from their California ranch. V. Rhodes Bucklin Jr. was graduated on June 5 from the Boys' Latin school. He will accompany his parents and his sister to their farm in Vermont this summer, leaving soon after July 4, and next fall he will enter Williams college, where his roommate will be Warner Baird Jr., who also was graduated this year from the Boys' Latin.

Mrs. Franklin M. Miller is sailing tomorrow for Italy to be away until late in August. In July she will go to Germany for some of the musical festivals and then will go to Paris and London before returning home.

U. of C. Accepts Gift for Blumenthal Scholarship

The University of Chicago's board of trustees yesterday formally accepted an initial gift of $600 from Morton Weinress, stock broker, 5555 South Everett avenue, toward an Oscar Blumenthal Memorial scholarship fund for the university. Mr. Weinress, a friend of the late Mr. Blumenthal, Chicago attorney and university alumnus, will provide for one full $300 scholarship a year. It is to be awarded preferably to a student from the west side, if possible from the Jewish People's institute.

Husband Lacks Right to Keep Wife Secluded

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She has been married five months, is not yet 20, lives miles away from her people, and wants to run away from her husband.

If her complaints are true, she has just cause to want to escape. She tells how she left with her husband for a small town in which she knows not a soul. She makes friends easily, but her mate forbids even a single woman pal. He believes that when a girl marries, her husband should be her one and only concern. Were she back in the city in which she was born and raised, she feels the movies and visits to her family and old friends might save her. The tiny home she has cannot keep her occupied more than a few hours a day.

The man forbids correspondence with her old girl friends. He says she must keep away from all the old associations. He's a moody brute, too, from reports. Gets up mornings, eats breakfast, and leaves without a word. Comes home in the evening and often the girl can't get a word out of him. Gives her no money. Takes her no place.

A pretty tragic picture of a bride not yet 20. But what a picture of a husband-misfit in a land populated with husbands known the world over for their kindly consideration of their wives. Something will have to be done to or about the man. Some one will have to take him aside and inform him that he can't keep a woman cooped up in a three by four apartment just because he bought her a wedding ring. It isn't done in our country. Women do not have to stand for cruelty of this order. Few of them do, for long.

There are ways of getting escape money. The girl-bride eventually will report the state of affairs to her family. Pride, we gather, restrains her now from telling them of her mistake. She can get a stamp somehow and send the letter off to them, begging fare home. It's what we'd recommend to throw a scare into the man, although we fear, if the charges against him are true, that he is a pretty inhuman individual, beyond argument or fright.

Of course, one never hears both sides of the story. Maybe intense loneliness embitters the bride, exaggerates the faults. Maybe her own attitude may cause the ugly moods. In any event, a vacation back home appears the wise move right now, and we would recommend the girl writing her people for the money and letting them help to decide the future course to be taken.

According to CULBERTSON

NURSEMAID TACTICS.

Nothing that can happen at the bridge table infuriates an expert so much as to be "taken care of" by a partner. Disputes over questions of bidding or play rarely become acrimonious unless there is the certainty, or even strong suspicion, that either partner has assumed arbitrarily the position of nursemaid, treating the other as a backward child. Resentment over this is, to say the least, natural. The insult is no less great because it is merely implied. Recently I witnessed a controversy of this nature over the hand shown below.

East-West vulnerable.

♠ 7 3
♥ 9 4
♦ J 10 8 5 4 2
♣ K 7 2

WEST
♠ 10 4
♥ A K 7 6 5 3
♦ A K 9

EAST
♠ Q 5 2
♥ 2
♦ Q 7 3
♣ Q J 9 6 5 4

SOUTH
♠ A K J 9 8 6
♥ Q J 10 8
♦ 6
♣ A 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
3 spades	4 hearts	Pass	Pass
Double	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's unconventional three spade bid [this was before the release of the new two-way three bid] was based on his intimate knowledge of West's bridge psychology. He knew West to be a player who absolutely refuses to be "shut out" as long as he holds the semblance of a bid, and therefore deliberately trapped him by making a supposed preëmptive bid on a good defensive hand. He was fortunate enough to catch West with a really tempting hand. To his joy, South not only heard four hearts [of all suits!] bid, but was further delighted when his own partner, North, had to pass.

South visualized the set of the century as he made his penalty double and his disappointment on hearing North take the double out to four spades can only be imagined. The fact that four spades went down to ignominious defeat when East-West amassed two heart tricks, one diamond trick, and a heart ruff by East, was only a little extra fuel on an already blazing fire.

South's opening gun was: "Partner, let me just understand one thing. Do you or do you not recognize a penalty double?"

North probably was not feeling up to snappy repartee, and merely answered: "Generally, yes. But considering that your first bid was a sign of defensive weakness, I didn't think you could beat four hearts with my miserable hand."

"O, I see! And you also thought that, having bid for nine tricks, I couldn't stretch things a bit and bid for ten if I felt there was a reasonable chance of West making four hearts, and a vulnerable game! You thought I doubled because I couldn't figure out what else to do! Well, all I have to say is that you thought us out of 1,150 points!"

He was quite right. Good defense would have defeated the four heart contract four tricks. Two spades, two clubs, and two trumps would have been inevitable, and North's nine of hearts would have accounted for another trick by forcing declarer to ruff with an honor when South, after cashing the club ace, should continue with spade leads.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: What is the correct bid on the following hand:
♠ 3 ♥ 6 5 ♦ A K Q J 9 4 2 ♣ A Q 5?

Answer: Three diamonds, a new two-way three bid. [These bids were explained on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.]

Miss Le Boutillier to Become Bride of Williams Today

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Philip Le Boutillier, 38 East 64th street, parents of Miss Margaret Havens Le Boutillier, who will be married tomorrow to Bronson Williams, entertained members of the bridal party this evening at a supper party at their residence.

The supper followed the rehearsal for the wedding which will be performed at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, and will be followed by a reception in the Cosmopolitan club.

Mrs. Pierre Bourdelle, Mrs. William Lafayette Burton II., Miss Gloria Braggiotti, Miss Marjorie Le Boutillier, Mrs. Bernard Dougall, and Mrs. Edward Allan Tanner will attend the bride.

William George Brunder of Milwaukee, Wis., will be best man, and Lucius Beebe, John Norman Hopkinson, W. J. Schuyler Watts, Jonathan Dorr Pierce, Elim O'Shaughnessy, Curt E. Hansen, Frederick Blake Payne, Philip Le Boutillier Jr., A. K. Mills, Charles Robert Morse of New York City, and Edward Donahoe of Ponca City, Okla., will serve as ushers.

FINDS ALL-BRAN BETTER THAN PILLS, SALTS, AND OILS

This Natural Food Relieved His Constipation*

We quote from his letter: "...So I decided to make a fair trial (of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN), with the result that I felt much improved. I have quit all laxatives since 1929.

"For 34 years, I had to take pills, salts, oils, teas, or other fluids, which did more harm than good. ALL-BRAN now is our breakfast cereal for the whole family."—Mr. Martin Wroblewski, 201 Church Street, Highland Park, Mich.

Meals low in "bulk" often lead to constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides generous "bulk" in effective form. This "bulk" absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, and gently exercises and cleanses the system. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. How much better to use this natural food in place of patent medicines.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. ALL-BRAN is much more effective than part-bran products. It is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

How You Can SAFELY
LOSE FAT
No strict dieting;
No exercising; No drugs—
YET 7 POUNDS A MONTH ARE OFTEN LOST

HERE, at last, is a SAFE way to reduce. A way that does NOT call for strict dieting, exercising, or taking drugs. A way that actually increases your mental and physical energy as pounds of ugly fat seemingly melt away.

Please read carefully: In a recent test, held under the direction of the eminent Dr. Damrau of New York, 14 people who were gaining at the rate of 1⅔ pounds a month, followed this method. And the average loss registered was 7 pounds a person in a single month—WITHOUT STRICT DIETING OR EXERCISING.

What You Do

Now, all you have to do is this: Mix ¾ of a glass of Welch's Grape Juice with ¼ of a glass of water—and drink before each meal, and at bedtime. Then eat sensibly—and this is what happens.

First, Welch's Grape Juice satisfies your craving for rich, sweet foods. You have less desire to over-eat fattening foods—yet you do feel comfortably satisfied.

Second, the grape sugar in Welch's is quickly burned up—producing vital energy—and, most important, helps nature to burn up excess fat.

Only One Thing To Watch

In following this proved, SAFE way to lose ugly fat, eat sensibly—and then there is only one thing to watch. Use only the genuine Welch's Grape Juice. In order to get the finest, selected, premium grapes grown we pay more than anyone in the United States. That is why Welch's is always full strength. No adulterants; no artificial coloring—Certified Pure. Insist upon Welch's.

Welch Grape Juice Co., Westfield, N. Y.

Irene Rich is over 40, but weighs the same as at 16. She says, "Eat sensibly—drink Welch's Grape Juice!"

"Gives Quick Pep and Energy"
"Red" Woodworth, All-American Star and Coach at Morgan Park Military Academy, says: "Welch's Grape Juice gives my boys strength and energy without adding health-destroying fat. The minerals and vitamins are valuable in helping to build red blood, strong bones and teeth. I recommend it for all growing children and athletes. I have also found it excellent between meals as a quick energy pickup-drink for children and grownups."

DO YOU KNOW—

Iodine, unknowingly discovered by a French pharmacist, Bernard Courtois, in 1811, while experimenting with ashes of seaweeds (kelp), derives its name from the Greek word "ion," which means violet, iodine's color when vaporized.

• • •

Only a small percentage of the ultra-violet rays of the sun cause burning and blistering of the skin. Quinine, when specially treated, has the faculty of screening-out these intense rays—without removing the rays that produce tanning of the skin. This specially prepared quinine is contained in Xpose Sun Tan Preparations, sold only in Walgreen Drug Stores.

Great progress has been made in the prevention of Hay-Fever through a series of injections, starting some six or eight weeks before the beginning of the hay-fever season, which gradually build resistance within the system to rag-weed pollen, the major cause of hay-fever. Ask your family physician for complete information concerning this preventive treatment.

LEE SHUTS OUT BEES AFTER A 4 RUN JOLT IN 2D

Hack Hits Homer to Break Tie.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs played the rôle of gay little deceivers yesterday. They spotted Boston's Bees to four runs and then proceeded to prove they were only fooling. They melted down the handicap a bit at a time and then, after getting into a tie, clamped a strangle hold on their eighth straight victory with a pair of runs in the seventh, one of which came on Stanley Hack's homer into the seats. The score was 6 to 4, a doubly pleasing happening because it nudged the champions into second place.

The incident which provided the Bees with all their runs and put a temporary damper on Bill Lee's hopes for his fifth triumph of the year was framed in the second inning. The Boston fellows, usually docile when Bill is performing, put together five hits, three of them two baggers. But after weathering that unexpected blast, the stately Louisianan handled the show in a different way. He gave up only one hit in the last seven innings to the team he has whipped 8 times out of 11 since he joined the Cubs.

Get After Benge.

The first bite the Cubs took at the Bees' apparently handsome lead came in the home second. One run was pushed home just as a hint for Ray Benge that he delay thinking about victory. In the third the champions took him for another jaunt, two scoring. In the sixth, when a hit and run attempt brought rare results, they finally tied it. Then in the seventh Hack's homer and singles by Augie Galan and Frank Demaree put together the two runs that settled everything.

Hack's homer was only part of his conduct as a destroyer of Benge's plans. He walked in the first inning, but nothing came of it. In the third he hit a two bagger which with a single by Galan and a double by Ken O'Dea left the Cubs one shy of a tie. In the fifth Hack walked again, a gift that availed nothing. Then, after Demaree and Allen had taken care of the tying run in the sixth, Hack cut loose with the round trip drive which was supplemented a moment later by the extra run in which Galan and Demaree figured.

Doubles and More Doubles.

Berger slammed a single through short to open the second, and this touched off the four run affair. Cuccinello forced Berger. H. Lee's high fly dropped close to the right field line and bounced into the seats for a double, Cuccinello stopping at third. Coscarart also doubled, this one to left, Cuccinello and H. Lee going home. The doubling continued with Lopez' blast to right center, Coscarart scoring. Benge was tossed out and Urbanski singled to center, sending Lopez over the plate. The rioting stopped on Thompson's pop to Herman.

The Cubs whittled one run from the Bees' lead in the home portion of the inning. O'Dea led off with a pass and Demaree flied to center. Allen beat out a hit to Coscarart, who threw far into right field territory. The blunder should have produced a run, but O'Dea after rounding third could not decide what to do. He finally beat it for home and was thrown out. Allen, who had taken third on the error, scored on a single by Cavarretta. English then walked, but W. Lee flied out.

Two More Cub Runs.

Three hits slipped into the open spaces in the third to furnish the Cubs with two more runs. Hack, the first man up, shot a two bagger past first base. Herman's effort was a harmless fly to right, but Galan singled to that sector and Hack registered. O'Dea hammered a low liner into center for a two bagger and Galan scored. Neither Demaree nor Allen could produce the hit needed to fetch O'Dea home with the tying tally.

Galan picked up a hit for himself

MUNGO TO REJOIN DODGERS; FINE, SUSPENSION OFF

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Van Lingle Mungo, who struck for what he called his rights so dramatically and walked out on the Dodgers in Pittsburgh yesterday, surrendered this afternoon after a conference with Jim Mulvey, vice president of the Brooklyn club.

Steve McKeever, at Ebbets field, announced that Mulvey had induced Mungo to rejoin the Dodgers in Cincinnati on Saturday.

"Mungo has promised to leave here tomorrow, and so the $200 fine is off, and so is the suspension, and all is forgiven and forgotten," said McKeever.

May Get Bonus.

It is believed that Mulvey assured Mungo that if he went out and did his best the Brooklyn club would give him a bonus even if his record was not impressive.

Just how Mungo will be received after the blast he emitted earlier in the day about "150 pound kids" and a "bum ball club," and "that so-and-so who manages our team" is left open to conjecture.

Wants to Become Cub.

Just what right treatment the Mungos wanted they could not define, but a lengthy discussion with the pitcher revealed numerous grievances and a yerning desire that he be traded to the Chicago Cubs in the interest of the club.

Mungo did not admit he was working under a bonus plan, but he and his father did produce box scores claiming that the pitcher's record should be six won and only two games lost, not six and eight, as the figures show.

WOOD, MUNDAY TAKE EARLY LEAD IN BROCK OPEN

FONTHILL, Ont., June 11.—(AP)—Craig Wood, West Orange, N. J., veteran, and Rod Munday of Santa Rosa, Cal., shot the Lookout Point course in par 70 today to set the pace for nearly a hundred competitors in the first round of the Gen. Brock open golf tournament.

Zell Eaton of Oklahoma City trailed the leaders by one stroke as he went one over perfect figures on the first nine and turned in a 71. Bunched with 72s were Gene Kunes of Norristown, Pa., Canadian open champion; Ralph Guldahl of St. Louis, and two Canadians, Bill Kerr of Toronto and Bobby Burns of Montreal.

Mrs. Dennehy Advances in Western Golf

Topeka, Kas., June 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Charles Dennehy today became the Chicago district's only survivor in the western women's open golf tournament. The Lake Forest golfer entered the semi-final round by eliminating Mrs. A. H. Means, Leavenworth, Kas., 4 and 3.

Two other Chicagoans, Mrs. Lillian Zech and Miss Hilda Livengood, were defeated. Mrs. Zech lost to Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, defending champion and medalist, 8 and 7, while Miss Dorothy Traung, San Francisco, triumphed over Miss Livengood, 3 and 1.

In the semi-finals tomorrow Mrs. Hill will meet Miss Edna Saenger, Shreveport, La., who won from Miss Anna Sue Kennedy, Columbia, Mo., 3 and 2, and Mrs. Dennehy will oppose Miss Traung.

Reds Defeat Dodgers, 4-3, in Night Game

Cincinnati, O., June 11.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds tightened their hold on fifth place in the National league tonight by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 3, in the second night game of the major league season here.

A crowd of 16,681, including Ford Frick, National league president, saw the Dodgers take their eighth straight defeat as the Reds broke a tie in the eighth on a single by Riggs and Campbell's double to right.

The Dodgers got to Al Hollingsworth for 12 hits, and, loading the bases with one out in the eighth, knocked him from the mound. Paul Derringer then came in and forced Jordan to pop out after fanning Geraghty. Score:

GERMAN CONSUL SEES SCHMELING IN FINE CONDITION

Boxing Experts Are Not So Enthusiastic.

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Naponoch, N. Y., June 11.—Dr. Hans Borches, German consul general at New York, was an attendant at Max Schmeling's workout this afternoon, watching attentively every ring move of the Black Uhlan, who went seven rounds against the same four sparmates who are now features of his routine on alternate days.

Since Dr. Borches was consul in Cleveland at the time of the Young Stribling fight in 1931 and saw Max win that encounter, this correspondent thought he might have some comment of comparative condition on the two occasions. After we introduced ourself, the consul general was a maze of superlatives over everything Max had done. Perhaps our first question therefore was unfortunate.

An Absurd Question.

"Would Schmeling lose prestige in Germany if he were beaten by Joe Louis next Thursday?" we propounded.

"That question is perfectly absurd," responded Dr. Borches with dignity. "Why should he? Boxing is a sport of fair play and the best man wins. If Max does his best he will lose nothing in respect. We honor sports in Germany, hence the Olympic games being held there."

"Was there any objection to his fighting a colored boy?"

"Not in the least, or he would not be here. Nor would I be present at his training camp. There should be no politics, no race prejudice in sports."

"And what do you think of his condition compared to Cleveland, Doctor?"

"He's marvelous. Everything he does is marvelous. Look how he boxes, look how he takes all those blows from those husky young men without flinching or retreating a step. Of course, I hope he will win. I'm not an expert on boxing, but his condition is marvelous and I can see he is trying his hardest to win."

Others Not So Enthusiastic.

Boxing experts assembled from all sections of the country, arriving in still greater numbers as the battle nears, were not as enthusiastic as the consul general. Included in this number were representatives from German, French, Swedish, and English newspapers.

Commissioner Bill Brown of the New York commission, who earned immortal distinction by declaring Max Baer not in fair condition to fight and wanting the bout postponed the week before Max Baer took the title from Primo Carnera, gave his official O. K. to Schmeling's physical condition, but belittled the opposing sparmen who did not, in his opinion, have the speed or stamina to carry the battle to Max and sharpen his timing or his defense.

Better, but Not Impressive.

Schmeling in his boxing looked better than on Tuesday, although his work still was not impressive, even allowing for the fact that he never is showy in his workouts. Sparmates did not reach his head as often with straight lefts, but it still was a target.

The German drove his right cross frequently but seemed to poise before delivering, losing time thereby. The uppercut employed in previous workouts was reserved for clinches. Lack of speed on his part and that of his opponents was the principal criticism voiced.

Following seven rounds against Heinz Kohlhass, Henry Cooper, Mickey McAvoy, and Jimmy Johnson, the usual shadow boxing, bag punching, floor calisthenics, and rope skipping followed. Schmeling's weight remained at 193 after the workout which 400 persons attended.

Louis Polishes Uppercut in 8 Round Drill for Schmeling

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lakewood, N. J., June 11.—Just before Joe Louis was scheduled to enter the ring this afternoon, with more than two thousand in the neat open air arena here at the Stanley hotel, and with Clem McCarthy of the National Broadcasting system clearing his throat preparatory to a fifteen minute radio story of the drill, the gray clouds opened up a torrent of rain which disrupted the program. Hundreds were caught in the storm and Joe Louis, guarded by state troopers and holding his bathrobe over his head, made a hurried retreat.

The ring canvas was thoroughly soaked, so that an indoor drill, the first of the camp, was necessary. Moreover, the radio equipment also was put temporarily out of commission.

Several Women Faint.

The rooms off the Stanley hotel lobby scarcely could accommodate the spectators who already had paid admission. Most of them jammed into the inadequate space, however, but with the windows closed, lest Joe catch cold, the air soon became fetid and several women fainted.

Louis worked eight rounds. In most he was laboriously practicing the tactics he expects to use against his German opponent, Max Schmeling, next Thursday night in Yankee stadium. Only against young George Godfrey, of Baltimore, a beefy colored spar mate, did Joe loose his best blows and only then under the urging of the packed hundreds who didn't care for Godfrey's activity which, to say the least, constituted lese majesty.

Godfrey Really Means It.

Protected by the customary headgear and the huge 14 ounce gloves, Godfrey actually fought Louis as if he meant it and wasn't merely trying to fill the terms of his contract. Joe opened up in the second round with a series of lefts to the face followed by a vicious right uppercut and had the ambitious Godfrey wobbling helpless on the ropes. Jack Blackburn, Joe's trainer, charitably called the end of the round.

The right uppercut, so we discovered today, is the punch Louis expects to finish Schmeling. He has seen the movies of the Schmeling-Stribling fight held in Cleveland five years ago, and the observations of his coaches are that a short right uppercut is the blow which will prove most effective.

Louis primarily is a counter puncher. He can and does lead when necessary but he prefers to have his opponent declare himself. Schmeling, so Blackburn insists, is best when he crowds in close, weaving and bobbing. To meet this attack, Louis is using the right uppercut.

Joe Misses Frequently.

Joe missed frequently with this blow as he shuffled back from his spar mates who apparently had been instructed to crowd him. At the same time he also found opportunities to connect and when he did, the blows carried more power, if this is possible, than the long overhand right which stopped Primo Carnera, or the shorter hooks to the head which completely discouraged Max Baer in four rounds.

Louis met five opponents in today's drills. He started with a round against Bud Schildknecht of Kansas City. Then came Young Godfrey for two rounds. Salvatore Ruggeriello of New York fought two cautious rounds while the crowd, predominantly colored, urged Joe to knock out the Ital-

DE SHONG HURLS TWO HIT GAME FOR SENATORS

Gives Washington 1st Over Chicago.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 11.—Debonair Jimmy DeShong, who was rained out of a potential victory in Chicago on May 12, this afternoon found nothing of a thwarting character as he set down the White Sox with a 2 to 0 two hit performance for the Senators' first 1936 victory over the Chicagoans.

One of the two hits which the Sox registered off the elegant Mr. DeShong, an infield single by Jim Dykes, was spurious to the extent that it was rung up on a wild hop past Ossie Bluege with two out in the fifth. The other was a full blown swat, a double off the left field wall by Jackie Hayes, with two out in the seventh.

DeShong didn't dilly-dally in turning in his excellent performance, his seventh victory of the year. The Sox consumed just one hour and 26 minutes in taking their spanking.

DeShong walked three. One of the walkers, Zeke Bonura, was plucked off first, and the other two didn't get passage until two were out. They never progressed beyond first.

Zeke Must Have Been Tired.

Bonura was the first to get on base, but Zeke didn't stay on long. He walked to start the second and to all intents and purposes was lounging in a morris chair when Bolton threw the ball to Kuhel, who tagged Zeke while he still was several feet from the bag. Kreevich and Hayes then got the rest of the Chicago half of the inning over with.

Stone opened the home second with a double to left center and stopped at third on Kuhel's blooper to short center. Bolton hit into a double play started by Piet, Stone scoring. Kress singled to center, but Bluege grounded to Piet.

Senators Collect Another.

Three infield taps by Piet, Washington, and Bonura disposed of the Sox in the fourth. With one out in the home fourth, Stone beat out a bunt to Dykes. Kuhel supplied the second out with a pop to Hayes, but Bolton doubled past Radcliff, Stone scoring the Senators' second run. Kress flied to Radcliff.

A pebble gave the Sox their first hit with two out in the fifth. After De Shong had tossed out Kreevich and Hayes had popped to Kress, Dykes sent a grounder toward Bluege. Ossie seemed about to capture the ball when it took a wild hop and went for a single. Grube walked, but Cain flied to Travis.

Bluege doubled over third at the outset of the fifth. Then De Shong was called out on strikes, Powell flied to Radcliff and Lewis grounded to Piet.

Radcliff reached first at the start of the sixth when Kuhel had his foot off the bag on receiving a throw from Bluege. Piet hit into a double play, launched by DeShong and Washington tapped to Kress.

Stone Injured; Leaves Game.

Travis opened the Washington sixth with a single to center and was forced by Stone. Stone was forced by Kuhel. In maneuvering to break up a possible double play, Stone was injured and had to leave the game. Bolton singled to center, Kuhel reaching third, but the inning ended when Dykes threw out Kress.

With two out in the seventh, Hayes delivered the first untainted hit off DeShong, a double off the left field wall, but promptly died on Dyke's gentle bounce to Kress.

Bluege singled to left to start the Washington seventh, and reached second on Radcliff's fumble. He went to third on De Shong's sacrifice. Powell lined to Hayes and Bluege was doubled off third, Hayes to Dykes.

Appling, making his first appearance in the lineup since May 28, batted for Grube at the start of the eighth and was thrown out by DeShong. Haas batted for Cain and flied to Hill. Radcliff grounded to Kress.

YANKEES DEFEAT WILTING TIGERS IN 10TH, 10 TO 9

Gehrig, Reiber, Goslin Hit Homers in Slugfest.

New York, June 11.—(AP)—The Yankees maintained their 2½ game American league lead today by outlasting the Detroit Tigers, 10 to 9, in a ten inning slugging duel.

Red Rolfe's double, sending in the tying and winning runs with one out in the last of the tenth, broke up the ball game after the Tigers had gone to the front in their half of the extra inning.

Lou Gehrig hit his twelfth homer of the year, a drive into the right field bleachers with Rolfe on base, in the first inning to give the Yanks their first two runs. Earlier the Tigers had scored twice on a hit, a walk, and an error in their half of the first frame.

Goose Goslin smashed out his tenth home run with a mate on base in the third to put the Tigers in front, and Frank Reiber, filling in for the ailing Mickey Cochrane behind the plate, hit a round tripper in the ninth to tie the score after the Yanks had taken the lead with a three run splurge in the eighth.

ATHLETICS, 5; INDIANS, 2.

Philadelphia, June 11.—(AP)—Indian Bob Johnson went on the warpath today, hitting two homers and a double to drive in four runs as the Athletics defeated the Cleveland Indians 5 to 2 in the opener of the current series.

His stick work and the five hit pitching of Harry Kelley put the Athletics in front to stay from the second inning to the finish. Mel Harder, who went the route for the Tribe, was touched for 11 hits.

GEHRIG PASSES GEHRINGER IN BIG 6 BATTING

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees moved into second place in the American league trio of baseball's Big Six yesterday by smashing out a homer in two trips to the plate and boosting his average 1 point to .363. Charley Gehringer of the Tigers fell to third place with .362, losing 1 percentage point by collecting one hit in three times up. Stu Martin of the Cardinals held his margin over Bill Terry in the National league by getting two hits in five times at bat while the Giants' manager was idle. The standings:

DOCTORS EXPECT TO OPERATE ON TIGER MANAGER

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—[Special.]—Physicians today announced that an operation probably will be performed on Mickey Cochrane, manager of the world champion Detroit Tigers. Cochrane, who entered Henry Ford hospital yesterday, may be out of the Tigers' lineup for the remainder of the season.

The champions received another setback when it was learned that Hank Greenberg, star first baseman, will be out of the lineup for another six weeks. Physicians reported that his wrist has failed to heal rapidly and he was ordered to wear a cast for two more weeks.

PETERSEN GETS BIG 10 MEDAL AT U. OF C. BANQUET

Gordon C. Petersen, University of Chicago basketball center, and end and center in football for three years, was awarded the Western conference medal for proficiency in athletics and scholarship last night at the 33d annual banquet of the Order of the C, held in Hutchinson commons on the campus.

Petersen, who came to the Midway from Long Beach, Cal., and has achieved the highest scholarly rating of the lettermen who will graduate Tuesday, received the medal in the presence of 350 Maroon monogram winners of past as well as recent years.

Preceding the dinner an alumni baseball team, behind the able pitching of Pat Page, who hurled for the Maroons nearly 30 years ago, defeated the varsity team, 7 to 4. Page yielded only one hit in the six innings he pitched.

Three members of the original group of "C" men, for the season of 1892-'93, Prof. Henry G. Gale, Dr. A. R. E. Wyant, and Henry D. Speer, and representatives of nearly every other class, attended the banquet, at which 48 men who won their first letters this year were inducted into the order.

CARDINALS LOSE TO LOWLY PHILS IN SLUGFEST, 12-4

Three St. Louis Pitchers Yield 13 Hits.

St. Louis, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—Coming to life with four runs in each the eighth and ninth innings, Jimmy Wilson's crew from Philadelphia smashed out its first victory of the season over the St. Louis Cardinals, 12 to 4, today.

Inefficiency on the part of the St. Louis hitters and poor work in the field, rather than any too tight Philadelphia pitching, were responsible for the wide margin of victory.

Showing impartiality the Phillies tallied four times each off Jim Winford, Leslie Munns, and Bill Cox. Wilson started Orville Jorgens and yanked him in the sixth inning for Claude Passeau.

Ted Lyons Hurls in Second Game Against Senators

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 11.—Ted Lyons who scored the first of his three 1936 victories when the White Sox were here last month, will go after another one against Washington tomorrow. He will be opposed by Buck Newsom.

Buddy Myer, 1935 American league batting champion, who was out of the lineup because of light hitting when the Sox were here on their first eastern trip, didn't play today. It is said he hasn't been feeling well.

The fact that the Republicans are holding a convention in Cleveland doesn't seem to have depleted the Washington population. Five thousand Democrats were willing to leave Cleveland broadcasts and attend today's baseball contest.

PAY $2,000 IN ACCIDENT CASE AGAINST HAGEN

St. Paul, Minn., June 11.—[Special.]—The $4,192 court judgment against Walter Hagen, one of the country's leading golf professionals, whose automobile killed Laurence Johnson, 6 year old St. Paul boy, during the St. Paul open tournament in 1934, was settled for $2,000 today. The settlement was authorized by District Judge R. A. Walsh when the company with which Hagen was insured offered to end the case by giving the boy's mother, Mrs. Marie E. F. Johnson, $2,000.

in the fifth, but he'll never get credit for it. Hack opened with a pass and Herman lofted to Berger. Galan sent a fly to short right, and because it looked as if the ball might be caught, Hack had to loiter between first and second. When the ball dropped in front of the infielder, Hack legged it to second, but Thompson's throw to Urbanski beat him by an eyelash, thus costing Galan his single. The Cubs put on the usual beef about the decision, but Umpire Reardon assured them he was correct. Galan then stole second, but O'Dea was thrown out.

Hack Breaks Tie.

Having been cheated by a freak happening in the fifth, the Cubs put on another in the sixth and this time got results. Demaree started the inning with a single to center. The hit and run play was ordered and the pitch was slightly wide. Allen, hoping to protect the runner, tossed his bat at the ball and sent it twisting past Cuccinello for a single, Demaree taking third. He scored the tying run while Cavarretta was being thrown out on a high bounder.

The first pitch by Benge in the seventh was enough to untie the 4 to 4 knot. Hack converted the pitch into a homer over the right field screen, making his third of the season. After Herman had popped out, Galan scratched a single through Jordan's hands and moved to second on a wild pitch. O'Dea was erased on a fly to Berger, whereupon Demaree singled to left, scoring Galan and knocking Benge loose from his job. Chaplin closed the inning by fanning Allen. He also fanned the first two men to face him in the eighth.

The Bees' only real chance to make headway after the second inning came in the eighth. Jordan singled with one out. Berger bounced to Cavarretta, who threw wild trying to force Jordan at second. Cuccinello and H. Lee offered no resistance.

Carleton, Tamer of Bees, Pitches for Cubs Today

Tex Carleton, a Bee tamer of long standing, will test his skill on the Boston apiary in the second of the series this afternoon. Bespectacled Danny MacFayden probably will operate against the Cubs.

After Ken O'Dea's demonstration of hitting in Wednesday's victory over the Phillies, Manager Grimm decided to cancel the recall of Gabby Hartnett to active service behind the bat.

RED SOX BEAT BROWNS, 7 TO 5; ROUT 2 HURLERS

Boston, Mass., June 11.—(AP)—Rick Ferrell's bat bludgeoned the St. Louis Browns to a defeat today as the Red Sox won the series opener, 7 to 5.

The catching member of Boston's Ferrell battery clubbed out a homer in the fourth inning, and followed it up with a double with the bases loaded, to send three runs across the plate in the fifth.

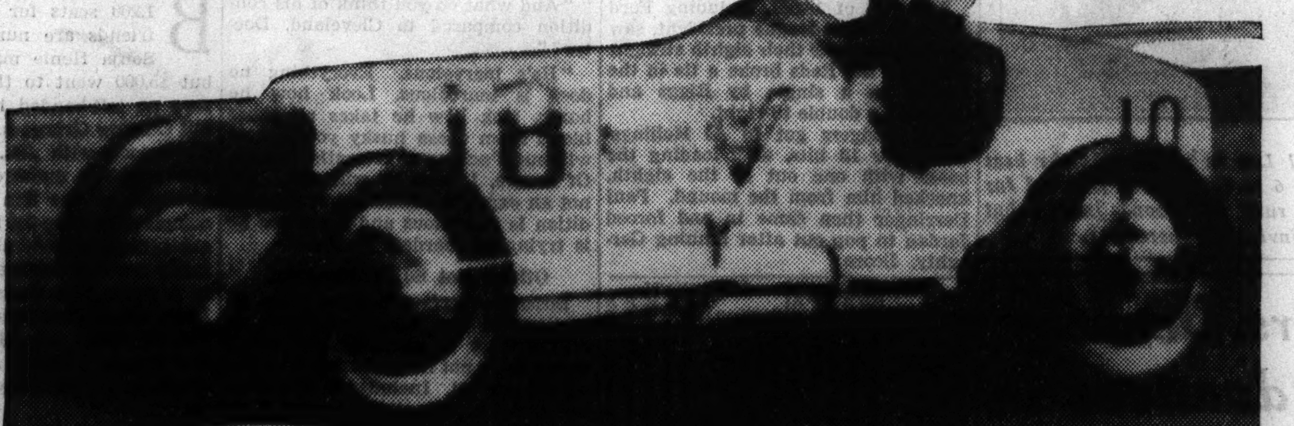
Taste Test No. 11 —500-Mile Indianapolis Race

77% prefer Vintage Tobacco's Mild Taste



INDIANAPOLIS, IND., MAY 30—Every smoker will tell you that his present cigar brand is the best ever. But is it? There's a sure way to find out—by taste, for taste is the only thing that really counts.

And when taste alone counts, more men choose White Owl. We made a taste test among the spectators at the 500-Mile Indianapolis Race—242 men were picked at random from the crowd . . . given two unidentified cigars—a Vintage White Owl and another, representing the leading nationally advertised brands.

The cigars bore no names or familiar bands to prejudice them. Each man smoked both cigars, then indicated the one he liked best. They chose by taste alone—and 77% preferred the mildness of Vintage White Owl.

SPEED . . . ACTION . . . and 168,000 spectators to enjoy it. A new world's mark—109.069 miles per hour for 500 miles. A great day for records—and White Owl's Vintage taste was among the pace setters. It was the eleventh straight test that White Owl has won. Another victory, and another proof of Vintage tobacco's finer flavor, better taste!

TASTE . . . is the only thing that really counts in smoking pleasure. So why not smoke the cigar that tastes best? Convince yourself—compare White Owl with any other 5¢ cigar. You'll find it mild, mellow as only a Vintage cigar can be. And White Owl is one cigar you can depend on every time.

MORE SMOKING PLEASURE . . . Today's White Owl is a double "best buy." It's a Vintage cigar —and it's larger, too. Look at this actual-size picture. White Owl averages a 10% longer smoke than other widely advertised 5¢ cigars.

Wherever you are, you can get the same mild, uniform Vintage cigar that won these taste tests. It costs but 5¢ at your nearest cigar store.

LINCOLNSHIRE, ELMHURST WIN IN DISTRICT GOLF

Nordic Takes Lead in the Northwest League.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The West District Golf league staged its third round matches at Medinah yesterday, using the tough No. 3 course. With one exception the scores were rather lopsided, Elmhurst defeating Brookwood, 23½ to 3½; Glen Oak winning, 22 to 5, from Riverside; Westward Ho defeating Oak Park, 17½ to 9½. Medinah and Hinsdale finished all square with 13½ points each.

Charley Smock of Elmhurst and Cy Anderburg of Medinah turned in the best individual cards, each having 78.

The next matches will be held at Hinsdale on July 9. Standing:

Elmhurst	63	Oak Park	36½
Glen Oak	55	Hinsdale	35½
Westward Ho	45	Brookwood	33
Medinah	38	Riverside	18

The South District Golf league played over No. 4 course at Olympia Fields. Lincolnshire defeated Ravisloe, 19½ to 7½, and held its lead. Olympia Fields won, 15 to 12, from Idlewild; South Shore defeated Midlothian, 15½ to 11½, and Flossmoor smothered Calumet, 19 to 8.

Don Armstrong, John Vogel, and Joie Finn had 75's to lead the field. Eddie Murphy, who last week set a new course record of 67 for No. 4 course, had a 79. Standing:

Lincolnshire	41½	Flossmoor	24½
Olympia Fields	37½	Idlewild	23½
Midlothian	31	Ravisloe	22½
South Shore	27½	Calumet	12½

Northwest league golfers had their inaugural clash at Brierhill, Nordic taking the lead with a 20½ to 6½ victory over Rolling Green. Two Rolling Green players were unable to get out and defaulted, the scores going to Nordic. Brierhill won, 19 to 8, from Itasca and Twin Orchard won from Mohawk, 14 to 13. Bunker Hill won from Tam o' Shanter, 19 to 8. Dick Martin of Brierhill, with a neat 74, led the field. The Rev. J. P. Kiely of Bunker Hill, and Dan Bissell of Itasca turned in 78's.

The South Side Swedish club's 80th annual golf tournament, held at Lincolnshire yesterday, had 200 golfers out, using two courses. Tom Noonan, a guest, turned in a 42—36—78 to lead and Carl E. Dunnagan, another visitor, 43—39—82. Ben Larsen, chairman of the golf committee, led members with 44—40—84, followed by Charles Anderson and C. W. Schroeder, both with 44—42—86. Other low gross scores were:

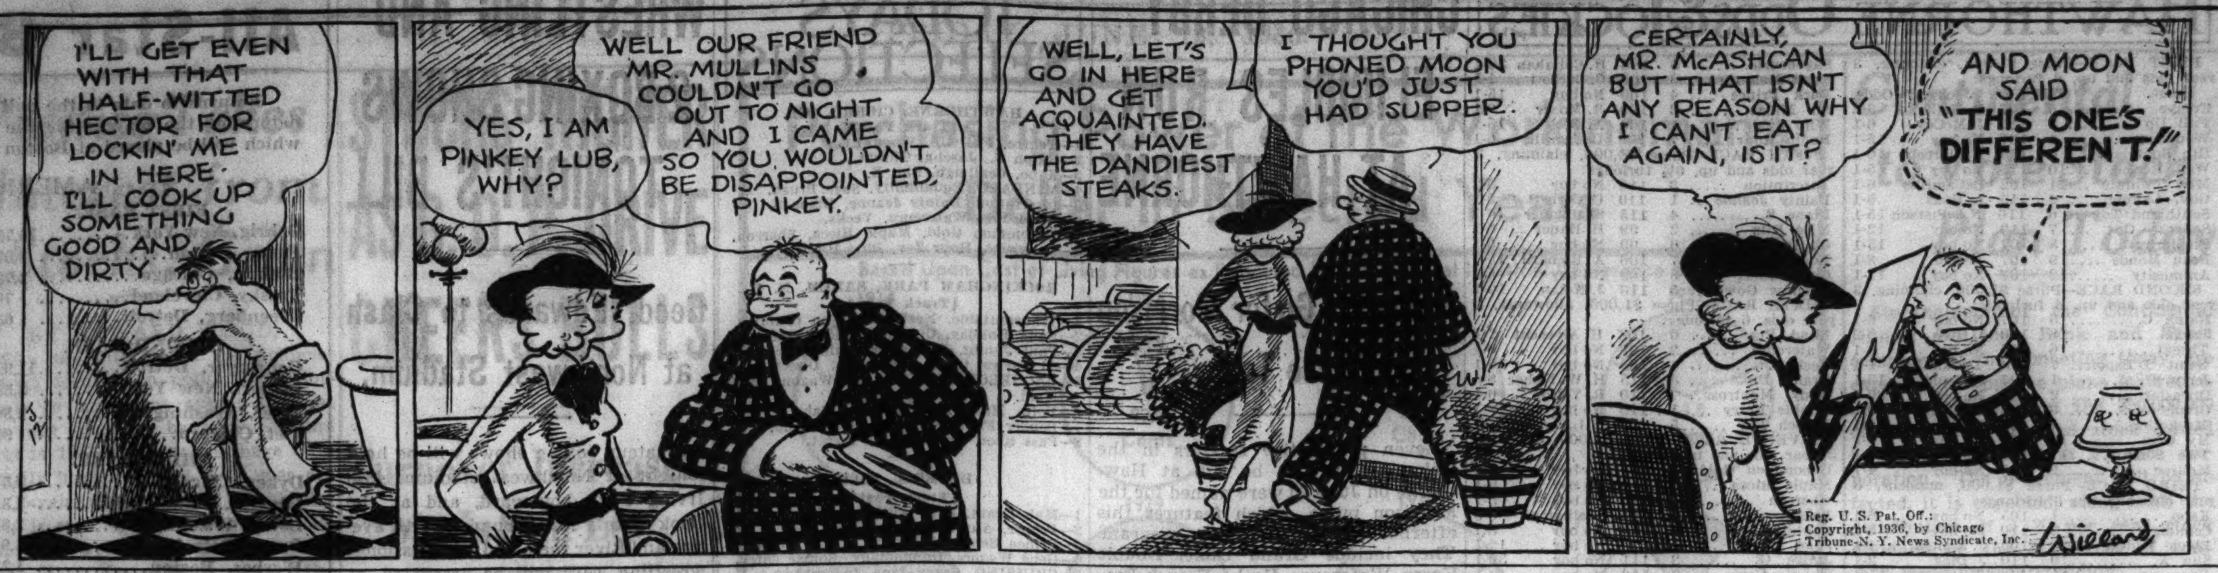
Three thousand spectators jammed Mid-City course yesterday to see Horton Smith and Johnny Dawson defeat Lawson Little and Jimmie Thomson, 2 up in a best ball match. Smith and Dawson had 32—28—60 to Little and Thomson's 30—32—62. Par is 31—32—63. In individual performance Dawson and Little tied at 65, while Smith had 66 and Thomson 67.

Two more exhibitions by these famous golfers, all free to the public, will be played this week. Tonight at Walter Keller's driving range, Elston and Foster avenues, they will play, while Saturday afternoon Columbus park will have the match.

For the Columbus park exhibition Johnny Dawson will be replaced by Harry Cooper, of Glen Oak, who will play with Smith. The match will start at 3 p. m.

The periodical clash between Sox Fletchner and Art Arliskas for the golf leadership of the Chicago Automobile Trades association was waged again yesterday over the Calumet course, and Fletchner won out. He had 43—39—82, while Arliskas turned in 42—42—84. The course was in perfect condition and the greens fast, which caused some extra putting. Si Histed led the low net brigade with 98—26—72, followed by Frank Konetzer and Sam Sheets with identical scores of 103—30—73.

MOON MULLINS—JUST WHO GOT STUNG HERE?



I'LL GET EVEN WITH THAT HALF-WITTED HECTOR FOR LOCKIN' ME IN HERE. I'LL COOK UP SOMETHING GOOD AND DIRTY
WELL OUR FRIEND MR. MULLINS COULDN'T GO OUT TO NIGHT AND I CAME SO YOU WOULDN'T BE DISAPPOINTED, PINKEY.
YES, I AM PINKEY LUB, WHY?
WELL, LET'S GO IN HERE AND GET ACQUAINTED. THEY HAVE THE DANDIEST STEAKS.
I THOUGHT YOU PHONED MOON YOU'D JUST HAD SUPPER.
CERTAINLY, MR. McASHCAN BUT THAT ISN'T ANY REASON WHY I CAN'T EAT AGAIN, IS IT?
AND MOON SAID "THIS ONE'S DIFFERENT."

In the WAKE of the NEWS

SCHMELING'S MENU.

NAPANOCH, N. Y., June 11.—[Special.]—Max Schmeling eats three meals a day with occasionally an additional snack before going to bed after visiting the movie. Joe Louis eats only two regular meals, breakfast and dinner, besides the frequent nipping at an apple or bit of fruit.

The Wake always has been interested in what athletes ate when training for important contests whether those athletes were pugilists, football players or participants in other strenuous sports. Therefore we sought Chef Josef Daschner, brought from Germany for the purpose, for a description of the food prepared.

Since Max's weight has not increased materially from the 189 poundage at which he took the title from Jack Sharkey on a foul back in 1930, and he expects to meet Louis at 191 pounds, care in his food is predicated only on the idea of giving the most nourishment and strength. Subject to variation for the sake of variety, here is what Herr Daschner serves Herr Schmeling:

For breakfast at 9:30—Orange juice or mixed fruits, soft boiled eggs, toast or bread and butter, marmalade, milk or coffee without caffeine.

Luncheon at 12:30—Fruit cocktail or chicken broth with noodles, not both; fried chicken [varied with meats on alternate days], asparagus with Holandaise sauce or other vegetables; risotto or rice in Italian style occasionally a dish of rhubarb, milk.

Dinner, 6 o'clock—Fruit or fruit cocktail, roast beef or lamb chops or chicken, green peas or asparagus, salad, rice pudding or cake, weak coffee.

Occasionally Max's favorite dishes of sauerbraten, potato dumplings, or potato pancakes are on the list as surprises.

Evening snack after movie only, 10 o'clock—Salami or liverwurst sandwiches with milk or water only.

* *

Pay for Sparmates.

Schmeling's sparmates receive $25, in addition to room and board, for each day they work against the German schlager, no matter how many rounds. There are four present now, Joe Malone, former fighter, of the procurement division, does not expect to add more before the Louis' battle. They are Heinz Kohlhass, former Golden Glover; Henry Cooper; Mickey McAvoy, and Jerry Johnson. To an observer this quartet does not appear to offer Max as differing opposition as the six human punching bags at the Joe Louis camp.

This Wake is conducted . . . by Harvey T. Woodruff. Help! Help!

* *

Scene of Training.

Napanoch Country club, where Schmeling takes his workouts, is a privately owned corporation, a summer resort which offers golf, fishing, boating, swimming, tennis, handball, and horseback riding to its guests. It has reached its guest capacity of 700 at numerous times during the summer season, but comparatively few are here now except fight followers. Despite the variety of attractions, German Max spends nearly all his time, except on his public workouts, at his private cottage from whence he takes his road work and walks.

At the cottage is the improvised trap shooting range where Max "kills" his claybirds. His love of the sport may be judged from the fact that installation of the range, including a trap, was heavy expense.

* *

Likeable Personality.

With his better knowledge of our language than when we last met him, Schmeling is a more interesting conversationalist. Irritated at times by frequent queries of whether he fears Louis, he otherwise is good humor itself.

He's a likeable chap for whom one wishes a better fate even with the soothing financial salve involved than most of us think awaits him next Thursday night.

Louis Works on Uppercut to Stop Max

Frank Wotanski, from Utica, N. Y., a better than average heavyweight, who plays left field on the Brown Bombers' soft ball team, which last night whipped the newspaper nine despite the .500 batting average of your correspondent, was let off with two slow moving rounds. Louis, perhaps, was rewarding this ball player for his home run last evening. Incidentally, Joe is the regular first baseman for his club, but he now has been barred from participation.

Tiger Roy Williams of Chicago furnished the final workout. He is scheduled for one round each day. The pay off gents have been keeping him in the ring for four and five minutes before tooting the whistle. Tiger knows this, and after he danced around Joe for what he considered the minimum time he jumped through the ropes. Today he was stopped at his first hurdle by a husky New Jersey trooper, but he cleared the barrier on his next leap and landed in Bill Cunningham's lap, much to that Boston gentleman's disgust and the huge delight of the throng. Louis said last night he would go deep sea fishing tomorrow. The entire camp had signed for the cruise and a share of the sport, but now Joe has changed his mind. The Detroit Tigers are in New York, guests of the Yankees, and Mickey Cochrane's boys are Joe's favorites.

Joe's fishing trip was to have been broadcast, which is tops for publicity activity, but now it seems that the show's off. Even so, Louis changes his mind as often as a chameleon changes color, and he might sneak off to the golf course although Blackburn has ordered him to stop swinging his clubs until after the fight with Schmeling.

Lefty Bryant Enters Tennis Meet Tomorrow

Robert [Lefty] Bryan of Chattanooga, one of the few top notch left handers in tennis, has entered the National Clay Court tournament which opens tomorrow at the River Forest tennis club. Bryan's entry was received from Atlanta, where the southern star has been practicing the last few weeks.

While Bryan's chances to win the singles is bright, his biggest bid for a title will come in the doubles division when he pairs with John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex. They were ranked third in the nation two years ago. For the last two seasons they have been runners-up in the clay court meet, finding Bryan Grant and his partner, Karl Kamrath, in 1934 and Frank Parker in 1935 a bit too strong.

Accompanying Wilbur Hess of Houston, now en route to Chicago, is Martin Buxby of Dallas, who, experts say, is the outstanding player in Texas. Harris Coggeshall of Des Moines, one of the few three times western champions, also is competing.

A special exhibition match has been arranged for tomorrow between Alice Marble of Los Angeles and Norman Bickel, Big Ten champion.

Wightman Cup Tennis Series to Open Today

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, England, June 11.—America's outstanding women tennis players will try to win their sixth consecutive victory when they oppose Great Britain's stars in the 13th annual Wightman cup matches which open tomorrow. Three matches, two singles and one doubles, will be played.

Helen Jacobs, four times American champion and captain of the squad, who has led the team to victory in the last three years, will meet Miss Kay Stammers, left handed British star, while Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan will meet Dorothy Round, former Wimbledon champion, in the singles contests.

In the doubles Mrs. John Van Ryn and Miss Carolin Babcock will meet Miss Nancy Lyle and Evelyn Dearman. In Saturday's concluding program Miss Jacobs will meet Miss Round; Mrs. Fabyan will play Miss Stammers; Miss Babcock will face Miss Ruth Mary Hardwick, and in doubles Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Fabyan will play Miss James and Miss Stammers.

Miss Jacobs, according to experts and fans, again is depended upon to lead the United States to victory. Miss Jacobs, in practice games during the week, appeared to be completely recovered from the illness which forced her to remain on the side lines in Vienna last month.

Mrs. Fabyan and Miss Jacobs defeated Mrs. Van Ryn and Miss Babcock, 6-2, 6-2, in their last practice this afternoon.

SPANISH BABE TAKES WHEATON PURSE BY LENGTH

Mrs. Grabiner's Old Mare Outruns Bird Flower.

BY FRENCH LANE.

That old mare Spanish Babe from the stable of Mrs. Fred M. Grabner of Chicago still is quite a race horse.

She galloped out in the Wheaton purse at Hawthorne yesterday against some of the best handicap horses at Hawthorne. And she galloped home the winner by a length ahead of Edward R. Bradley's even money favorite, Bird Flower.

Just a week ago almost to the minute Spanish Babe had served notice that she was back in fine fettle when she beat the same kind of horses in a handicap and paid off at tall odds.

Babe Is Easily Best.

On that occasion she was a bit lucky to win. Only by saving much ground while she hugged the rail was she able to get the decision.

She was complete master of the field she met in the Wheaton yesterday and when she come up on the outside to take command at the head of the stretch the result was never again in doubt. She reeled off the mile and a sixteenth in 1:45 3-5, which was two-fifths of a second faster than she had run the same route a week earlier.

Due to the enormous rush of support to Col. Bradley's Bird Flower, Spanish Babe rewarded those who had backed her at $8.20 to win, $3.00 to place, and $2.40 to show. Bird Flower paid $2.40 to place and $2.20 to show. Wild Turkey finished third and paid $4.00 to show.

The Wheaton always was a battle between Bird Flower and Spanish Babe. The Bradley filly enjoyed a lead of a length rounding the clubhouse bend and held it all the way down the back stretch. Understand was running third.

McCoy Makes His Move.

Jocky McCoy made his move on Spanish Babe as the field hit the lower bend. In a few strides Spanish Babe was at Bird Flower's saddle girth. In a half dozen more strides they were fighting it out head and head.

Jocky Renick went to the whip on Bird Flower. She rallied slightly, then gave up to the determined challenge Spanish Babe had made. Once in front by a length, Spanish Babe coasted home. Wild Turkey was a length and a half back of the faltering Bird Flower and in third place when it had ended. Chasar gained about fifteen lengths in the last half mile while he was racing up from last place to finish fourth.

Wright's Colt Wins.

Warren Wright's red and blue silks were carried to their first victory of the year in Chicago by his good looking bay colt Privileged in the 2 year old race at 5½ furlongs.

This son of Sir Gallahad III.-Concession ran like a real good one when he drove into the lead on the turn into the stretch and then went on to beat the Shandon farm's colt, Overplay, and Viajero, a highly bred Texas youngster, by a length.

Privileged, under a rousing ride by Eddie Arcaro, withstood one challenge after another in the run down the stretch. Immediately after one of his rivals would draw up alongside him he put on a new burst of speed. This sort of gameness is displayed only by a colt of much class.

High Pressure Favorite.

Privileged was the second choice in the betting, the red hot favorite being High Pressure, another upstanding fellow from the Milky Way farms stable. This son of Blue Larkspur-May Bird ran out of the money. It has been quite some time since the Milky Way youngsters haven't dominated the 2 year old events at Hawthorne.

CHICAGO DERBY ELIGIBLES RUN AT HAWTHORNE

Named to Go for Morrison Purse Today.

Seven prospective starters in the Chicago Derby to be run at Hawthorne on June 20 were named for the Morrison purse, which features this afternoon's Hawthorne program. They include Grand Duke, Double Kerry, Watercure, Veeks, French Boy, Blind Pig, and Lady Montrose.

E. R. Bradley's Bow and Arrow worked a mile and a quarter at Hawthorne yesterday morning in 2:10. Bill Hurley, the Bradley trainer, had not decided last night whether to send the colt to Detroit for the $25,000 Derby to be run there tomorrow.

Jocky F. Mauro, the New York lad who was badly injured in a spill at Hawthorne on Wednesday, remained in a critical condition at the Garfield Park hospital last night. Examinations yesterday revealed that he had sustained a skull fracture.

Irish Ford, the Three D's Stock farm 3 year old which beat a stylish band at Hawthorne on Wednesday, yesterday was nominated for the Chicago Derby.

Otto W. Lehmann, president of the Arlington Park Jocky club, was a visitor at Hawthorne yesterday and looked over the 2 year olds Phil Reilly is training for him. Mr. Lehmann believes that Arlington Park is going to enjoy its best season this year. The meeting will open on June 29.

Winner trained by B. B. Williams. Went to post at 2:21. At post 3 minutes. Good start from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

PRIVILEGED, on inside early, raced into a good lead after reaching the turn, bore out slightly when entering the stretch and swerved sharply to inside when under strong pressure in the final eighth. OVERPLAY, under strong riding from the start, came between horses in stretch but had to be eased slightly when winner swerved in the last eighth and otherwise might have been stronger factor. VIAJERO, well up from the start, held on gamely.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 2-5, :47 4-5, 1:15. Two dollar mutuels paid: Cheraw, $5.60 straight, $3.40 place, $2.60 show; Knight of Old, $7.20 place, $5.40 show; Golden Quest, $3.60 show. Winner trained by J. Carter. Good start from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same. Went to post at 2:49½. At post 3½ minutes.

CHERAW away fast but unable to hold the advantage, began to improve his position after a quarter, came to outside in stretch and outgamed KNIGHT OF OLD in the drive. Latter under hustling tactics early but steadied around the turn, stood mild pressure gamely but was not good enough. GOLDEN QUEST, taken back early, moved up with a rush in the stretch, then hung, but outlasted.

THIRD RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 4-5, 1:14. Two dollar mutuels paid: Irish Wake, $5.80 straight, $3.80 place, $2.60 show; Double Nugget, $9.40 place, $3.80 show; Prince John, $2.60 show. Winner trained by H. Jones. Went to post at 3:19. At post 2½ minutes. Good start from Bahr gate. Won driving, place same.

IRISH WAKE forced the early pace under light restraint, responded to strong hand riding after reaching the stretch, and wearing down DOUBLE NUGGET in the final sixteenth, won drawing out. Latter, on inside throughout and well rated, held on creditably though not good enough. PRINCE JOHN raced wide much of the trip and was under strong pressure after about three-eighths.

FOURTH RACE—Five and a half furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

Time, :23 3-5, :47 2-5, 1:00 2-5, 1:07 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Palan, $16.40 straight, $6.60 place, $3.60 show; Autograph, $3.60 place, $2.80 show; Alice G., $3.40 show. Winner trained by J. J. Flanigan. Went to post at 3:46½. At post 3 minutes. Good start from gate. Won easily, place driving.

PALAN, lightly restrained when outrun and brought to the outside when entering the stretch, responded strongly when straightened up and passing the leaders in the final eighth drew out to an easy win. AUTOGRAPH saved much ground, and holding on well, wore down ALICE G. in the closing strides. Latter under snug restraint for about three-eighths, continued gamely to the final eighth before weakening.

FIFTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

CANDESCENT, fractious at the post but away well, was raced wide throughout, moved to front quickly in the stretch, then weakened, but lasted. KIEVA, probably much the best and forced back on the turn, came through on inside when making up ground in stretch.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth mile. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

BATTLING CHILD cleverly handled was taken in hand for the early racing, came to the outside while gaining, overhauled the leaders and won going away. SHIRLEY B. hustled to a forward position, took command with a rush, continued well to the final sixteenth, where she gave way to the winner. SPICSON, outrun for half a mile, improved his position steadily thereafter.

Riverview Will Hold Flat Track Cycle Meet Tonight

The second outdoor flat track motorcycle racing meet of the season will be held at the Riverview track, Addison street near Western avenue, tonight. The meet will be made up of 17 events in both the handicap and the scratch divisions. Headlining the program will be a match race between Leo Melcher of Joliet and Otto Waldvogel of Salt Lake City, and an attempt for a lap record by Don Turnbull, holder of the world record for a flat track.

Aknusti Polo Team Reaches Westbury Final

Westbury, N. Y., June 11.—[Special.]—The Aknusti polo team swept into the final of the third Westbury challenge cup tournament today with a 14 to 6 triumph over Greentree at Meadowbrook. In other contests Devereaux Milburn's Whites beat Yale, 11 to 4, G. H. [Pete] Bostwick's Whites downed Roslyn, 10 to 7, and another white combination played a 7-all tie with a red four on Waterbury field.

WRESTLING AND 2 BOXING SHOWS TONIGHT'S BILL

Reed, Edwards to Clash at Northwest Stadium.

Amateur boxing shows will be held tonight at Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard, and at the Cook County fair grounds, North avenue and River road, and a professional wrestling card will be presented at Dietz's arena, Ivanhoe, Ill. Jackie Reed, south side middleweight, will be in quest of his fifth consecutive triumph against Sherman Edwards, Joliet sectional Golden Gloves champion, in the five round headliner at Northwest stadium, while the program at the fair grounds will be featured by eight bouts between representatives of the Catholic Youth organization. Jack [Bad Boy] Brown, Shreveport, La., light heavyweight wrestler, and Rudy Kay are booked in the main event at Ivanhoe.

TUNNEY DECIDES TO LEAD FIGHT ON SPEED TRAPS

Stamford, Conn., June 11.—[Special.]—Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion, looked through 132 letters from maddened motorists today and decided to become "the spearhead of a spiritual movement" which will eradicate speed traps, tin badge constables and fine grasping justices of the peace from the state of Connecticut.

He said that it may take a long time to do it, but that he is prepared to take his case against Justice of the Peace Edward S. Boyd of the village of Woodbury, Conn., to the United States Supreme court.

On Tuesday the former heavyweight champion was fined $5 plus $5 costs by Justice Boyd for allegedly failing to heed a stop sign in Hotchkissville road on May 31.

HINES AN EASY WINNER IN TWO STRAIGHT SETS

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—Wilmer Hines, California tennis star, cleared another hurdle in his quest for the Missouri Valley singles championship today with a straight set victory in the quarter-final round over Russell Ball of El Paso, Tex, 6-1, 6-1. While Hines was breezing through his match, Harris Coggeshall found harder opposition, but he won from Wayne Sabin, Los Angeles, 6-1, 7-5. Hines and Coggeshall will meet in the semi-finals Saturday.

In the other bracket of the men's singles two quarter-final matches remained to be played. Scheduled tomorrow were matches of Robert Riggs, Los Angeles, vs. Joe O'Brien, Cincinnati, and George Ball, El Paso, vs. Richard Tindall, St. Louis.

COLORED BOXER DIES FOLLOWING RING INJURIES

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—William Peartree, 21 years old, a colored lightweight who was known in the prize ring as Willy Pal, died in the Harlem hospital today as the result of injuries received in a boxing match at the Bronx coliseum on Tuesday night.

Peartree lost a six round fight to Pete de Duzzo of Mamaroneck. He was knocked down in the first and third rounds, but managed to stay the full six rounds.

Thirty Drivers Will Race on Legion Midget Program

Thirty drivers will compete in the Wolf Lake midget speedway's opening program tonight at Wolf lake, near Hammond, Ind. The races, sponsored by American Legion posts, Nos. 16, 168, and 266, will be held every Friday night and Sunday afternoon during the summer. Among the entries are Wally Zale of Chicago, Tony Willaman, and Cowboy O'Rourke.

Marberry Stops Comeback Attempt; Gets Release

Arlington's ConditionBook Is Out Today

Two stakes, graded handicaps, and races over the turf course feature the first edition of the Arlington Park condition book, covering the racing programs from June 29 to July 9, inclusive, which will be distributed to horsemen today.

Holding the salient positions during the first ten days of Chicago's most important meeting are the seventh running of the $2,500 Inaugural handicap for 3 year olds at seven furlongs, and the eighth running of the $10,000 Stars and Stripes handicap for 3 year olds and upward at a mile and a furlong. The former will be run on opening day, Monday, June 29, and the Stars and Stripes will be the feature of the holiday card on July 4.

Arlington Park is one of the three tracks in the United States which offers flat racing over the turf. Five races over the mile grass course in the infield are listed.

Eight thousand dollars a day will be given away in purses, exclusive of stakes. There are seven stakes calling for added money of $85,500. In all more than $400,000 will be distributed to horsemen during the 30 days.

LEADERS IN DRY GOODS FIELD HIT HEAVY TAXATION

New Legislation Is Also Assailed.

Prominent executives in the dry goods field yesterday took the floor at the National Retail Dry Goods association midyear conference in the Palmer house to assail excessive taxation and legislation. Among other things, the merchants were told that King George III. was a "piker" at taxing as compared with our congress and state legislatures.

Among the speakers were K. E. Armstrong, assistant controler of Marshall Field & Co., Chicago; Louis T. McMahon, credit manager of the William Filene Sons Co., Boston, and Harold R. Young, manager of the Washington office of the association. In introducing Armstrong to the controler's congress Archibald MacLeish, controler of Carson Pirie Scott & Co. and chairman of the session, pointed out that because of the wide territory covered by Marshall Field and the many taxation problems encountered, Armstrong devotes all of his time to study of taxation.

Government Biggest Business.

"The federal government of the United States is the biggest business in the world today," Armstrong said. "If this were our business that we were analyzing there would be two things we would want to know: First, where are we going to get the money to spend, and, second, how are we going to spend that money to the best advantage? Unfortunately, government is run in just the reverse order. The legislators place the need of expenditures first and then devise the means of financing these expenditures.

"Will federal expenditures be reduced unless we, as business men, intelligently analyze the situation and put our shoulder to the wheel to see that these expenditures are reduced in order that they may be more proportionate to the national income and to the population?"

The fundamental difference between today and the past, Armstrong asserted, is that the people have changed.

Decries Federal "Benefits."

"The people are looking more and more to the federal government for their benefits, for which they formerly looked to their own state governments," he said. "I, for one, am sorry to see this trend. The sooner we, as business men, can turn this trend, the sooner we have a chance to reduce the exorbitant cost of our federal government. I think that if we have the power of spending money nearer home it will be spent much more wisely and more economically.

"In my opinion, business men must watch appropriations closer and not focus all attention on taxation, because, after all, that is locking the barn door after the horse is gone."

Armstrong further urged that business men study proposed expenditures and confer with their congressmen on the wisdom of such appropriations.

"We are fast losing that liberty which was so dear to the hearts of the early settlers," said McMahon. "Today the national congress and the legislatures of forty-eight states are grinding out laws regulating almost every activity, and assessing taxes that make King George III. a 'piker' in comparison."

REPORT VOLUME OF ENGINEERING WORK ABOVE 1935

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—The volume of engineering construction work contracted for declined last week to a total of $35,626,000, or slightly under the preceding week's total, but well above the $26,285,000 aggregate for the like 1935 period, the Engineering News-Record said today. Of the week's volume $24,329,000 amounted to public works awards, while $11,297,000 was for private construction. A year ago public awards came to $13,324,000 and private contracts let amounted to $12,901,000.

All classifications with the exception of earthwork, irrigation, drainage, and waterways showed lower contract values in the week than in the preceding period, it was pointed out.

DETROIT BANKER IS CONVICTED ON THEFT CHARGES

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—[Special.]—James [illegible] O'Shea, Detroit banker, was convicted tonight of misappropriating $241,950 of Detroit municipal funds. O'Shea was remanded to the probation department pending a report on his case, and probably will not receive sentence for a week or ten days.

The defendant was accused of having conspired with Harry H. Tyler, assistant city budget director, in the theft of $349,000 from the municipal treasury. Tyler committed suicide when the shortages were discovered last March.

Politics Takes Interest from Stocks, Grain

BY HOWARD WOOD.

With the interest of the financial district focused on political developments to a greater extent than at any time since the bank moratorium early in 1933, the markets have temporarily been deserted. All eyes are on Cleveland, where the Republican party is organizing for what financial men believe is their big and only hope. With the adjournment of the Republican convention they will be turned again to Washington, where congress is still in session, hammering out a new tax bill.

Grain Trade in Doldrums.

At the Chicago Board of Trade the situation is even worse. Despite the approach of the harvesting season interest in grains has been almost zero for days. In place of a normal volume of about 50 million bushels of all grain the turnover on Tuesday and Wednesday hovered around the ten million mark, with only about a third of that representing regular commission house trade.

The diversion of the interest of traders to Cleveland and Washington, however, is not the whole story. The markets have been losing volume for weeks due to new regulations and new laws emanating from Washington.

Margin Boost Checks Trading.

Boosting of margin requirements on stocks to 55 per cent of the market value of the collateral by the federal reserve board the first of May drove big operators away from the stock market. There is a heated argument between the brokers and the politicians as to where the traders have gone, but the fact that they have deserted the market is obvious.

In commodity markets the passage by congress of the new commodity exchange regulation act piled new discouragement on the accumulation of old discouragements. The disclosure that the president of the Chicago Board of Trade was contemplating getting out of the grain business and into the stock market business is viewed in La Salle street as indicative of the times.

No Big Grain Operators.

Gone are the old time big operators in grains. Arthur Cutten, ill from a heart attack, has been cleared by the courts of Washington's charges that he violated the grain futures act, but it is well known that even recovery of his health would not induce him to return to big grain operations. "Tommy" Howell, also cleared of similar charges by the courts, has given up in disgust and taken to his yacht.

Because of the persistent evidences of business recovery and the stubborn failure of the expected midsummer slump to appear the markets are expected to perk up after the Republican convention adjourns and congress goes home. The better the prospects for the Republican nominee the more buoyant will be the markets, but no return to the days of heavy volume of transactions is expected before the November elections.

The almost universal belief in La Salle street is that a Republican victory in November would lift the lid right off the market. That is the one big hope.

UTILITY STOCK SALE REVIVES GIANNINI RUMOR

Expectation that the banking group headed by J. Henry Schroder and including Bancamerica-Blair will shortly offer for resale to stockholders of United States Electric Power corporation the stock it acquired from the Chase National and four other New York banks two weeks ago revived rumors on La Salle street yesterday that A. P. Giannini, California banker, was about to enter that part of the utility field which centers in Chicago. Giannini's holding company, the Transamerica corporation, controls Bancamerica-Blair.

The stock of Standard Power was pledged by United States Electric Power with the Chase and other banks for a $12,000,000 loan. After the loan became past due the collateral was sold three weeks ago to the banking group headed by the Schroder company. The price was reported to have been about $6,000,000.

It is understood a condition of the sale was that the stock must be offered to the stockholders of United States Electric Power corporation before it could be reduced to ownership. The purchasing group has made no statement as to what disposition would be made of the shares if not taken up by the United States Electric Power stockholders.

Meanwhile H. M. Byllesby & Co., potent factor in both Standard Power and its subsidiary, Standard Gas and Electric, added nothing to its announcement at the time of the sale that while it has jointly controled Standard Power with the United States Electric Power company, it had no interest in the sale and its holdings would remain undisturbed.

STOCKS HIGHER AS G. O. P. DRIVE CHEERS BULLS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 11.—Casting aside early hesitancy that had caused some price irregularity, the stock market moved ahead on all fronts today with many issues rising to new highs for the recovery movement. Closing prices for most stocks showed gains ranging from fractions to 2 points and more. Trading was somewhat more active and for the second time in two days the volume of transactions exceeded 1,000,000 shares, but it was still in sharp contrast to the heavy activity of other years.

Fresh bullish sentiment was fostered by the proceedings at Cleveland where the Republicans are uniting to make a strong effort to defeat the New Deal. Wall street circles were encouraged by former President Hoover's speech and the increasing indications, amounting almost to certainty, that Gov. Landon will be nominated on the first ballot. The firmness of prices and evidence of reserve power, in the opinion of financial circles, will mean a lively bull market once the candidates are named and an anti-New Deal plank approved by the Republicans.

Business News Favorable.

Business news was also regarded as conducive to a rise in prices, including encouraging reports from retail centers, favorable forecasts of second quarter earnings, and improvement in steel operations.

Farm implement shares were especially buoyant with J. I. Case, as usual, setting the pace. This volatile issue shot up 10⅝ points to reach a new high for the year at 174¾. International Harvester, Deere, and Oliver Farm each scored gains exceeding 2 points.

Mail order stocks also put in a good day with Montgomery Ward, selling ex dividend, reaching its best price of the year and Sears-Roebuck moving up a point to a new peak.

Motor shares gained in favor. General Motors was active and 2⅜ higher at the close, Chrysler gained 2½, and Auburn registered an advance of 2. Steel shares also found good demand with Bethlehem tacking up a gain of 1⅝ points and United States Steel advancing 1¾.

A. T. & T. Rises 2 Points.

American Telephone, with the federal investigation of its affairs ended, for the time being at least, jumped 2 points, and Western Union, reacting to reports of better earnings, rose 2¼. Utilities shares quieted down a little after their strenuous work of recent sessions.

Carrier shares rolled along with the tide, although gains for the most part were restricted to fractions. Silver mining shares came forward with the rest of the market.

Radio was one of the most active stocks in the list and advanced a fraction. Another issue to catch the speculative eye was Westinghouse, which wiped out an early loss and substituted a gain of more than 2 points.

Even the alcohol shares, weakened by reports of overproduction and the closing up of distilleries, firmed up in the late trade. Coppers, chemicals, accessories and equipments were higher. Phillip Morris and Universal Leaf were strong in the tobacco division.

COST OF LIVING SHOWS INCREASE IN LAST MONTH

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—The cost of living in the United States again advanced, rising 0.4 per cent from April to May, according to a statement made public today by the National Industrial Conference board. The rise was attributed to substantial increases in food prices and rents, the board said. Clothing prices, coal prices and the cost of sundries declined.

Living costs in May were 2.1 per cent higher than in May last year, 18.3 per cent higher than in April, 1933, the low point during the depression, but 14.5 per cent below that of May, 1929, the board figures revealed.

Baldwin Locomotive Gets Larger Orders This Year

New York, June 11.—(AP)—Baldwin Locomotive works and subsidiaries, including the Midvale company, booked $2,861,583 in orders during May, against $3,642,330 in April and $1,143,726 in May, 1935. Consolidated bookings for first five months totaled $13,634,804, against $7,879,856 in like 1935 period.

U. S. Has Most Gold in History Due to Imports

Imports of 71 millions of dollars swelled monetary gold stocks in the United States to a new all-time peak figure of 10 billions 480 millions in the week ended Wednesday, according to the statement of the federal reserve system released last night.

France was the source of most of the gold which flowed into the country. The industrial crisis there, which was marked by a strike of workers, brought fresh uneasiness to capitalists, who transferred money out of the country. While the fears subsided somewhat in the last few days, most observers believe that France's gold standard is in a precarious position.

French Outlook Uncertain.

The Bank of France has a large gold reserve, but the steady inroads made in recent weeks, coupled with the political developments suggesting possible devaluation of the franc, make the outlook highly uncertain.

The effect of last week's imports was to increase the already swollen reserves of the American banking system. Banks belonging to the federal reserve system now have 5 billions 833 million dollars in balances on deposit with the central banks of the system. These reserves are 2 billion 840 million larger than the banks are required to maintain as protection for their depositors. The total reserves last week went up 120 millions, and the surplus, or "excess reserves," gained 110 millions.

The further increase in such reserves is expected to bring greater pressure on the federal reserve board to act to prevent a possible credit inflation. The excess reserves form the basis for a potential expansion of nearly 30 billions in bank credit. The problem has been under consideration by the board for several months, but its members have failed to agree.

Board Has Control Power.

The board has the power to raise reserve requirements 100 per cent. Any hiking of the reserve rate would cut down the excess. Reduction in the government bond holdings of the central reserve banks would work to the same end. Such holdings now amount to 2 billion 430 millions.

The statement of condition of the New York banks, also issued yesterday, showed a concentration of funds in that center. Domestic banks added 82 millions to their deposits in New York, and foreign banks increased their balances by 51 millions. Transfer of funds to New York was believed in part to represent preparations for purchase of the new government securities to be issued June 15.

The reserves of the New York banks rose 162 millions over the preceding week, a larger gain than shown for the country as a whole. Loans to brokers and dealers of the New York banks dropped 61 millions in contrast to the sharp gain of the previous week. Chicago banks reported an expansion of 7 millions in commercial loans and an increase of 29 millions in government bond holdings.

NEW YORK CENTRAL'S NET PROFIT IS LOWER DESPITE INCOME GAIN

Despite an increase in net operating income, the New York Central system, including all leased lines, yesterday reported a lower net profit for April than in the corresponding month a year ago. Net income was $282,826, compared with $893,982 in April, 1935, and net operating income was $3,391,596 against $2,449,336 a year ago. Operating expenses increased to $21,568,534 from $19,385,557 a year ago.

In March the net income was $50,935. In January and February the railroad had a net deficit. In the last two months of last year the system showed a profit.

For the first four months the railroad company reported a net deficit of $758,355, compared with a deficit of $2,578,831 in the like months a year ago, a decrease of $1,820,476.

The Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad reported a net income of $331,067 for April, compared with $141,528 a year ago. For the four month period net income was $987,231, compared with $811,841 in the first four months of 1935.

The Indiana Harbor Belt railroad's net income was $175,842 for April, compared with $107,842 a year ago. Net for the first four months was $489,827 against $463,308.

The Rutland railroad had a net deficit of $4,851 in April against $30,320 a year ago. In four months net deficit was $196,484, compared with $202,247 a year ago.

ALDRICH ADMITS PLAN TO PAY RFC STOCKHOLDINGS

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank of New York, today confirmed in essence the facts presented in an exclusive story published today in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE concerning the bank's plans for retiring its 50 million dollars of outstanding preferred stock.

"Naturally, this matter has been under consideration for some time," Aldrich said.

The head of America's biggest bank—A 2 billion dollar institution—declined to go beyond this statement in answer to the barrage of questions which showered in from Wall street writers and observers following republication in New York of THE TRIBUNE'S story.

Aldrich also refused to make a statement concerning the institution's holdings in Twentieth Century-Fox and General Theaters Equipment securities, liquidation of which, it is understood, is expected to provide funds for the big retirement operation.

Bank Clearing Figures Best in Five Weeks

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Bank clearings in the major cities of the nation established a five week peak in the period ended June 10, data compiled by Dun & Bradstreet reported today.

The total of checks cleared through banks in 22 leading cities for the last week reached $5,651,302,000, an increase of 18.3 per cent, compared with the aggregate of $4,776,778,000 reported for the same week last year.

The spread over a year ago was substantially greater than that of 17.3 per cent shown in the preceding week, which covered only five days due to the Memorial day holiday.

Large Gain Over Last Week.

Aggregate clearings registered an increase of $109,363,000 over the total for the previous five day week, compared with a rise of $51,318,000 shown in the corresponding week last year.

Check payments put through in New York City for the week aggregated $3,799,813,000, showing an expansion of 21.9 per cent compared with the 1935 total. The combined clearings for the other 21 areas was $1,851,489,000, a figure 11.5 per cent in excess of the total for the same week a year ago.

Chicago Gain Is 14 Per Cent.

The Chicago total was 14 per cent over the 1935 week at $279,800,000. Dallas led in point of percentage gain, with a rise of 35.2 per cent over last year, while large percentage gains also were shown at Pittsburgh, Atlanta, New Orleans, and Louisville.

There were two cities, Kansas City and San Francisco, in which clearings dipped below last year.

CELOTEX PROFIT FOR SIX MONTHS TOTALS $232,480

The Celotex corporation reported yesterday that profit for the six months ended April 30 was $232,480, after charges but before federal taxes. The income was equal to 59 cents a share on 268,685 shares of no par common after providing for half year dividends on 29,072 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock.

For the quarter ended April 30 net profit totaled $180,499, equal to 53 cents a share on the common stock. For the six months sales amounted to $3,310,199, and for the second quarter, $1,926,380.

These are the first reports of the reorganized company. A footnote on the company's statement said that "no provision has been made for federal income taxes as there are statutory deductions of the corporation in excess of the above profit."

Continental to Vote Stock Plan Today

Stockholders of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, at their meeting today, are expected to approve plans for retirement of $5,000,000 of the $50,000,000 of the bank's prefered stock owned by the Reconstruction Finance corporation. The retirement will be effected, it is expected, along with the distribution of a 20 per cent stock dividend on the $25,000,000 of common stock now outstanding.

Stockholders will not be asked to put in more money. Funds used for the prospective retirement will come out of the bank's earnings which officials describe as "entirely satisfactory" so far this year.

First to Sell Stock.

The Continental was the first large bank in the country to sell preferred stock to the RFC. Many other large financial institutions have announced or are now making plans for the retirement of such issues.

Stockholders of the First National Bank of Chicago recently approved an increase in the common stock the proceeds of which will be used along with existing reserves to retire the last $15,000,000 of the original $25,000,000 issue of preferred stock sold to the government agency.

Under the terms of the Continental bank's agreement with the RFC it is obligated to retire only $2,875,000 of preferred stock on Ang. 1. The terms provided for a gradual retirement over a period of 20 years. The favorable earnings of the bank, it is understood, have influenced officials in the plan to accelerate the retirement program.

Recovers on Assets.

The bank has benefited not only from larger earnings but from recoveries on assets previously written down or charged off.

The policy of the bank is to maintain its capital at the present $75,000,000 figure. In conformance with this each reduction in the preferred stock will be accompanied by an equivalent increase in the common shares.

The contemplated increase in the common stock by $5,000,000 is expected to be made as of Aug. 1. Current earnings of the bank are understood to be running in excess of the $2 a share annual dividend rate inaugurated last February.

FIND EARNINGS OF DEPARTMENT STORES IMPROVE

Cambridge, Mass., June 11.—[Special.]—The bureau of business research of the Harvard business school today reported that earnings and net sales for the typical department store in 1935 showed further recovery from the low levels of the depression.

Specialty stores also enjoyed similar earnings gains, according to the report, which is issued annually in cooperation with the National Retail Dry Goods association. The typical 1935 net business profits among department stores amounted to 3.4 per cent of sales, and among specialty stores to 2.9 per cent.

"In the case of both department and specialty stores improvement in earnings was due to the fact that sales in 1935 showed a further increase, which amounted to about 5 per cent of 1934 sales, while gross margin rates were approximately the same as in 1934 or slightly higher, and expense rates were lower," the report said.

Advance Corporation Has Profit for Fiscal Year

The Advance corporation, Chicago, which has been engaged in liquidating the assets of Hartman Furniture and Carpet company, acquired in 1933, and has been conducting a securities business since 1934, yesterday reported profits of $250,803 realized from assets and from operations during the fiscal year ended April 30, before federal income and capital stock taxes. After estimated provisions for such taxes there was a profit of $218,803.

NEW NATIONAL BANK IS FORMED FOR WEST SIDE

Eighth to Be Opened in Last 3 Years.

Formation of a new national bank to be known as the Central National Bank of Chicago was disclosed yesterday with announcement that the charter was approved by the controler of the currency in Washington on May 25.

The new institution will be located at 728 West Roosevelt road in the quarters formerly occupied by the Schiff Trust and Savings bank. The Halsted-Roosevelt corner is the hub of a neighborhood business center and has supported several banks in other years. Across the street from the new bank's quarters is the building formerly occupied by the defunct West Side Trust and Savings bank.

Business Men Furnish Capitol.

Prospective officers and directors of the new bank were not disclosed, but it was said that most of the local business interests have joined together in raising necessary capital for the new venture.

Harry Okin, an attorney, said that the L. Klein and Twelfth Street Department stores are interested in the new bank and that officials of these two businesses will be substantial stockholders. Plans now call for opening the bank in September, he said.

The Central National will open with $300,000 capitalization, including $50,000 surplus and $50,000 undivided profits. It was said sponsorship of the new institution is such that more capital could have been obtained had it been considered advisable.

This would indicate a comparatively early opening date, with no difficulties to be encountered at the last minute in obtaining necessary cash to fill out subscriptions.

Eighth New National Bank.

The Central National thus is slated to be the eighth new national bank to open in Chicago in the last three years, in contrast with more than 150 that were wiped out from 1930 to 1933. The other seven, in the order of their opening, are: Mid-City National, National Security, District National, Milwaukee Avenue National, Merchants National, South East National, and Madison-Crawford National.

Plans for a ninth new bank are said to be under way under the leadership of Percy Trudeau, formerly vice president of the Foreman National bank. This would be located, if efforts to form it are successful, in the neighborhood of Western, Lawrence, and Lincoln avenues, which district formerly was served by the now closed Bowmanville National bank.

GARDNER-DENVER PROPOSES PLAN TO RECAPITALIZE

The Gardner-Denver company, Quincy, Ill., yesterday sent notices to stockholders for a special meeting in Quincy on June 20 to vote on a plan of recapitalization suggested by the board of directors.

The plan provides for 40,000 shares of $3 cumulative convertible preferred stock, $20 par value, and 250,000 shares of common stock, as at present, without par value but with a stated value of $15 a share.

There is also proposed a reduction in capital by allocating the new preferred stock at $20 a share and the common stock at $15 a share. The amount of such reduction in capital is to be transferred to capital surplus. Each present outstanding preferred share is to be exchanged for 1⅜ shares of the new $3 preferred.

MANY COMPANIES BOOST DIVIDENDS OR VOTE EXTRAS

Actions Reflect Steady Rise in Earnings.

Favorable dividend actions were announced yesterday by many corporations, indicating the steady rise in corporation earnings.

The Alabama Great Southern railroad, controled by Southern Railway company, resumed dividends on the common stock when the directors declared a dividend of $1.50 a share, payable July 15, to stockholders of record June 22. The last previous payment was $2 on Dec. 31, 1934.

The Central Republic company declared a dividend of 25 cents on the common stock, payable July 15 to stockholders of record June 30. An initial dividend of 12½ cents was paid in January of this year.

Votes Initial Payment.

Phillips Packing company voted an initial quarterly dividend of $1.31¼ on the 5¼ per cent preferred stock, payable July 1 to stock of record June 15. Fundamental Investors, Inc., will pay 25 cents on the common, a 5 cent rise over the initial dividend of 20 cents paid April 1.

Directors of the Independent Pneumatic Tool company announced a quarterly dividend of $1, payable July 1 to stockholders of record June 19. The previous regular dividend was 75 cents a share, plus an extra of 25 cents.

The Froedtert Grain and Malting company voted 20 cents a share on the common stock, the first in many years, payable July 1 to stock of record June 15. Directors also declared the regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share on the convertible preferred, payable Aug. 1 to stock of record July 15.

Declares 10 Cents Extra.

An extra of 10 cents in addition to the regular quarterly of 20 cents was authorized by the Reece Button Hole Machine company, payable July 1 to stock of record June 15. The regular quarterly of 20 cents and an extra of 10 cents was declared on the common of International Button Hole Sewing Machine company.

The capital stock of the S. M. A. corporation was placed on an annual basis of 80 cents with the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 20 cents. Previously the stock was on a 50 cent basis.

An extra dividend of 5 cents was declared by the Cham and Forster company in addition to the regular quarterly dividend of 20 cents.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL—Bleachable was firmer on increased covering and commission house buying promoted by the strength of cotton and lard, the rally in grains and firmness of hogs. Final prices were 4 to 7 points net higher with sales of 50 contracts. The trade is looking for the census bureau to show a disappearance of 215,000 brls in May, against 204,000 brls in April. Bleachable spot, nominal; July closed 9.12c; Septembr, 9.08c; October, 8.99c; December and January, 8.80c.

WHEAT RALLIES SHARPLY AFTER EARLY DECLINE

Federal Crop Estimate Has Little Influence.

Another day of desultory activity characterized trading on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Wheat prices moved lower early and then rallied smartly shortly before the close to finish with gains of major fractions. Volume of trading was somewhat greater than that shown previously this week, although the total was still relatively light.

The government's crop report, issued after the close Wednesday, fell flat as a market influence. The report was fairly close to general expectations and interpretations, consequently, were construed to bolster the beliefs of either bulls or bears. Some thought the news constructive as a market influence. Others considered it bearish. None seemed willing to back up his conviction with aggresive speculation.

Minneapolis Prices Advance.

The late upturn resulted largely from outstanding strength in Minneapolis and lesser improvement in Winnipeg. Minneapolis moved nearly 2 cents higher on buying credited to millers.

Closing prices of principal July futures in Chicago follow:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Week ago.	Year ago.
Wheat	.85⅛	.84⅝	.84⅝	.79
Corn	.61⅛	.61⅛	.60⅛	.79¼
Oats	.25	.24⅞	.25⅛	.33½
Rye	.55¼	.54⅝	.54	.44¼

Liverpool gave the best response to the United States crop report, pushing higher early but later reacted to close ⅝ cent lower when American markets failed to advance and reports were received of rains in Russia and Australia. Buenos Aires was closed.

Receipts of wheat at big terminal markets continued to be light, although shipments were heavy. The total received Tuesday amounted to 328,000 bushels, while shipments were 660,000 bushels. Chicago has been reducing its stocks almost daily.

Threshing Returns Are Good.

Threshing returns thus far received from the winter wheat belt of the southwest indicate excellent yields, although not enough territory has been covered to assure that this condition will be general.

Almost all factions of the grain trade believe, however, that the total outturn of winter wheat will be substantially higher than the 482 million bushels reported by the department of agriculture on Wednesday. This belief is based on the excellent growing weather which the crop has had for several weeks, and particularly since June 1, the date on which the official estimate is based.

Corn futures held fairly steady in slow trading. Oats were quiet and little changed. Rye responded to the bullish government estimate for a crop of 33,400,000 bushels by advancing approximately a cent a bushel.

ALL COTTON DELIVERIES RISE TO NEW HIGH MARKS

All deliveries of cotton futures on principal domestic markets rose to new high marks for the season yesterday on a moderate wave of buying which lifted quotations as much as $1.25 a bale. For the first time in several weeks all deliveries closed above the 11 cent per pound level.

Weather news was ignored and the advance was staged in the face of rather heavy liquidation. Principal feature of the day was the heavy purchases of October deliveries by Europeans, who apparently sought a new haven in which to invest funds to offset the effects of possible monetary devaluation. French buying was said to have been particularly heavy.

Southern spot sales totaled 5,324 bales at an average price of 11.80 cents per pound for middling. Spot prices were unchanged at 11.80 in New York and 5 points higher each in Houston at 11.70, New Orleans, 11.85, and Galveston at 11.70. Range of futures prices follows:

TRACTION SALE TO BE ATTACKED IN COURT ACTION

Chicago Railway's Plans Termed Inequitable.

The bidding in of the street car properties of the Chicago Railways company by security holders for $19,000,000, at a recent master in chancery sale is attacked as "unfair and inequitable" in a bill of objections to be filed with the federal court today on behalf of Edward B. Grossman and other minority holders, Attorney Harry F. Hamlin said yesterday.

The properties were sold on order of the federal court as a legal step in the reorganization and unification of all the surface lines under the Abbott plan. The sale is subject to final approval by the court and will be the subject of a hearing June 19, before Judge James H. Wilkerson.

Holds Two Kinds of Bonds.

The bill of objections to be filed by Hamlin lists Grossman as a holder of $63,000, face value, of Chicago Railways company consolidated mortgage 5 per cent bonds and $25,000 of the company's 4 per cent income bonds. Both issues matured in 1927 but were not paid.

The Chicago Railways company on May 29, had $22,000,000 cash on hand, including its 60 per cent share of the funds deposited by the board of operation of the Chicago Surface lines, the bill asserts. In view of this the $19,000,000 price bid for the property by the security holders favoring the reorganization is inequitable, the bill asserts.

Gives Objections to Plan.

"The price paid," the bill says, "was a deliberate attempt on the part of the committee to force the junior security holders to either accept the plan [Abbott reorganization] or to accept a nominal sum for their securities."

The aggregate price bid at the sale for all the surface lines properties was $33,100,000, including the $19,000,000 for the Chicago Railways company. The transactions, if carried out, would mean no large transfer of money, but the price would form the basis on which the security holders participating in the reorganization would buy out the dissenters.

The plan, Grossman's bill says, confers every advantage on the first mortgage bondholders to the injury of the holders of junior liens. The assets of the company, it adds, are sufficient to give the junior bondholders a full allotment of new bonds or preferred stock to the extent of their claims.

"Junior Bonds Not Benefited."

"This court has ordered from time to time," the bill says, "various payments on the principal amounts of the first mortgage bonds . . . amounting to 25 per cent of their par value. These payments were made from earnings and depleted the cash fund of the company, but the junior bonds are not benefited or brought any closer to the physical assets of the company although nine years have elapsed since default of interest on the junior bonds."

HEITMAN TRUST RECEIVER SUIT IS SENT TO MASTER

The suit brought against the Heitman Trust company, 10 South La Salle street, in which a stockholder asked appointment of a receiver and liquidation of the assets of the trust, was referred to Master Charles A. McDonald yesterday by Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan.

Judge Sullivan instructed the master to set a date for hearings within a week and asked prompt action. The master will hear evidence, determine the issues, make a finding of fact and law, and recommend to the court whether or not a receiver should be appointed.

The trust company, in resisting the suit, said the trust has committed no fraudulent or illegal acts and that the suit was filed solely to compel the company to buy the stock held by Elmer A. Bear of San Francisco, the complainant, who owns 174 shares.

A report to Judge Walter P. Steffen in charge of a checkup on receivership cases pending in the Superior court showed that the Heitman Trust company or its executives were acting as receiver or trustee in thirty cases now pending before chancellors in the Superior court.

Traffic Club of Chicago Honors 18 Charter Members

More than 300 members of the Trafic Club of Chicago gathered at the association's clubrooms in the Palmer house last night for a dinner in honor of "old timers"—the charter members who founded the organization in 1907. Eighteen of the original group were guests of honor at the meeting.

Cotton Belt Gets More Time for Reorganization Plan

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis Southwestern [Cotton Belt] railway has obtained from Federal Judge C. B. Davis a six months' extension of time, or until Dec. 12, to file a reorganization plan under proceedings the road has pending in federal court.

Western Union's Earnings for Four Months Higher

The Western Union Telegraph company yesterday reported net profit for the first four months of the year soared to $1,658,883 from $725,300 a year ago. April net income totaled $694,197 compared with $521,200 a year ago. Gross income for the month increased to $7,998,575 from $7,463,479.

FRANCE LOSES 99 MILLION MORE GOLD IN WEEK

The Bank of France lost 1,500,000,000 francs [about $99,000,000] in gold reserves during the week ended last Friday, and reduced the reserve ratio to a new low level, according to the bank's statement issued yesterday.

An additional $6,125,000 in gold was engaged for shipment yesterday from Paris to New York, as the franc held just on the mark at which gold shipments become profitable. Yesterday's engagements brought the total loss for France since April 24 to $345,425,000. The franc held steady at New York, closing at 6.58⅝ cents, and placing the value of the dollar against francs at 100.75 cents, compared with 100.51 cents a month ago.

The British pound in New York gained 11-16 of 1 cent to $5.02¼. Dutch guilders declined .02 of a cent to 67.58½ cents and Swiss francs dipped .01½ of a cent to 32.35 cents.

The reserve bank's report of gold movements for the week ended on Wednesday listed imports of $65,568,000, of which $47,690,000 was from France, $13,751,000 from Holland, $2,703,000 from India, $1,155,000 from Mexico, $146,000 from Russia, $111,000 from England, and $12,000 from Nicaragua.

The Bank of France statement showed that circulation last week rose 257,000,000 francs to a total of 84,962,000,000, while rediscounting of commercial bids at the central bank continued to grow, a further expansion of 52,000,000 francs sending the aggregate to 19,340,000,000 francs.

Sight balances abroad soared 452,000,000 francs to 591,000,000 francs. These sight balances were believed to have been acquired in connection with government efforts to manipulate the exchange. Gold losses for the week forced the bank's proportion of gold to sight liabilities to 59.68 per cent.

The Bank of England, in its statement for the week ended yesterday, showed a contraction in the rising trend of circulation occasioned by French hoarding of British bank notes. A £448,000 dip in circulation brought the total to £433,004,000.

British bullion holdings rose to another all-time peak of £209,401,000.

COTTON GROWERS PAID 20 MILLIONS BY U. S. ON 1935 CONTRACTS

Washington, D. C., June 11.—[Special.]—More than $20,000,000 has been paid to cotton growers in eighteen states, the Agricultural Adjustment administration announced today. Approximately 500,000 checks have been issued in connection with the 1935 cotton price adjustment program.

Mississippi led the list of states profiting under the cotton program, receiving nearly $4,500,000. Texas was next with $3,555,000. Next in order were Georgia, $3,404,000; Alabama, $2,783,000; Louisiana, $1,919,000, and South Carolina, $1,352,000.

AM. TELEPHONE DENIES CONTROL BY SMALL GROUPS

New York, June 11.—(AP)—Arthur W. Page, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, said today the testimony of Dr. N. R. Danielian, federal communications commission investigator, that 5 per cent of the stockholders own 50 per cent of the stock "has apparently been interpreted as questioning the truth of the company's statement.

"The fact is," Page said in a prepared statement, "that the 5 per cent represents 32,500 stockholders holding on an average about 280 shares each. The balance of the stock is owned by some 617,000 people. The fundamental fact remains that the company is a publicly owned institution, that its stock is widely distributed through 650,000 holders, and that it is not controled by any small group of people."

Danielian testified in Washington yesterday. The company previously denied any one person owned as much as 1 per cent of the stock.

The following is a brief outline of part of the information contained in the Offering Prospectus and the Registration Statement (including the exhibits thereto and the financial statements filed therewith), which also include important information not outlined or indicated herein, and to which reference is made. The Bonds and Serial Notes are offered only by means of the Offering Prospectus, which should be read prior to any purchase of these Bonds or Serial Notes.

THE COMPANY: California Water Service Company was incorporated in California December 21, 1926. The entire common stock of the Company, representing 44.91% of the voting power, is owned by Federal Water Service Corporation, stocks of which in turn, constituting 43.15% of the voting power, are held by Utility Operators Company, a large majority of the stock of which is owned by the officers and employees of various affiliates of Federal Water Service Corporation, including those of the Company. Reference is made to the Offering Prospectus for facts concerning possible existence of control of the three above-named corporations. The Company is an operating public utility, owning and operating the water supply systems in some thirty California communities. The Company intends to continue its present business. The Company has contracted to purchase the business, properties, assets, franchises and rights of Bear Gulch Water Company, operating a water supply system in San Mateo County, California. The plants and property of the Company consist of water works systems devoted to the production, storage, purification and distribution of water and are all located in or near the cities and communities served and for the most part are not physically connected, being largely dependent upon local sources of supply. The franchises, constitutional, county and municipal, are described in the Offering Prospectus, to which reference is made. The Company is subject to regulation by the Railroad Commission of the State of California as to its rates, service, acquisition of property, issuance of securities and other matters affecting its business.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The estimated net proceeds to the Company from the sale of the Bonds and Serial Notes will be $10,490,700 (exclusive of accrued interest, but after deducting estimated expenses in connection with such sale). Such net proceeds will be used (1) to redeem on or about August 15, 1936 $8,738,000 California Water Service Company First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, Series A, at 105% and accrued interest, (2) to acquire the properties and business of Bear Gulch Water Company and to pay expenses incidental thereto, estimated total requirement for this acquisition being $1,050,000, and, (3) to provide working capital and for general corporate purposes.

EARNINGS: Following are condensed summaries of the income accounts of the Company and of Bear Gulch Water Company. These summaries reflect earnings before Federal Income Tax, interest and other income deductions:

Year ended December 31	Operating Revenues	Oper. Expenses and Genl. Taxes*	Depreciation	Net Earnings† Including Other Income

*Bear Gulch Water Company, being owned by the Regents of the University of California, a corporation, does not pay a California Franchise Tax.
†Before Federal Income Tax.

Annual interest requirement of the $10,000,000 First Mortgage 4% Bonds to be outstanding will be $400,000 and of the $550,000 Serial Notes will be $17,325 the first year and a smaller amount annually thereafter to maturity.

Reference is made to the Offering Prospectus for explanatory notes and details concerning the foregoing figures.

SERIES B BONDS: The Bonds will be issued under an indenture dated April 1, 1928 and the six supplements thereto, of which the sixth supplemental indenture has particular reference to these Bonds. The Bonds are, in the opinion of counsel for the Company, a first lien upon all operative properties of the Company and will be a first lien upon the properties of the Bear Gulch Water Company when such properties are acquired, in both instances subject to certain minor exceptions described in the Offering Prospectus. The indenture permits, without notice to bondholders, the substitution and release, under certain conditions, of properties covered thereby. The indenture also permits the issuance of additional bonds in an unlimited amount as authorized by the Board of Directors of the Company but solely upon certain conditions enumerated therein. Payment of interest by the Company is not dependent upon earnings or other special conditions. Issuance of these Bonds has been authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

The indenture provides for semi-annual sinking fund payments, beginning with the year ended April 30, 1947, in an amount equal to ½% of the maximum aggregate principal amount of Series B Bonds outstanding at any one time.

SERIAL NOTES: The Serial Notes will mature $55,000 annually from May 1, 1937 to May 1, 1946, inclusive, and will bear interest coupons graduated from 1¼% for the May 1, 1937 maturity to 4¼% for the May 1, 1945 and May 1, 1946 maturities. The Serial Notes will be issued under an indenture dated May 1, 1936 and will not be secured by any lien upon the property of the Company. The indenture limits the amount of Serial Notes issuable thereunder to $550,000 in principal amount but imposes no limitation upon the issuance of any other securities under another indenture or otherwise and whether or not secured. Payment of interest by the Company is not dependent upon earnings or other special conditions. There are no retirement provisions other than the provisions for the payment of the notes at their respective maturities. Issuance of these Serial Notes has been authorized by the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

OTHER INFORMATION: Additional information concerning the Company is set forth in the Registration Statement and Offering Prospectus and includes, among other things, statements regarding depreciation, municipal ownership and competition of public agencies, earthquakes, floods, precipitation, epidemics, public regulation, gold bonds, current legislation and engineer's report.

UNDERWRITING: Subject to approval of counsel and to certain other terms and conditions, the Underwriters named in the Offering Prospectus have severally agreed to purchase (except that certain Underwriters have an optional commitment which if not exercised by them will be exercised by Dean Witter & Co.) the Bonds and Serial Notes from the Company at 100½% for the Bonds, or a total of $10,050,000, plus accrued interest, and 98½% for the Serial Notes, or a total of $541,750, plus accrued interest, and a total for both Bonds and Serial Notes of $10,591,750, plus accrued interest. Such Bonds are to be offered to the public at 102½%, or a total of $10,250,000, plus accrued interest, and such Serial Notes are to be offered at 100%, or a total of $550,000, plus accrued interest, a total offering amount for both Bonds and Serial Notes of $10,800,000. The underwriting discount for the Bonds is 2%, or a total of $200,000, and for the Serial Notes is 1½%, or a total of $8,250, a total underwriting discount for Bonds and Serial Notes of $208,250.

Series B Bonds—Price: 102½% and accrued interest
Serial Notes—Price: 100% and accrued interest

The Underwriters have agreed to purchase these Bonds and Serial Notes when, as and if issued and subject to the approval of Messrs. Pillsbury, Madison & Sutro, counsel for the Underwriters, and to certain further conditions. Legal matters in connection with the franchises and titles of the Company and certain other matters will be passed upon by Messrs. McCutchen, Olney, Mannon & Greene, counsel for the Company. Delivery of Bonds and Serial Notes in definitive form is expected to be made on or about June 15, 1936 at the American Trust Company, San Francisco, against payment therefor in San Francisco funds.

As more fully set forth in the Offering Prospectus, the Underwriters have authorized the purchase and sale of Bonds for their several accounts, either for long or short account, within the limits and during the period set forth in the Agreement between themselves.

Further information, in particular financial statements, is contained in the Registration Statement on file with the Commission, and in the Offering Prospectus which must be furnished to each purchaser and is obtainable only from such of the undersigned as are registered dealers in securities in this State.

*New 1936 high.

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—Trading in the bond market dwindled today, but prices continued to point upward. Volume totaled $8,861,000, compared with $10,952,000 in the preceding session.

Only in the government group was there some sign of enlivened interest and here the activity was at the expense of prices. No reason could be cited for the freer offerings of these bonds, although there were some reports of selling by subscribers to the current issue of bonds and notes, payment for which must be made next Monday.

Government Issues Weak.

The federal group closed unchanged to 9-32ds of a point down. The extreme decline was registered by Federal Farm Mortgage 3s of 1947. In the rest the losses were held to small limits.

There was a good tone again in the market for second grade issues despite the falling off in actual trading. Great Northern new 4s were exceptionally active, the series H bonds selling above their old high. Gains of a point or more were recorded in Southern Railway 4s of 1938, Studebaker 6s, International Paper 5s, Manati Sugar 7½s, Cuba Railroad 7½s, Milwaukee general 4½s, and American Writing Paper 6s.

Rails and Utilities Narrow.

The best railroad and utility bonds settled down to a narrow trading market and few sales, though a number closed higher. Loans of Chesapeake corporation, Chicago and North Western, Baltimore and Ohio, Nickel Plate, and Reading scored gains ranging to around a point. Other issues showing final advances included International Telephone 4½s, International Hydro-Electric 6s, Postal Telegraph 5s, and Allis-Chalmers 4s.

Investors' Guide: Kindly give me information on First Home Plan trust agreements for FHA mortgages.—L. F. A.

Answer: "The New Investment" of the First Home Plan Income corporation offers the public beneficial interest in mortgages insured by the Federal Housing administration.

When FHA was organized it was stipulated that certain firms were to be licensed to make FHA loans and that only qualified parties could hold these mortgages—insurance companies, trust estates, etc.

So that the mortgages could be sold to the public and an outlet other than of qualified holders be obtained this plan was worked out. FHA mortgages are deposited with a trust company, a certificate of deposit is issued against each mortgage, and the certificate is sold to the public inasmuch as the public cannot hold the original mortgage.

Each certificate offered pertains to an entire first mortgage on a definite property—there is no dividing of mortgages. The amounts range from $3,000 to $16,000 each, with the average about $4,500.

Returns of the certificates of deposit represent [1] part return on principal by amortization payments of 3 per cent the first year and slightly varying amounts thereafter according to FHA schedules, and [2] interest on unpaid principal at the rate of 5 per cent, less servicing fees of ½ of 1 per cent annually. Amortization payments, of course, have the effect of increasing the investor's security as principal is decreased.

In the event of default, foreclosure proceedings must be filed by the holder of the certificates of deposit in whatever state the property is located and he must pay all court costs. When the certificate holder obtains title to the property, after paying court costs, he turns this title over to FHA and receives a 3 per cent debenture bond for the outstanding amount of the mortgage. The court costs and other expenses of foreclosure are covered by a deficiency judgment which will be paid only when and if the property is sold by FHA for enough to cover them as well as the mortgage.

The debentures issued by FHA in event of foreclosure are fully guaranteed as to principal and interest by the United States. The government guarantee applies only to mortgages issued prior to July 1, 1937.

The plan offers a solid investment with a fair interest return if the property continues to meet amortization and interest.

WATER SERVICE (CAL.) 10 MILLION LOAN IS OFFERED

Associates Investment's Stock on Market.

A banking syndicate headed by Dean Witter & Co. will offer today two issues of the California Water Service company consisting of $10,000,000 first mortgage 4 per cent bonds, series B, due May 1, 1961, and $550,000 of 1¼ to 4¼ per cent serial notes, due May 1, 1937 to 1946. Both issues are dated May 1, 1936. The bonds are being offered at 102½ and interest and the notes at par and interest.

Proceeds will be used to redeem $8,738,000 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series A, at 105 and interest, and to acquire the properties and business of the Bear Gulch Water company in San Mateo county, California.

Stock Issue Offered.

Field, Glore & Co. and F. M. Moselmey & Co. will offer 60,000 shares of $100 par 5 per cent cumulative preferred stock of Associates Investment company carrying warants to purchase common stock. The stock will be priced at 103. Proceeds will be applied to the redemption on Sept. 30 at $110 a share of any 7 per cent preferred stock that has not been retired by that date through exchange. The balance will be used for working capital.

A registration statement covering $19,250,000 of serial notes has been filed with the Securities and Exchange commission by General American Transportation corporation. The notes will be dated July 1 next and mature in instalments of $1,750,000 each on July 1, 1937, and Jan. 1 and July 1, 1938 to 1942, inclusive.

The corporation will advance $18,959,395 of the proceeds directly or indirectly to its subsidiaries to pay $18,686,000 of equipment trust obligations which mature after June 30, 1936.

A total of $14,798,000 of the principal amount to be retired consists of 4½ per cent equipment trust certificates and $2,750,000 consists of notes to the Manufacturers' Trust company of New York, which represent a part of funds borrowed to redeem equipment trust certificates which were redeemed earlier this year.

BIG UTILITY OFFERING.

New York, June 11.—[Special.]—A banking syndicate will offer here tomorrow a new issue of $30,000,000 of Oklahoma Natural Gas company bonds and convertible debentures, the proceeds of which will be used to retire all of the present outstanding debt and bank loans of the company and its subsidiaries.

The offering comprises $20,000,000 of 4½ per cent first mortgage, series A, bonds, due May 1, 1951, which will be offered at 98½ and accrued interest, and $10,000,000 of 5 per cent convertible debentures, due May 1, 1946, priced at par and accrued interest.

BURLINGTON TO MAKE $3,950,000 LOAN FOR FOUR STREAMLINERS

Washington, D. C., June 11.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today approved financing plans of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy railroad for four new streamlined all-steel trains.

The commission approved issuance of $3,950,000 in equipment in trust certificates which will mature equally in the next ten years and bear 2½ per cent interest. The issue will be sold to the Harris Trust and Savings bank, Chicago at 102.73.

The railroad said that two six-car stainless steel trains would cost $578,000 each and two similar ten-car trains $1,109,000 each. The certificates also include financing for three new steam locomotives at $110,000 each, 250 steel freight cars at $2,000 each, and 500 box cars at $2,150.

The carrier said one-fourth of the cost of the $5,279,000 worth of new equipment was being financed by its own firm.

Protective Committee

International Match Corporation

Participating Preference Stock

To the Holders of Certificates of Deposit for Participating Preference Stock of International Match Corporation and Holders of Such Stock:

Your Committee has been negotiating for the past year with various persons interested in the affairs of International Match Corporation to obtain something of value for the holders of the Participating Preference Stock of International Match Corporation (herein referred to as International Preference Stock). As a result of these negotiations, arrangements have now been made pursuant to which it is expected that a new English Company formed in connection with the proposed arrangements, called Imco Participating Company Limited, will offer to exchange one (1) of its Participating Certificates for two (2) outstanding shares of International Preference Stock.

Each Imco Participating Certificate will entitle the holder thereof to direct the sale, at any time within a period of approximately two years from the date upon which the proposed sale of certain assets of International Match Corporation, bankrupt, to The Swedish Match Company, is effected, of one (1) Class B Share of the Swedish Match Company, at a price not less than 20 Swedish Kroner, and to have paid over to him the difference between 20 Swedish Kroner and the amount realized upon the sale (less any Transfer Taxes and expenses incident to the sale). The necessary Class B Shares to cover the foregoing arrangement will be deposited, or caused to be deposited, with a Depositary in London, England, by Continental Investment A. G. (a subsidiary of International Match Corporation), The Swedish Match Company and the Swedish liquidators of Kreuger & Toll. Out of the amount realized upon the sale of each Class B Share, 20 Swedish Kroner will be paid over to the person who deposited the same with the Depositary in London as aforesaid.

Thus, in effect, the holder of each two shares of International Preference Stock now outstanding or of Certificates of Deposit representing this stock, will be given the opportunity, without expense, to benefit by any rise within a period of approximately two years in the market price of one Class B Share of The Swedish Match Company over and above 20 Swedish Kroner per share. On June 3, 1936 Class B Shares of The Swedish Match Company were quoted on The Stock Exchange, London, at the equivalent of approximately 20 Swedish Kroner. At the present rate of exchange one Swedish Kroner is the equivalent of approximately twenty-five cents.

It has long been obvious that the International Match Corporation, now in bankruptcy, cannot satisfy even its creditors in full and this contemplated arrangement could only be negotiated because of the existence of certain agreements made by The Swedish Match Company under date of December 17, 1924, for the benefit of the holders from time to time of International Preference Stock. The Swedish Match Company, however, contends that these agreements are entirely invalid and unenforceable. Under these agreements The Swedish Match Company had agreed that it would continue to hold at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock of International Match Corporation and would not dispose of the same until it had first offered to purchase the outstanding shares of International Preference Stock at 120% of its par value ($35) and that so long as it held a majority of the Common Stock of International Match Corporation, the dividends payable on any class of the Capital Stock of The Swedish Match Company would bear a given relation to dividends paid on the International Preference Stock.

Holders of International Preference Stock and Certificates of Deposit who avail themselves of the offer of Imco Participating Company Limited will, by surrendering their shares, give up any claims which they may now or hereafter have against International Match Corporation and its officers and directors, the Trustee in Bankruptcy of International Match Corporation, The Swedish Match Company, and the persons, firms or corporations from time to time engaged in the sale of International Preference Stock, which claims are predicated upon the retention of certificates for International Preference Stock.

Your Committee believes that the arrangement herein briefly outlined is the best that could be made under all the circumstances, and certain large holders of International Preference Stock have expressed to your Committee the hope that some such offer might be forthcoming.

The Committee is not soliciting the acceptance of the offer of exchange, and each holder of International Preference Stock or of Certificates of Deposit must make his own decision as to whether or not he will accept the offer in the event the same is made. Holders of Certificates of Deposit and of International Preference Stock, will be advised of the manner in which they may accept the offer of Imco Participating Company Limited.

Your Committee will not receive compensation of any kind for its services. Its out-of-pocket expenses, including fees and disbursements of its counsel and the costs incident to the carrying out of the foregoing arrangements, will be paid out of funds which it will receive from Guaranty Company of New York and The City Company of New York, Incorporated, which were among those interested in the initial sale of International Preference Stock. The Committee will no longer receive deposits of International Preference Stock. Outstanding Certificates of Deposit may no longer be split up into certificates of smaller denominations. Holders of Certificates of Deposit are free to withdraw the International Preference Stock represented thereby if they so desire without expense.

This notice shall not be deemed an offer. The proposed offer of Imco Participating Company Limited will in no event be made until late June or early July, 1936, and until after a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and has become effective. When the offer is made, a prospectus in accordance with the requirements of such Act, setting forth in greater detail the nature of the offer and the rights to which the holder of a Participating Certificate of Imco Participating Company Limited will be entitled, will be mailed to all known holders of International Preference Stock and of Certificates of Deposit.

BEST SUMMER TRADE SINCE '29 IS INDICATED

Chains Report May Gains Continuing in June.

Promise of the best summer business since 1929 was given in the increased gains during May, according to the monthly compilation released yesterday by Hammons & Co., investment underwriters, and Childs, Jeffries & Thorndike, specialists in chain store securities.

The survey showed that the first 25 chain organizations to report did an aggregate business of $228,605,035 last month. The increase of $32,149,989, or 16.4 per cent, over May, 1935, was the largest reported in any month since the big upturns in the middle of 1933 from the depression low mark of 1932. The two firms said the trend is continuing into June. Their reports indicate that June will be the best month of 1936, if not the best month for retail business in the history of the chains.

Five Month Figures.

Sales of the 25 chain groups totaled $982,520,899 for the first five months this year, an increase of $90,293,314, or 10.2 per cent over the corresponding 1935 period. This compared with the gain of 10.9 per cent for the full year of 1935 over 1934.

The increase reported by the mail order group, 29 per cent was described as being of boom proportions as new May sales records were set by many of the concerns. This contrasted with the first four months of the year when gains were not nearly as sharp as those of other groups.

Apparel stores were next in line, with gains of 16.6 per cent for the month and 12.7 per cent for five months. The monthly figure represented the largest gain over a preceding year since the depression began.

Variety Group Speeds Up.

The 13.6 per cent increase over last year in sales of variety chains during May was an outstanding feature of the report. This group has not been keeping pace with others, it was pointed out, its five month gain this year running only 6.5 per cent above 1935.

The shoe chains were the only division to report a decline in sales from May, 1935, but this was due almost entirely to one chain and was attributed to unusually early Easter buying this year. In the five months these chains recorded a gain of 15.1 per cent.

JUDGE REFUSES INTERVENTION IN HOUSING PLAN

Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan yesterday denied a motion of Attorney Frank D. Ayers, representing himself and four taxpayers, to intervene in the government's acquirement of land for a housing project for colored families in the area bounded by 37th street, South Park way, Pershing road, Langley avenue, 38th street, and Cottage Grove avenue.

Ayers argued that the government could not condemn or otherwise acquire property for private use, and that acquisition of such property for housing projects would result in discrimination against other property owners who are forced to pay city and state taxes which the government owned dwellings would not pay.

The court ruled that Ayers' clients were not proper parties to the suit.

Cocoa Reaches 6 Cent Level for First Time in 2 Years

New York, June 11.—(AP)—Cocoa futures today pushed up through the 6 cent level for the first time in two years on orders said in market circles to have come from all parts of the world. A large buying wave came into the market at the opening and prices rose .06 to .08 of a cent a pound. The market has been advancing slowly during the last three weeks as the trade bought.

Wage Increases Granted by Battery Box Concern

New Brunswick, N. J., June 11.—[Special.]—The Richardson company, battery box manufacturers, announced today that pay increases ranging from 8 to 15 per cent had been granted, effective June 1, to its 115 men and women employés.

MODERATE RALLY IN LARD; SALT PORK UP SLIGHTLY

Lard futures rallied moderately in somewhat heavier trading here yesterday. Salt pork also moved slightly higher. Trade was featureless and news unimportant. Range of futures prices follows:

SUGAR

NEW YORK, June 11.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was firmer today and spot prices advanced 5 points to 3.80c per lb on increased demand from refiners. Offerings were limited and the only sales reported were 39,000 bags of Porto Ricos and 21,000 Cubas for July shipment to refiners at 3.80c and 9,900 Philippines for June-July shipment to an operator at 3.83c. Futures advanced 2 to 3 points on increased trade covering against sales of actuals and scattered commission house buying, although there were slight reactions from the best. Final prices were 1 to 2 points net higher. Trading was a little more active with sales amounting to 9,750 tons.

BUTTER, EGGS, CHEESE PRICES ADVANCE TO NEW SEASONAL HIGHS

New high marks for the season were established in all active contracts of butter, eggs, and cheese on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Volume of trading again increased as prices moved forward.

Butter prices rose ½ cent per pound to 29½ cents for November contracts and 28¾ cents for June. October eggs improved ⅜ cent to 25⅛ cents, while June futures climbed ⅝ cent a dozen to 22⅝ cents. November cheese gained ⅛ cent to 15½ cents a pound.

Butter was buoyed by a strong cash market, a smaller movement into storage, and a drop in production for the week. Receipts of eggs were light and the storage movement was small.

CATTLE SUPPLY CURTAILED, BUT PRICES ARE WEAK

Packers Hold Much Beef; Hogs Higher.

The congested condition of the cattle and beef markets caused farmers to curtail shipments yesterday, only 5,000 head arriving at the yards, the smallest Thursday total in a month. Salesmen managed to halt the price break in some classes, but others sank still lower despite the light supply, declines in some kinds ranging up to 25 cents.

Steer classes that suffered most punishment during the first three days of the week escaped further pounding, the brunt of yesterday's decline affecting beef cows. Light and cheaper grades of hefers and steers that came through most recent sessions with little loss were down 15 to 25 cents. Most good to choice steers showed the week's full decline.

Packers Loaded with Beef.

Loaded down with beef from steers bought on the declining markets, packers were not willing buyers and the trade generally was a peddling affair, with some cattle going over unsold.

Wholesale beef markets were draggy and lowest since late in 1934, with additional concessions of 50 cents per hundred pounds granted on whole dressed carcasses at some distributing points to keep supplies moving into consumer channels.

The top for steers was $8.60, while the bulk brought $7.25 to $8. Canners Calves sold steady.

Hogs Rise, Pork Dips.

Continued cool weather and lighter receipts bolstered the market for hogs yesterday. Advances of 10 cents were general, spots showing 15 cents gain, with the level of prices equaling the highest point in more than a month.

The top reached $10.25, equaling the highest sale since May 7, and the average at $9.90 indicated a 10 cent rise.

Hog gains were scored in the face of additional sharp declines in wholesale pork prices. Fresh pork loins sold from steady to $2 lower, the biggest declines in the eastern packing centers, where stiff competition from beef is cutting into the demand for pork.

New crop native lambs opened steady but weakened later and closed slightly lower. Packers and city butchers paid the practical top of $12, although odd head to yard traders ranged up to $12.25 early in the day.

Y-O-U-R O-W-N B-U-S-I-N-E-S-S

Would you be interested in starting a business for yourself without one cent of investment on your part?

Well, that is exactly what we have done for many men in this territory.

These men are previous storekeepers, doctors, lawyers, shop workers, mechanics, etc., and are now earning and receiving in percentage as much as $50 a single day.

We are an old line, nationally known manufacturer of electrical units that defy competition and for which there is a constant, increasing demand.

Now here are our requirements: You must be under 50, preferably married, honest, reliable, possess a neat appearance and possess at least a grammar school education.

At this time we will only interview men living on the South Side of Chicago, northern Indiana, and northeastern Illinois.

Every man answering this advertisement will be given a confidential interview and, if selected, will be trained at our expense in our methods, which are successful.

There are no strings attached to this offer as we even pay rent, light, heat, telephone, girl hire, consign your merchandise, and finance your accounts.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly payments.
2. Payments are small. For example, the first payment on $100 is $8—the last payment is $5.15 on a twenty month schedule. Other amounts in proportion.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Rate on loans above $100 is less than the lawful maximum.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.

Compare These Rates

On loans secured by automobiles this bank charges the same rate whether the car is new or used. So far as insurance is concerned, Fire and Theft is all we require, although we strongly urge that every car owner insure himself against collision hazards. In all cases we want the insurance placed with the borrower's own broker or agent. Premiums may be added to the loan account, the broker is paid in full, and the borrower settles up with us in monthly installments. These are typical costs and terms:

Amount You Want.	Total Yearly Charge.	Total Amount of Note.	12 Monthly Deposits.
$ 100	$12.08	$ 112.08	$ 9.34
200	19.00	219.00	18.25
300	23.04	323.04	26.92
400	29.00	429.00	35.75
500	35.08	535.08	44.59
600	41.04	641.04	53.42
700	47.00	747.00	62.25
800	53.08	853.08	71.09
900	59.04	959.04	79.92
1,000	65.00	1,065.00	88.75
